ABSTRACTS
OF THE
Inquisitiones Post Mortem RELATING TO THE COUNTY OF GLOUCESTER,

Returned into the High Court of Chancery from the 33rd Year of the Reign of King Edward the Third.

Beatrice, who was wife of John le Boteler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before Henry de Prestwode, the King's escheator in the County of Gloucester with the March of Wales thereto adjacent, 22nd June, 33 Edward III [1359], by the oath of John Notelyn, Nicholas Spilmon, John le Spencer, Richard de Longeneye, John Dauy, John de Stonhouse, Roger atte Mulle, John Lescy, John de Maldone, William de Boyneld, Henry Chauntrel, and Henry de Morcote, who say that

The said Beatrice held of the King in chief in her demesne as of fee at la Bruwere in the County aforesaid (by the service of paying 1*d.* to the King's exchequer at Michaelmas every year by the hands of the sheriff of Gloucester for the time being, and doing suit at the court of the King's Berton next Gloucester every year), one messuage, which is worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 25 acres of arable land, two-thirds of which are worth 4*s.* 1*d.* when sown, and they were sown this year before the said Beatrice's death, and the other third is worth nothing by the year, because it lies fallow and in common. There are 5 acres of meadow, worth 7*s.* 6*d.* yearly, and after the mowing they lie in common until the Feast of the Purification every year. There are 4*s.* rents payable yearly in equal portions at Michaelmas and Easter.

The said Beatrice also held the tenements underwritten from the Honour of Walyngford, by the service of doing fealty and of doing one suit at the Hundred of Chyrintone every year, jointly with the said John le Boteler, late her husband, by the grant of Thomas le Boteler, to hold to the said John and Beatrice and the heirs of John for ever, viz., 51 acres of arable land, two-thirds of which are worth 8*s.* 6*d.* yearly when sown, and they were so sown before her death this year; the other third is worth nothing [as above]; 10 acres of meadow, worth 15*s.* a year, lying fallow [as above].

She also held at Morcote in the said county from Ralph Hathewy (by the service of doing fealty and of paying 22*d.* yearly at Michaelmas and the Annunciation) jointly with her said husband, by grant [as above], with remainder to the heirs of the bodies of the said John and Beatrice, and contingent remainder to her right heirs, one toft, worth nothing a year; 30 acres of arable land, two-thirds of which are worth 5*s.* a year when sown, and they were sown [as above], and the other third is worth nothing [as above]; 10 acres of meadow, worth 15*s.* as above, and they lie in common [as above]; 3*s.* rents by the year payable in equal portions at the Feasts of St. Andrew, the Annunciation, St. John the Baptist, and St. Michael.

She also held the manor of Park in the county aforesaid from Edward St. John (by the service of half a knight's fee) by grant [as the last above]. There is one capital messuage there, worth nothing a year beyond the reprise. There are 2 carucates of land, two-thirds of which are worth 40*s.* a year when sown [etc. as above]; 10 acres of meadow, worth 15*s.*, and they lie in common [as above]. There are 8½ acres of several pasture, worth 4*s.* 3*d.* a year; 22*s.* rents of free tenants payable equally at the feasts abovesaid every year. The pleas and perquisites of the courts there are worth 2*s.* a year.

The said Beatrice died 1st June last. John, son of the said John and Beatrice, is her heir, and is aged 40 and more.

Chan. Inq. p.m., Ser. I, 33 Edward III, 1st Nos., No. 7.

New reference, Chan. Inq. p.m., Edward III, File 142.

John de Grey of Rotherfeld, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Quentone before the abovesaid escheator in co. Gloucester, 20th November, 33 Edward III [1359], by the oath of Nicholas Hogekyns, William Wygot, Robert Osegod, William Rondolf, John Lescy [? Lefcy or Lefty], Walter Tydh . . . , John le Cok, William Hondy, John le Baillif, Thomas le Clerk, William Smyth, and John Vale, who say that

John de Grey of Rotherfeld held no lands in co. Gloucester in his demesne as of fee on the day he died, but he held the manor of Quentone jointly with Avice his wife, who survives, of the grant of John Noreys, parson of the church of Estreford, and Simon de Wyntryngham, master of the hospital of St. Giles next Catrik, by fine levied in the King's court, to hold to the said John and Avice in tail. It is held of the Duke of Lancaster by knight service, and is worth 20 marks yearly.

The said John died 1st September last. John, son of the said John and Avice, is next heir to the said manor, and is aged 16 and more. [Other inquisitions show another son John, aged 30 and more.]

Elizabeth, who was wife of Hugh le Despenser.

Inquisition taken at Tewkesbury before the abovesaid escheator in co. Gloucester and the March of Wales thereto adjacent, 12th June, 33 Edward III [1359], by the oath of Edward de Kerdif, John de Walton [?], Lawrence atte Park, Robert de Carent, Robert le Eyr, Giles de Kent, William de Merstone, Thomas Wodeward, John Mountfote, Adam Tuppung, John Bakere, and Richard de Carent, who say that

The said Elizabeth held no lands, etc., in her demesne as of fee in the said county or march on the day she died, but she held of the King in chief by knight service the manors [sic] of Tewkesbury, of the inheritance of Edward, son of Edward le Despenser, cousin and heir of the aforesaid Hugh. There is a capital messuage there, worth, with the gardens, vines, and vivary adjacent, half a mark a year. There is a dovecot, worth 6*s.* a year; a park containing 80 acres, the underwood of which, with the herbage, is worth 20*s.* yearly. There are 460 acres of arable land, worth . . . ; 85 acres of meadow for mowing, worth 2*s.* an acre yearly; 50 acres of several pasture, worth 12*d.* an acre; £12 12*s.* 3*d.* rents of assize, payable yearly in equal portions at the Feasts of St. Andrew, the Annunciation, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and St. Michael. There is a mill, worth 20*s.* a year. There is a certain farm there from La Homme from a piece of land in the hands of customary tenants, who pay 13*s.* 4*d.* at the Feast of the Annunciation. There is also a messuage, which formerly a certain chaplain of Aisshechurch used to hold, paying 5*s.* a year at the abovesaid terms, which messuage the lady gave to John . . esham at a rose rent; and from the messuage which Walter le Bruggewryst holds, 4*s.* at the said terms; and from La More 16*s.* at the said terms. And there is a fishery in the Severn, with boats, and in the Avon, which pays 10*s.* at Michaelmas. There are burgesses there holding 114 $\frac{1}{4}$ burgages, and they pay yearly at the four usual terms £6 16*s.* 10*d.* And the said burgesses hold a certain 'culture' of land in the bounds of the said vill, containing 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ acres, and they pay 35*s.* 5*d.* a year at the usual terms. And all the tenants of the said borough pay yearly for a certain custom called Fustale 20*s.* at the said terms; also for a certain custom called Stalage 20s. And there are 48½ customary tenants there, each of whom holds a virgate of land in villenage, and will plough 1½ acres of land between Michaelmas and Christmas, and each ploughing is worth . . . ; and each of them will plough 3 roods of land during the same time for a custom called Benerth, and the ploughing is worth 20s. 2½d. altogether. Between Christmas and the Feast of the Annunciation each of them will plough 1½ acres, and that ploughing is worth altogether 36s. 3½d. And each of them will carry the lord's salt from Wych to Teukesbury, and will give 1d. whether he carries it or not. Each of them will make one quarter of malt, or give 1d. Between the Feasts of St. Michael and the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 38 weeks, each of the said customary tenants will do 6 works weekly, and they are allowed for feast days during the said period 20 [?15] works, and 5 works for Christmas week, and for the weeks of Easter and Whitsuntide 4 works. And the said customary tenants will do 20 works for tossing the hay, and each of them will work about the lord's vines for 3 days, each work being worth ½d. Also they will all thresh for one day, each work being worth ½d. And they will give 3 quarters . . . for a custom called Benshed, each of them . . . , and this corn is worth 12s. 1½d., at 4s. a quarter. And each of them will give 4 hens at Christmas . . . And between the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist and Michaelmas, viz. 14 weeks, each of them will do 5 works a week, and they will each do . . . , price of the work 1½d. And there are 13 customary tenants, each holding one virgate, and each of them from Michaelmas to the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist will do 6 works, the work being worth ½d., with allowance of 20 days for feast days [and otherwise, as above]. And the said 13 carucatars [sic] will do one work a week from St. John's Day to Michaelmas, the work being worth 1½d., and each of them will do 8 bederipes in autumn. There are 2 views of frankpledge at Michaelmas and Easter, and they pay . . . s. for a certain fine, and the pleas and perquisites of the courts there are worth 40s. The toll of the borough there is worth 40s. a year, and the pleas and perquisites of the borough courts 40s.

The said Elizabeth died 30th May last. The said Edward, son of Edward le Despenser, is cousin and heir of the said Hugh, and is aged [23] and more.

[Note. The remainder of the lands are in the March of Wales. The above has been made from the Chancery Inquisition and the Exchequer copy (Exchequer Inq. p.m., Ser. I, File 14), both being in a bad state.]

Extent of the Lands, etc., of Sir Thomas Pecche, knight.

Extent and valuation made before William de Caumpede[ne], bailiff of the Liberty of Teukesbury, on Wednesday before the Feast of St. Ambrose the Bishop, 33 Edward III [1359], by the oath of William de Thame of Teukesbury, William Bytterloue, Thomas Dymme, William Scot, Thomas Kene, Robert de Clyue, Richard Symmes of Sheyndone, Hervey atte Halle, Thomas de Syderle, John Prodemay, John Galewey, and Walter le Cook, who say that

The said Sir Thomas had in the county of Gloucester on Friday next after the Feast of St. John before the Latin Gate, 15 Edward III [1341], and afterwards one messuage, with a curtilage in Shenyndone, worth nothing beyond the reprise; one dovecot there, worth 2*s.* 8*d.*; 2 virgates of land, containing 48 acres, worth 24*s.* a year. He had nothing else in the said county. The writ sets forth that the said Sir Thomas made his recognizance in 100 marks in 1341, before Andrew Aubrey, then mayor of London, and William de Carleton, then clerk . . . It has been returned that the said Sir Thomas is dead. The writ is endorsed with note of its delivery by the sheriff, to whom it was addressed, to the bailiff of Teukesbury, who has return of writs in that liberty; also with an order to deliver the tenements named in the extent to John de Pecche of co. Warwick, chivaler.

William de Chiltenham.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before Henry de Prestwode, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, 30th June, 33 Edward III [1359], by the oath of John Wynebaud, Richard Chausere, Nicholas Fremon, Walter Mathew, John Joye, John de Draycote, Walter Huet, Walter de Aust, Walter le Webbe, Robert Heruy, Walter Whyt, and Roger atte Venne, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow William de Chiltenham to grant 12 messuages and 12 virgates of land in Piriton next Aure to a chaplain to celebrate for him and his ancestors every day in the parish church of Piriton for ever. The premises are held of Gilbert Talbot by the service of paying one sparrow-hawk or 2*s.* a year, and are worth 6*s.* Gilbert Talbot holds of the Earl of Sariewyk [sic]. There would still remain to the said William £40 worth of lands and rents in Pokelchurche and Haukesbury, held of the Bishop of Bath and the Abbot of Persshore by knight service.

Inquisition taken at Wynchecombe before the abovesaid escheator, 2nd January, 33 Edward III [1360], by the oath of Robert Jordan, John Wooley, Henry Atteberue, Richard de Webbeleye, Richard Keys, Walter Bodenham, Robert James, Henry Newemon, William James, Adam Panter, Reginald Tannere, and Henry de Ombresleye, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow the said William and Eleanor to grant one messuage, 12*d.* rent, and 4 virgates of land (except 4 acres) in Snoweshulle and Little Wormyngtone to Wynchecombe Abbey, together with the reversion of one messuage and 4 acres of land in the said vill of Snoweshulle, which Julian Freeman holds for term of her life, to find a monk to celebrate for the health and the souls of the said William and Eleanor, etc., every day in the said abbey for ever. The premises are held of the said abbey and of the said William [sic] by a rent of 13*s. 4d.* in silver, and suit every year at the abbey court of Snoweshulle, and are worth 6*s.* in silver beyond the said rent. The grantors would still retain 100*s.* worth of lands and rents by the year in Alwescote and Tewkesbury, held of Sir Edward le Despenser, knight, and of the Prior of Durhurst, but by what service the jury do not know.

William de Wetyntone, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Kempeleye before Henry de Prestwode, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, on Tuesday next after the Feast of St. Katherine, 32 Edward III [1358], by the oath of Thomas de Ocle, Roger Barbe, Walter de Sterdene, Robert Richemon, William de Clyuegroue, Laurence de Cowmede, Robert Nichol, Edmund Wareyn, John Gybbes, Roger Chapmon, Hugh de Westenhale, and John Smythe of Oldeforde, who say that

The said William died on Saturday next after the Feast of St. Gregory the Pope, 32 Edward III [1358]. The manor of Paunteleye was seised into the King's hands by the said escheator by reason of the outlawry promulgated against the said William in London, on the said Feast of St. Gregory, at the suit of William de Southam, clerk, in a plea of debt. This manor he held jointly with Joan his wife, who survives, under a fine levied in the King's court; it is held of the honour of Clyfford, and is worth 8 marks.

William, his son and heir, is aged 23.

Walter, son of Walter de Gloucestre, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Alveston on Wednesday next before the Feast of All Saints, 34 Edward III [1360], before Thomas Saundres, the King's escheator in the counties of Gloucester and Hereford, and the March of Wales to those counties adjacent, by the oath of Peter Crook, Henry Holewey, W . . ., Richard de Alkeleye, Richard Fox, Robert Whitheued, Roger Budd, Walter Scheperd, Stephen Warde, John Veel, John H . . ., and Ralph . . . the elder, who say that

Walter, son of Walter de Gloucestre, held no lands in his demesne as of fee on the day he died, but he held jointly with Parnell his wife, who survives, the manors of Alveston and Erdecoke and the hundred of Langeleye, with the view of frankpledge of Langele, from the King in chief by knight service. Long before his death, with the King's licence, the said Walter had demised two-thirds of the premises to John de Ingelby, chaplain, and Robert de Briggefard, together with the reversion of the other third, which Eleanor, who was wife of Fulk le Fitzwarbyn, now deceased, held in dower of the inheritance of the said Walter, son of Walter. The said John and Robert then conveyed the premises to the said Walter and Purnell in tail, with contingent remainder to Peter Corbet of Systone.

The said Walter died 10th July last. John de Gloucester, his son and heir, was aged 11 on the Feast of St. Peter ad Vincula last.

Thomas de Bradeston, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Bradeston on Wednesday next before the Feast of St. Matthew the Apostle, 34 Edward III [1360], before Thomas Saundres of Neubold [as above], by the oath of Walter Wyther, John Draycote, John Matheu, Walter Herwet, John atte Boure, Stephen Kynebre, John Archer, Hugh atte Wode, Robert Heruy, Walter de Symondeshale, Walter Matheu, and Roger Chaumberleyn, who say that

Thomas de Bradeston, chivaler, held for term of his life the castle of Gloucester, with the meadow called Castelmede and the tyne called Castelcoule, by the King's grant to him. The said meadow is worth £6 13s. 4d. yearly, the tyne is also worth £6 13s. 4d. He had also £60 yearly from the farm of the vill of Gloucester, and £43 from the farm of the King's Bertone next Gloucester, by grant of the King for term of his life. He also held on the day he died the manor of Wynterbourne, with the advowson of the church of that vill, jointly with his wife Agnes, by a fine levied in the King's court, to hold to the said Thomas and Agnes in tail male, with contingent remainders to Robert de Bradeston and John de Bradeston in tail male successively. The said manor is held of Henry fitz Estephene in chief, and is worth £10 a year. The said Thomas had enfeoffed Robert Murdac, Robert Coygne, and John Wynchestre with the manors of Bradeston and Styntescombe, which are held of Thomas de Berkele, and with the manor of Hertone, held of William de Frileye, lord of Hertone, to hold to them and their heirs for ever.

The said Thomas died on Tuesday next after the Feast of St. Bartholomew last; Thomas, son of Robert de Bradeston, is his next heir, and is aged 8.

Manor of Mukelton.

Writ, dated 4th May, 34 Edward III, directed to William de Shareshulle and Thomas Saundres of Neubold, who are to make further inquiry, it having been found, by an inquisition taken to ascertain the reason why the said manor was taken into the King's hand, that it was because Nicholas, late Abbot of Eynsham, predecessor of the present abbot, had without licence demised it to Sir John Trillowe, knight, John Herdewyke, and Richard Somenour, for term of the life of the said Nicholas, and that the manor was held of the Crown direct by suit of court every 3 weeks at the King's hundred of Kystesgate, while the abbot declares that the manor is held of the Bishop of Lincoln in frankalmoine, and has been so held from time immemorial, without suit at the hundred aforesaid.

Inquisition taken at Stowe St. Edward before William de Shareshulle [chief justice of the lord the King] and Thomas Saundres of Neubold, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, on Monday, the Morrow of Holy Trinity, 34 Edward III [1360], by the oath of John de la Chaunbre, Robert Jurdan, John de Weoleye, John Gatewyke, John Quoke of Quentone, Richard Fraunkeleyn of Pebbeworth, Henry de Chestre, Richard Mareschal, Simon Mareschal, Robert Spicer, William Wygot, and Ralph Broun, who say that

The Abbots of Eynesham from time immemorial have held the manor of Mukelton from the Bishops of Lincoln as is abovesaid. The present abbot demised the manor to the said John de Trillowe and the others, under certain conditions, for the life of Nicholas, late abbot, in order to provide for the maintenance of the said Nicholas so long as he should live; afterwards, the said conditions not being observed, the said now abbot re-entered into the manor and now holds it of the bishop as abovesaid.

Appended is the panel of jurors summoned, including (besides the above) Thomas Bonefaunt, Thomas Brounyng, Ralph Ede, Robert Brid, John Broun, John Gode, Robert Sly, Adam Dod, Robert Cat, Robert Wys, Henry Duke of Lancaster.

Inquisition taken before Thomas de Monyntone, the King's escheator in the counties of Gloucester and Hereford, and the March of Wales to the same counties adjacent, at Rodel, 11th May, 35 Edward III [1361], by the oath of Thomas Chaxhulle, John Gynor, John de Staure, Roger de Coueelee, John de Haydone, William de Wyke, Thomas Vyel, William Attenyltre, Richard of the hille of Newenham, John Hemmyng, Roger le Bolde, and Richard de Haydone, who say that

The said Henry held of the demesnes of the King on the day he died the manor of Rodel, [the capital messuage of?] which is worth nothing beyond the reprise. The arable land and meadow there is worth 40*s.* a year. He had also 60*s.* rent. The weir there is worth

£3 a year; the pleas of the courts there 20s. He also held of the King in chief certain tenements in Eccolowe, worth 28s. yearly.

The said Henry died 23rd March in the said year. Maud and Blanche are his daughters and heirs; Maud is the elder, and both are of full age.

Inquisition taken before the abovesaid escheator, 8th May,
35 Edward III [1361], by the oath of Ralph Hathewy, William Bayfelde, Henry de Morcote, Richard in the Felde, Henry Chauntrel, Roger in the Felde, William Chauntrel, John le Neweman, John de Bladyntone, John atte Hulle, John le Rotour, and William Boyfeld the younger, who say that

The said Henry held at Mynstreworth on the day on which he died 62*s.* rents, payable yearly at the Feasts of St. Andrew, the Annunciation, St. John the Baptist, and St. Michael. He also had there in demesne 12 acres of meadow, worth 30*s.* a year; and a certain custom of a common of pasture, called Grassehier, worth 8*s.* a year. The pleas and perquisites there are worth 16*s.* 8*d.* a year.

Extent [in very bad state] of knight's fees held by the said Henry,
Duke of Lancaster, taken before the abovesaid escheator at Monemuthe on Monday next before the Feast of St. Barnabas, 35 Edward III [1361], by the oath of William Graynor,
. . . warde, John Stacy, John de Maynstone, John Seriaunt the younger,
William de Parco, Richard Jones, Roger , John , . . . and John Hir . . , who say that

The said Henry held one knight's fee in Longeheope, which Gilbert Talbot holds, worth £20; and one fee in Dounameneye, which Peter de Cusaunce holds, worth 10 marks; half a fee in Hunteleye, which the said Gilbert holds, worth £10.

John de Wylyntone, son and heir of Henry de Wylyntone.

Proof of age of the said John, taken at Sandhurst 4th March, 35 Edward III [1361], before Thomas de Monyntone, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, in the presence of Henry de Kerseye, deputy of John atte Lee, steward of the lands of Queen Philippa in the county aforesaid, by the oath of honest and lawful men, to wit,

Walter Brounyng, aged 42, who says that the said John was born at Sandhurst 22nd February, 14 Edward III [1340], and baptized in the church of that vill, and this he remembers because on that same day, after the said John was baptized, the said Walter set out to Cirencester to attend the school there, and he told the Abbot of Cirencester of the occurrence. John de Matlesdone, aged 38, remembers it, because on that same day the said Henry de Wylyntone with his dogs killed a doe coming from Cors in the fields of Sandhurst. John Frankhomme, aged 46, says he remembers John's birth, etc., because on that day the kitchen of the manor of Sandhurst was burnt down. John Rycheman, aged 45, recollects, because on that day he wrote [sic] to the court of the King's Berton, and there he heard of the birth of John. Robert le Passemur, aged 38, remembers, because on the same day the mill of Uptone was damaged by flood. Roger de Salcombe, aged 56, broke his left arm on the same day, and therefore remembers. John Gybons, aged 60, John Theodolf, aged 57, John Sprat, aged 48, and a few others, whose names are illegible, testify to the same effect.

Proof of age of the said John, taken before the abovesaid escheator at Gloucester on Thursday next after the Feast of St. Gregory the Pope, 35 Edward III [1361].

Walter Toky, aged 48, says the said John was born at Prestebury in the county of Gloucester 12th March, 14 Edward III [1340], and baptized in the church of that vill, and this he well remembers, because he was there with the Bishop of Hereford when the said John was baptized. John de Mattesdone, aged 44, recollects the date because he was before the King's coroner in connexion with an accident that happened in the said town. John Frankhomme, aged 55 [?], remembers because his eldest son was born [then]. Robert Passemor, aged 48, on that day started for Sant Jago. John Rous, aged 56, buried his wife in the churchyard of that church on the same day. John Jones, aged 58, remembers, because on that day Bartholomew [?] de Erggesworthe enfeoffed Robert de Prestebury with a messuage and 20½ acres in that vill. Hugh atte Wyneard, John Thedolf, William Dykkeleye, William Ingleys, Philip Reed, and Richard Eyloff also bear witness, but their 'reasons' are illegible.

Joan de la Ryuere.

Inquisition taken at Actone before Philip de Sutteleye, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, 26th November, 35 Edward III [1361], by the oath of John de Clifford, John Draycote, Thomas Skay, John Joye, John Capel, Elias Berleye, John Bastard, John Byl, John Botiler, John Hollis, Thomas Bryd, and John Purlewent, who say that

The said Joan held in her demesne as of fee of the King in chief, in socage and by the service of 15*s.* payable yearly into the Exchequer at Michaelmas, by the hands of the sheriff of Gloucester, the hamlet of Stordone next Bristol. In this hamlet there is one capital messuage, with a curtilage, worth 12*d.* a year; one dovecot, worth 2*s.*; 60 acres of fallow land, worth 10*s.*; 4 acres of meadow, worth 4*s.* when they can be mown; 2 acres of wood, the underwood of which is worth nothing, because it was recently cut down. There are 15*s.* rents of assize of free tenants, which ought to be paid at Michaelmas for the whole year.

The said Joan died on Sunday next after Michaelmas last past. Richard de la Ryuere, her son and heir, is aged 30 and more.

Eleanor de Sudleye.

Inquisition taken before the abovesaid escheator at Suydleye, 8th December, 35 Edward III [1361], by the oath of John Dastyn, John Bracebrugge, Thomas de Wottone, Robert de Wottone, John le Webbe, Regnold le Tannere, Richard de Clyue, Richard Mutche, Richard le Webbe, John Shoteswelle, William James, and John Addrewyne, who say that

Eleanor, who was wife of John de Sudleye, held for term of her life of the King in chief the manor of Sudleye, by demise made to the said John and Eleanor by John de Sudeleye, grandfather of her said husband.

In the said manor there is one messuage, worth nothing yearly beyond the reprise; 2 gardens, the fruit and herbage of which are worth 4*od.* a year; 4 carucates of land, worth 6*zs.*; 10 acres of meadow, worth 1*zs.* 8*d.* The underwood there is worth 4*os.* a year. There are rents of assize, viz., at the Feast of the Annunciation £7 10*s.* 8*d.*, at the Feast of St. Kenelm £8 12*s.* 8*d.*, and at Michaelmas 10*zs.* 6*d.* The pleas and perquisites of the courts there are worth 4*os.* a year. The manor is held of the King in chief by barony.

The said Eleanor died 6th September last past. John de Suydleye, son of the said John and Eleanor, is aged 24 and more.

William de Edyndone, Bishop of Winchester.

Inquisition taken before Thomas de Monyntone, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, at Thormerton, on Tuesday next before the Feast of St. Barnabas the Apostle, 35 Edward III [1361], by the oath of John Fifyde, William Pulham, Richard le Heyr, Richard Taillour, John Zateman, Robert Colas, John Wilkyns, Thomas Torledene, John Dameine, Henry de Roo, John Wattes, and John Loueryng, who say that

It would be no damage to the King, or any other, to allow William de Edyndone, Bishop of Winchester, to grant his manor of Thormerton, and the adowson of the church of that manor, to the rector and brethren of the monastery or house of Edyndone, for the maintenance of certain chantries and other pious works. The Bishop holds the premises of the King by knight service, and they are worth £10 a year for the manor, and £8 for the advowson.

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow the said Sir William and William to grant the manor of Alwyntone, 60 acres of land and 10 acres of meadow there, to the Abbot of Oseney to find two regular canons of the order of St. Augustine, beyond the number of the canons established in that abbey, to celebrate for the grantors in Osney Abbey for ever. The manor is held of Edward le Despenser by fealty, and by the service of doing suit twice a year at his court at Fairford; and the said Edward holds of the King in knight service. The premises are worth 12 marks yearly. There would still remain to the grantors lands, etc., in the counties of Gloucester and Oxford, worth £40 a year and more.

Inquisition [in bad state] taken at Gloucester on Tuesday next after the Close of Easter, 38 Edward III [1364], before the above-said escheator, by the oath of John de Monemouth, James de Thiknesse, John Oulepenne, John de Wykwyke, John atte Gorst, John de Wyke, John Giffard, Adam Bythefeld [?], John de Stonhouse, William le Walsshe, Roger atte Mulle, Robert Brannoke, and Roger Noreys, who say that

John Mautravers, chivaler, was enfeoffed jointly with Agnes, his wife, who survives, of the grant of Robert de Sa . . . , Henry de Tyngewyke, and John de Costone [?], chaplains, by fine levied in the King's court, and with his licence, of the manor of Kyngestanleghe, held of the King in chief by knight service, worth 20 marks a year, to hold to them and the heirs of their bodies, with contingent remainder to John, son of Richard, Earl of Arundel, and Eleanor, daughter of John, son of the said John Mautravers, in tail.

The said John Mautravers also held, jointly with the said Agnes, the manor of Wodechestre, with the advowson of the church of that manor, worth £20 a year; it is held of the Earl of Salisbury [?] by knight service. Also they held, under the aforesaid fine, from the Bishop of Worcester, by the service of doing him fealty only, the manor of Stonhouse, worth £20 [?] a year; and from Sir James de Audele, knight, lord of Beggeworth, by the service of one pair of gilt spurs or 6d. a year, the manor of Shurdyngtone, worth 10 marks a year; also from the Abbess of Caen, by knight service, one carucate of land, 12 acres of meadow, and 100s. yearly rents in Minchenhamptone, worth 10 marks yearly; also he held from the King in chief, by knight service, the manor of Rokhamptone, worth 40 marks a year, to him and the heirs male of his body, under a fine levied in the King's court between the said John and William de Chiltenham and John de Coggeshale, with contingent remainder to Thomas, son of Maurice de Berkeley, knight. He also held in tail male of the Bishop of Worcester, by the service of doing fealty to him, the manor of Stoke Giffard, worth £10 yearly, under a fine levied in the King's court between Edmund de Bereford, Henry de Tyngewyke, and Nicholas Pynnoke [?], clerks, and the said John deceased, with contingent remainder to Thomas, son of Maurice de Berkeley the younger.

[Supplied from the Wilts inquisition.] The said John died 16th February last. Joan, wife of John de Kaynis, chivaler, aged 22 and more, and Eleanor, wife of John, son of Richard, Earl of Arundel, aged 19 and more, are cousins and next heirs of the said John deceased.

William de Chiltenham.

Inquisition taken before the abovesaid escheator at Haukesbury, 20th April, 40 Edward III [1366], by the oath of Robert Woderoue, John atte Sloo, Henry Westone, John Mursleye, John Parkare, Thomas Pierys, Henry Pesshom, Laurence Caumpe, Thomas Burnel, Richard le Cook, John le Clerk, and John Hambroke, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow William de Chiltenham to grant 3 messuages, one mill, 3 virgates of land, and 20*s.* rent in Hildesleye and Sedlewode to the chaplain of the chantry in the chapel of St. Giles of Hildesleye, to hold in aid of his maintenance for ever. The premises are held of the Abbot of Pershore by the service of 20*s.* a year. They are worth, exclusive of the 20*s.* rent, 13*s.* 4*d.* They say that the aforesaid William Smalcombe is intermediary between the King and the said William de Chiltenham. [Sic. The name of the Abbot of Pershore has been written in above over an erasure.] William de Chiltenham would still retain 2 messuages, 4 carucates of land, and 20 marks' rents in Pokelchurche and Abbotestone, held of the Bishop of Bath by knight service, and worth 100*s.* in addition to the said rents.

Possessions of Walter Mareschal, formerly Earl of Pembroke.

Return made upon a writ to the Treasurer, Barons, and Chamberlain of the Exchequer, directing them to search and report as to the partition of the inheritance of Walter Mareschal, formerly Earl of Pembroke, in the time of Henry III, and the tenor of a plea held in the Exchequer in the time of Edward I, between William de Valence and Joan, his wife, of the one part, and Humphrey de Bohun, then Earl of Hereford, of the other part, touching the right to the earldom of Pembroke. Among the copies of extents so returned is:

Extent made by command of [King Henry III] of the lands belonging to W. Mareschal, formerly Earl of Pembroke, in the co. of Gloucester, which Simon de Montfort and A. his wife hold in the vill of Beggeworth, by the oath of Walter Durant, John Nichole, John Duyn, William de la Plocke, William Ingeleys, William Faket, Philip de Kingsneresbury [?], Robert Curteis, William Geroud, Simon de Mattesdone, Gilbert de Syda, and Nicholas Sygrid, who say that

The said Simon and A. hold 3 carucates of land in demesne, worth £10 a year if put to farm; and 3 carucates in demesne, to be ploughed by the customary tenants, worth likewise £10 a year, with a park, meadow, dovecot, and garden. There are 36s. 10d. rents from eleven free men; there are 16 virgates and two quarters of a virgate [lundinār] of villein land, worth £15 a year. There are 22s. 4d. a year from cottars in the same vill; the view of frankpledge is worth 15s. 6d. One man there pays 19*d.* for 6 geese and 10 hens; another man pays 3*d.* for 3 capons. The pannage is worth half a mark yearly; the toll of ale 5*s.* a year according to the custom. The mill is worth 10*s.*

John atte Yate of Erlyngham.

Inquisition taken at Westbury on Thursday next after the Feast of St. Andrew, 41 Edward III [1367], before John Benet, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, by the oath of Thomas Hathewy, John Wyche, John in the Hale, John Magote, Thomas Gamage, Thomas Bray, Philip Michel, Richard Styward, Richard Brayn, John Holow of Staunton, Thomas Schortegroue, and Edward Whyte, who say that

The said John atte Yate held a certain parcel of meadow in Walmor as of the King's soil, which parcel is in the bailiwick of Abbenhale, and the said bailiwick is held of the King in chief, and he died seised thereof in his demesne as of fee, as tenant of the King's soil aforesaid; and the said parcel of meadow is worth 10*s.* a year, but the jurors do not know by what service it is held. He also held of the Duke of Lancaster 7 acres of meadow [called ?] . . . yesmede, and 3 acres of meadow at Luttelemoer in the manor of Rodleye, as parcel of the manor of Staynteweyle, by fealty and suit of court to the said Duke, worth 23*s.* a year. Also he held at Erlyngham from the lord of Berkeleye [?], by knight service, one messuage and one carcuate of land, worth 100*s.* a year; at Dursleye, one carucate of land from Nicholas Berkeleye, by the service of 20*s.* a year, worth 10 marks; at Hatherley, from Sir John Beauchamp certain lands and tenements, worth 40*d.*

The said John died on Monday next after the Feast of St. Michael, 36 Edward III [1362]. John, his son and heir, is aged 16. After the said John's death Thomas de Berkeleye, lord of Berkeleye, seised and entered into the said lands on account of the minority of the heir, and so held them and took the profits thereof as long as he lived, and after the said Thomas's death, Robert de Couele, his executor, sold the custody of the lands and the marriage of the heir to Richard de Bromptone.

John de Breouse, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Tettebury, co. Gloucester, before Philip de Lutteleye, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, 16th May, 41 Edward III [1367], by the oath of Thomas Ine, William Magerlyng,

John Holbri[g?], Walter Waltres, Alexander Chepman, John Romsey, Laurence Chepman, William Mareschal, William Haylee, John de Westone, John Buryman, and William Sherston, who say that

John de Breouse, chivaler, held from the King in chief on the day he died the manor of Tettebury, in fee tail, by knight service, of the gift of Thomas de Breouse, chivaler, and Beatrice, his wife, still surviving, to hold to the said John and Elizabeth, his wife, and the heirs male of their bodies, with contingent reversion to the said Thomas and Beatrice, as appears by the King's charter of licence thereupon. And they say that the said manor ought to revert to the said Beatrice, because the said Thomas is dead, and the said John and Elizabeth have died without issue male. The manor is worth £9 16s. 8d. a year.

The said John died 3rd February last. Thomas de Breouse, brother and next heir of the said John, is aged 15.

John de Ferrers, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before the abovesaid escheator, 6th June, 41 Edward III [1367], by the oath of Walter Toky, William Wardewyke, John Samson, Robert de Southorne, Thomas Aylwy, Robert Baron, Peter Cappe, Robert Coppe, Elias Hunteleye, Geoffrey Robynes, Robert Jurdan, and William Faukoner, who say that

John de Ferrers, chevalier, held the manor of Bykenore from the King in chief, in his demesne as of fee, by the service of paying 15*s.* a year at Michaelmas to the King at Newenham. There is one messuage there worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 60 acres of land, worth 2*d.* an acre; 3 acres of meadow, worth 6*d.* an acre, when the grass can be mown and carried, on account of floods on the water of Weye. There is a water-mill, worth 6*s. 8d.* a year; there are certain weirs in the water of Weye, worth 40*d.* yearly; 26*s. 8d.* of the rents of assize of free tenants; the pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 2*s.* a year. There is the advowson of a church worth 40*s.* a year.

He held also the manor of Teyntone jointly with Elizabeth his wife, who survives, from the King in chief by the service of half a knight's fee, of the feoffment of John Fynche, parson of the church of Mogyntone, and Geoffrey de Ideford, parson of the church of Teyntone, to hold to the said John and Elizabeth in tail. There is a capital messuage in the said manor, worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; one carucate of land, worth 10*s.* a year; 4 acres of meadow, worth 12*d.* an acre; 40*s.* of rents of assize of free tenants, payable in equal portions at the Feasts of St. Michael and the Annunciation; the pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 2*s.* a year.

The said John held also a moiety of the manor of Beggeworth from Ralph, Earl of Stafford, as of his manor of Thornbury, by knight service, in right of his said wife Elizabeth, of the grant of John Lestraunge, to Fulk Lestrange and the said Elizabeth in tail, with reversion to the heirs of the said John Lestraunge, because the said Fulk died without issue by the said Elizabeth. There is a capital messuage in the said manor worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; the moiety of a garden, worth 6*d.*; one carucate of land, worth 20*s.*; the moiety of a water-mill, worth 5*s.*; 6 acres of meadow, worth 12*d.* an acre; a wood, the herbage of which is worth nothing a year, because it is common, and there is no underwood. There are 100*s.* rents of assize of free and bond tenants, with the rents of Chapellond, payable at the said two feasts in equal portions. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 5*s.* a year.

The said John de Ferrers died abroad on 2nd April last, it is said. Robert, his son and heir, is aged 7 and more.

Julian, late Countess of Huntington.

Inquisition taken before John Benet, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, at Wynchecombe, on Saturday next after the Feast of St. Katherine, 41 Edward III [1367], by the oath of John Bracebrug, Robert de Wottone, William Charyngworthe, John Daftyn, Thomas de Wotton, Thomas Stodleye, Richard de Webbeleye, Roger Bed[e]l,

John Sheldone, John Maluere, John Bouechurche, and Henry Chaundeler, who say that

Joan, the late Countess, held from the King in chief by knight service the manor of Templegutyn, with the members thereto belonging, for term of her life, of the inheritance of John de Clynton, chivaler, which manor Pancius de Coutrone[?] gave to William de Clynton, Earl of Huntingdon, and the said Julian his wife, and the heirs of the said William, with the King's licence. The buildings in the said manor are worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; there is a dovecot, worth 4*od.*; 6 carucates of land, one-third of which lies fallow, and the two-thirds are worth 26*s.* 8*d.* a year. There are 40 acres of meadow, worth £4 a year beyond the reprise; a summer pasture, worth 40*s.*; a wood, the underwood of which is worth 20*s.* There are £23 of rents of assize, payable at the Feasts of the Annunciation and St. Michael.

The said Countess died on Sunday before the Feast of All Saints last past. John de Clynton, chivaler, next heir of the said manor, as cousin and next heir of the said William, is aged 30 and more.

John, son and heir of John Harberd.

Proof of age. This document is missing.

John de Sudeleye, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before the abovesaid escheator, 4th October, 41 Edward III [1367], by the oath of Thomas Cubberleye, Roger Baylly, Nicholas Webbe, Richard Keys, Thomas Stodleye, John Gonnes, Richard Webbeleye, John Frere, Nicholas Maltman, Nicholas Ymeigne, John le Clerk, and Reginald le Tannare, who say that

The said John held the manor of Suydeley in his demesne as of fee from the King in chief, by barony. In the said manor there is a capital messuage worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 2 gardens, the fruit and herbage of which are worth 4*od.*; 4 carucates of land, worth 5*s. 4d.* a year; 10 acres of meadow, worth 1*s. 8d.* The underwood there is worth 4*os.* There are £21 6*s. 10d.* of rents of assize of free tenants, payable as follows: at the Feast of the Annunciation, £7 10*s. 8d.*; at the Feast of St. Kenelm, £8 12*s. 8d.*; at the Feast of St. Michael, 10*s. 6d.*

The said John died on the Morrow of St. Lawrence last past. His heirs are Thomas, son of Joan, eldest sister of the said John and formerly wife of William le Botiler, chivaler, father of the said Thomas, and Margery, younger sister of the said John, aged respectively 10 [?] at the Feast of All Saints last past, and 30 years.

Extent of knight's fees held by the said John, made at Wynchescombe, 12th April, 42 Edward III [1368], before John Benet, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, by the oath of John Bracebrugge, Thomas Wottone, Robert Wottone, Robert Yppewelle, John Wynter, William Chalyngwrthe, Adam Byfelde, John Scheldone, John Daftyn, Roger Bedel, Thomas Dobbe, and John Tadyntone, who say that

John Tracy, chivaler, held of the said John de Suydleghe, chivaler, deceased, the manor of Todyntone by the service of one knight's fee, worth £40.

The Abbot of Evesham, by virtue of a recognizance of a certain statute merchant made to him by William Gylle, held from the said John de Suydleghe, Stanlegh Pountdelarge, by the service of half a knight's fee, worth £20.

Thomas Daftyn held from him Daftyneswormyntone by the service of one-fifth of a knight's fee, worth £8 a year.

The advowson of the chapel of Suydlegh belonged to the said John deceased, worth 10*os.* a year.

Maurice, son of Thomas de Berkele.

Inquisition taken at N . . port before John Benet, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, on Wednesday next after the Feast of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, 42 Edward III [1368], by the oath of John de Augst, John Gayner, John Oulepenne, Thomas Skay, Henry de Oketone, John le Man, John Bastard, William Madebroke, John Coby, William Purlewent, John Fromelode, and William Elyot, who say that Maurice de Berkele, lord of Berkele, held in fee tail of the King in chief by knight service the castle and vill of Berkele with the members, to wit, Hamme, Appulrugge, Alkyntone, Hyntone, Slymbrugge, with the advowson of the church thereof, Coueleghe and Uptone St. Leonard.

The said castle and vill of Berkele, with the gardens and vivaries being round about the castle, are worth £20 3s. 2d. a year. There is a water-mill called "le Castelmulle," worth 26s. 8d. a year.

In the manor of Hamme there is a capital messuage worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 306 acres of arable land, 204 acres of which can be sown every year, and are worth 102s.; the rest are worth nothing, because they lie fallow and in common. There are 109 acres of meadow, worth £10 18s.; 32 acres of pasture, worth 21s. 4d.; a dovecot, worth 4s.; an enclosed park called Whitclyue, worth nothing a year beyond the reprise, because the herbage is eaten by wild animals; there is a vivary, worth 6*s.* 8*d.* a year. There are £9*1* annual rents, with 110*s.* rent from a water-mill let out to William Mullewarde, payable at four terms of the year, to wit, at Christmas £2*2*, at Easter £2*4*, at the Nativity of St. John £2*1*, at Michaelmas £2*4*. There are 7 'virgatars' who will work throughout the year except three weeks, to wit, at Christmas, Easter, and Whitsuntide, the work of each being worth 2*½d.* a week; total, 7*1s.* 5*½d.*

In the manor of Appulrugge there is a capital messuage worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; one dovecot, worth 4*s.*; 6*3* acres of arable land, 4*2* of which can be sown every year, and are worth 14*s.* a year, the remaining 2*1* acres are worth nothing, because they lie fallow and in common. There are 4*3* acres of uncultivated land and pasture, worth 10*s.* 9*d.* a year; one enclosed park called le Neweparke, worth nothing beyond the fencing, because wild animals feed on the herbage.

In the manor of Alkyntone there is a capital messuage worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; a dovecot, worth 4*s.*; [189] acres of arable land, 12*6* of which can be sown every year, and are worth 63*s.*; the remaining 6*3* acres are worth nothing, because they lie fallow and in common. There are 39 acres of meadow, worth 78*s.*; [43] acres of pasture, worth 28*s.* 8*d.*; an enclosed park called Dele[?], worth nothing a year beyond the reprise and the pasture, because wild animals feed there. There is a vivary in the said park, worth 3*s.* 4*d.* There is a place there called Mykkelwode, worth nothing a year because it lies in common and is stocked with wild animals. There is a water-mill, worth 40*s.* There is a clear rental of £4*2* . . . 10*d.* payable as follows: at Christmas, £10 3*s.* 4*d.*; at Easter, £11 16*½d.*; at the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, £10 3*s.* 4*d.*; and at Michaelmas, £10 3*s.* 9[½]d.?

In the manor of Hyntone there is a capital messuage worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; a dovecot, worth 4*s.*; 120 acres of arable land, 80 of which can be sown, and are worth 40*s.* a year; the remaining 40 acres are worth nothing [as above]; there are 15 acres of meadow, worth 30*s.*; 49 acres of pasture, worth 24*s.* 6*d.*; there is a fishery in the water of Severn, worth 6*s.* a year. There is an enclosed park called Schobbenasse[?], the herbage of which is worth 6*s.* 2*d.*; there is a vivary worth 2*s.* a year. There is a grove called Chisulhanger, worth nothing a year, because there is neither herbage nor underwood and it is in common. There are £23 17*s.* rents of assize, with 10*s.* rent of a windmill let out to William . . . , payable at the four terms of the year, to wit, at Christmas, 118*s.* . . . ; at Easter, £6 . . . ; at the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 118*s.* 6*d.*; and at Michaelmas, £6 . . . 3*d.*[?]. There are 8 'half-virgatars,' each of whom will work on every working day throughout the year, or will pay to the lord equally at the four terms 16s. a year, and so their works are worth £6 8s. And there are 7 customary tenants there, each of whom holds 10 acres of land, and each will work from the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist to Michaelmas, for 13½ weeks, 2 works each week, and so each will do 27 works, worth 2s. 3d.; total, 15s. 9d.

In the manor of Slymbrugge there is one capital messuage, worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; one garden, the fruit and herbage of which is worth 2s.; 125 acres of arable land, 83 of which can be sown every year, worth 41s. 6d.; and the remaining 42 acres are worth nothing [as above]. There are 98 acres of meadow, 60 of which are worth £6 a year, and 38 are worth 38s., and not more, because very often they cannot be mown on account of drought, and the meadow is hilly. There are 11 acres of pasture, worth 7s. [4]d. There is a clear yearly rental of £38 2s. 7d., payable as follows: at Christmas, £10 10s.; at Easter, £9 11s.; at the Nativity of St. John, £9 10s.; at Michaelmas, £9 11s. 7d. There is a water-mill, worth 2os.

In the manor of Coueleghe aforesaid there is a capital messuage, worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 106 acres of arable land, 71 of which can be sown every year, and are worth 35s. 6d., the remaining 35 acres are worth nothing [as above]. There are 20 acres of meadow, worth 40s.; 16 acres of pasture, worth 10s. 8d.; 44 acres of uncultivated land, worth 5s. [?]. There is a clear yearly rental of £52 13s. 8d., payable as follows, to wit, at Christmas, £13 3s., and the same sum at Easter and the Nativity of St. John; at Michaelmas, £13 4s. 8d.

The manor of Upton St. Leonard aforesaid is farmed for £4, payable equally at the abovesaid four terms, and so it is worth no more by the year.

Two-thirds of the Hundred of Berkele, with the views of frankpledge, are worth £10 10s.; the one-third remains to Katherine, lady of Wotton, in the name of dower, after the death of Thomas de Berkele, father of the said Maurice, her late husband.

The said Maurice also held one-sixth of the manor of Akton Ylgar from the Duke of Lancaster, of the Honour of Troubrugge by knight service and suit of court [?], and it is worth 10s. a year, and is so rented. And there are 56s. 8d. yearly rents there, payable in equal portions at the said four terms.

He also held from the Abbess of Caen one messuage and one virgate of land at Seincler [?] by the service of ploughing one carucate of land for the said Abbess, and of reaping her corn for one day, and of carrying her corn with one cart [?] or one wain, and doing suit at the said Abbess's court; worth 40s. a year.

The said Maurice also held the manor of Aure with the appurtenances, to wit, Etelowe and Blakeneye and the Hundred of Blydeslowe, in fee and demesne, from the Earl of March by the service of one peppercorn. In this manor there is a capital messuage, worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 60 acres of arable land, 40 of which can be sown every year, and are worth 20*s.*; the remaining 20 are worth nothing [as above]. There is an ox pasture there, worth 6*s.* 8*d.*; a fishery of the Severn, worth 40*s.*; there are 12 acres of meadow, worth 24*s.* The Hundred there is worth £6 13*s.* 4*d.* a year beyond the reprise. There is a clear yearly rental of £16 13*s.* 10*½d.*, payable as follows: to wit, at Christmas, 7*s.* 2*d.* [?]; at Easter, 7*s.* 11*½d.*; at the Nativity of St. John, 7*s.* 10*½d.*; at Michaelmas, £4 18*s.* 10*½d.*

He held also 5 acres of meadow at Tokynhale from the Earl of Warwick, to him and his heirs, by the service of one rose; worth 5*s.* a year. Also from Gilbert Talbot, in Pyrtone, 6*s.* yearly rents, payable equally at the four terms of the year by the service of one sparrow-hawk of a year old. From Lord de Clyfford of the North he held, by knight service, the manor of Hurste, jointly with Elizabeth, his wife, who survives, of the gift of his father Thomas de Berkele in marriage, to hold to them and their heirs male. He also held 22 marks' yearly rents in the manor of Fromptone, and £12 11*s.* yearly rents in the manor of Camme, jointly with the said Elizabeth of the gift of the aforesaid Thomas, to them and their heirs male as above; these rents belong to the manor of Hurste, which with the rents is worth 100 marks.

The said Maurice died on Thursday, the Feast of Corpus Christi, to wit, 8th June last past. Thomas, his son and heir, was aged 15 on 4th January last. Total value of the whole, excepting the 100 marks of the manor of Hurste, held jointly with his wife, £390 8*s.* 10*½d.*

Alan Botiller, son of Joan, one of the sisters and heirs of William de Sheyntone deceased.

Proof of age of Alan le Botiller, heir of William le Sheyntone, who held of the heir of Roger de Mortimer, late Earl of March, a ward to the King, taken at Great Badmyntone before John Benet, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, 28th October, 42 Edward III [1368].

John Joye, aged 60 years, says that the said Alan was born at Great Badmyntone, and baptized in the church of that vill 1st February, 20 Edward III [1346], his godparents being Alan de Cherleton, chivaler, William de Actone, and Margery, who was wife of Roger Marmyon. The said Alan le Botiller was therefore 22 on 1st February last. He knows the date because, by an indenture made at Easter following, he demised a . . . in the same vill to John Godberd, his neighbour, for a term of forty years, and the date of this deed is entered in a missal in the said church.

John Wykwyke, aged 54, remembers [as above] because . . . [illegible].

Thomas Fayre, John Barbast, and Thomas Durnoke, aged 58 and more, remember the date, because the church of Badmyntone was desecrated by the shedding of blood therein, and reconciled and consecrated by the Bishop of Worcester on the Morrow of SS. Peter and Paul next after the baptism of the said Alan there.

William Alkeleye, John Parmenter, John Perys . . . , and Thomas Neweman, aged . . . , remember the date, because there was a fire in three tenements in the High Street on the Vigil of St. Gregory next afterwards to the damage of their own tenements. [The depositions of three witnesses are illegible.]

Vill of Wynchecombe.

Inquisition taken before John Benet, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, at Wynchecombe, 12th April, 42 Edward III [1368], by the oath of Richard Clyue, Lawrence Clerk, Thomas Sclattere, John Baylyf, Nicholas Chapman, Roger Bedel, Richard Webbeleye, John Guytyng, Nicholas Webbe, John Tokky [?], Thomas Tannare, and Thomas Stodleye, who say that

The vill of Wynchecombe is held of the King in chief, and the King has a number of tenements there, which are held of him in chief, and not of any other person. Christian Stowe held of the King in chief one tenement in the said vill, in the street called Northstreet, by the service of 5*d.* a year. This tenement she alienated to one John Tadyntone, without the King's licence. It is worth 5*s.* a year. The said John has held the same from the Feast of St. Andrew last past to the date hereof. Henry Addy held a tenement in the said vill from the King in chief, in the street aforesaid, by the service of 2½*d.* a year. He died without heir in the twenty-third year of the present King's reign, wherefore the said tenement escheated to the King as chief lord of the fee, for want of an heir. It is worth . . . a year. Robert Clyue held a tenement of the King in chief in the said vill, in a street called Betarestreet, by the service of 3*d.* a year to "le Walgael." Robert likewise died without heir in the 23rd year abovesaid, when the said tenement escheated as abovesaid. It is worth 4*s.* a year. Henry Keye held a toft of the King in chief in the said vill, in the street called Northstret, by the service of 5*½d.* a year. The now Abbot of Wynchcombe craftily [ingeniose] brought a writ of cessavit against Thomas, son of the said Henry Keys, as though the said toft was held of him in chief, whereas it was never held of the said abbot nor of his predecessors, but only of the King in chief; and the said abbot, by means of an inquisition taken at Gloucester at Easter tide, 40 Edward III [1366], by the oath of strangers and his own tenants, before Henry Grene and his colleagues, then the King's justices, coming to take assizes in the county of Gloucester aforesaid, fraudulently recovered the said tenement in the absence of the said Thomas, without any warning given to him. The said toft is worth 6*d.* a year.

Agnes, who was wife of Sir Thomas de Bradestone, knight.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before William Auncell, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, 3rd October, 43 Edward III [1369], by the oath of John Wyckwyke, Laurence Caumpe, Richard Cook, Roger Chaumberleyn, Walter Wombourne, John Hambroke, Roger [?] Aueray, Thomas ate Pyrye, Richard Partrich, William ate Nasshe, William Gardyner, and John Wombourne, who say that

The said Agnes held for term of her life the manor of Wynterbourne from John fitz Esteuene by knight service, with remainder to Thomas de Bradestone, son of the late Sir Robert de Bradestone, knight, and the heirs of his body, as appears by a fine thereof levied in the King's court. There is a capital messuage there worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; one dovecot, worth 4*od.*; 2 carucates of land, worth 20*s.* a year when sown, and they were sown this year before the death of the said Agnes; after the corn harvest they are worth nothing because they lie in common. There are 25 acres of meadow worth 25*s.*, when they can be mown, and after the mowing they lie in common till the Feast of the Purification. There are £9 14*s.* rents of free and customary tenants, payable in equal portions at the Feasts of St. Andrew, the Annunciation, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and Michaelmas. And there is a customary rent of 5*s.* 4*d.*, called 'Larderseluer,' payable at Martinmas. A court is held every three weeks, and the pleas and perquisites are worth 6*s.* 8*d.* a year.

The said Agnes also held for term of her life 8 acres of the meadow of Tydryntone, from John de Clyntone by the service of doing fealty, worth 6s. 8d. a year when mown, and it was mown this year before her death; after the mowing it is worth nothing, because it lies in common. She held also for term of her life 2 acres of meadow in the vill of Ichentone, from the Bishop of Worcester by the service of doing fealty, worth 16d. when mown, and it was so mown this year; after the mowing it lies in common. She held for term of her life a messuage in the vill of Hortone, from Nicholas Louche, clerk, lord of Hortone, by the service of doing fealty. And there are 4 virgates of land there worth 13s. 4d. a year, and 10 acres of meadow worth 10s., and 30s. of rents of assize of free tenants, payable equally at the four terms abovesaid.

The said Agnes held also one-third of the manor of Stynchescombe, in the name of dower, from the lord of Berkele, by knight service, of the grant of Robert Coygny, late rector of the church of Somerford Mauduit, and John de Winchestre, chaplain. In this third there are certain buildings, worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 30 acres of land, worth 7s. 6d.; 2 acres of meadow, worth 2s. There is a several pasture, worth 12d. a year. There are 46s. 8d. rents of assize of free tenants payable at the terms abovesaid in equal portions. She held also an annual rent of 26s. 8d. in the vill of Erlingham (of the grant aforesaid) payable as above. The said last-named premises, beginning with the land in Tydryntone, remain to the abovesaid Thomas, son of Sir Robert de Bradestone, as appears by a writing made thereof.

The said Agnes died on Saturday, the Feast of St. Giles last past. Who is the next heir of her blood the jury do not know. The aforesaid Thomas, son of Sir Robert de Bradestone, is aged 17 and more. [The Essex Inquisition says that the said Sir Robert was son of her late husband, Thomas.]

Thomas de Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before William Auncell, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, 22nd December, 43 Edward III [1369], by the oath of John Gayner, John de Auste, Walter de Auste, William Bray, John Wynȝ, Nicholas Canon, John Bourghulle, Walter Home, Robert ate Medowe, Walter Geffrey, John Beye, and William Faulkener, who say that

The said Earl held for term of his life the manors of Wykewan, Lydeneye, and Cheddeworth, and the advowson of the church of Nategrave, by grant of John de Bokyngham, now Bishop of Lincoln, John de Beauchamp, and others, by fine thereof levied in the King's court in the 35th [?] year of his reign, with remainder at his death to his son Thomas in tail male. The premises are held of the King by knight service.

There are no buildings in the manor of Wykewan, but £8 rents of assize of free and customary tenants, payable at the Feasts of the Annunciation and [St. Michael ?] in equal portions. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 6*s.* 8*d.* a year.

There are no buildings in the manor of Lydeneye; but there is underwood there of 200 acres, worth nothing a year for want of buyers. There are £8 rents of assize of free and customary tenants payable [as above]. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth . . . a year.

In the manor of Cheddeworth there is a capital messuage worth nothing a year beyond the reprise. There is a . . . , worth 4*s.* a year; 20 acres of underwood worth nothing a year for want of buyers. There are £12 rents of free and customary tenants payable [as above]. The pleas and perquisites of the courts there are worth 2*s.* [?] a year.

The said earl died on Tuesday next after the Feast of St. Martin last past. Thomas de Beauchamp, his son and heir, is aged 24.

John de Grandisson, late Bishop of Exeter.

Inquisition taken at Newent before William Auncell, the King's escheator, in the counties of Hereford and Gloucester, and the March of Wales to those counties adjacent, 21st August, 43 Edward III [1369], by the oath of Robert Southorle, Nicholas Myle, William Wyntour, Walter Marclaye, John Chesere, William Gylle, Richard de la Hulle, Edmund Waryn, John Tancard, John Payne, Richard Coy, and William Beek, who say that

The said Bishop held of the King in chief as of the ancient demesne of the Crown, in his demesne as of fee, at Dymmocke, in the co. of Gloucester, one manor there with the appurtenances, by the service of paying the King 1*d.* a year at Christmas. There are no buildings in the said manor, nor any demesne lands, except such as are let out at a certain rent; but there are 6 acres of meadow, worth 12*s.*, when mown. There is a decayed water-mill. There is a wood containing 18 acres of great timber, worth nothing by the year; £30 of rents of assize payable in equal portions at the Feasts of St. Michael, St. Andrew, the Annunciation, and the Nativity of St. John the Baptist. There is a court there held every three weeks, the pleas and perquisites of which are worth 13*s.* 4*d.* a year.

The said John de Grandisson died 16th July last. Thomas de Grandisson, his nephew and heir, is aged 30 and more.

Philip, son and heir of Sir Walter de Gloucestre, knight.

Inquisition taken at Bristol, in the co. of Gloucester, before the abovesaid escheator in co. Gloucester, 14th January, 43 Edward III [1370], by the oath of John Croke, Henry Holewey, John de Wyckwyke, John Veel, Richard Cook, Richard Heynes, Laurence Caumpe, Robert . . . , John Parminter, Hugh Staunton, Thomas Burnel, and Richard Moun, who say that

The said Peter held of the King in chief, by knight service, on the day he died the manors of Aluestone and Erdecote, with the Hundred and view of frankpledge of Langele, to him and the heirs of his body. His father was seised thereof in tail, and gave two-thirds thereof and the reversion of the third held in dower by Eleanor, who was wife of Fulk Fitzwaryn, to John Ingelby, chaplain, and Robert Bryggefond, who therewith re-enfeoffed the said Walter and Parnell his wife, in tail, with contingent remainder to Sir Peter Corbet of Systone, knight, in tail.

The said Peter was son and heir of the said Walter and Parnell, and died 24th September last past, without issue, and there is no other issue of the said Walter and Parnell. By virtue of the abovesaid grant the premises remain to John Corbet, as cousin and next heir of the said Sir Peter, to wit, son of William, son of the said Peter.

At Aluestone there is a capital messuage, worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 2 carucates of land, two-thirds of which are sown, and are worth 26*s. 8d.* a year; the other third is worth nothing, because it lies fallow and in common. There are 30 acres of meadow, worth 30*s.* a year; a pasture, worth 46*s. 8d.* a year between the Feasts of SS. Philip and James and St Michaelmas, and nothing for the rest of the year, because it lies in common. There is an unenclosed park, the herbage of which is worth 10*s.* [?]. At Aluestone and Erdecote there are £10 2*d.* rents of free and bond tenants, payable in equal portions at the Feasts of St. Andrew, the Annunciation, the Nativity of St. John, and St. Michael. The pleas and perquisites of the Hundred with the view of frankpledge are worth . . . , [the courts] are held every 3 weeks. There is a court held every 3 weeks at Aluestone, the pleas and perquisites of which are worth 10s. a year. The jury do not know who may be next heir of the said Peter.

John, son of John Inge.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 11th January, 43 Edward III [1370], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Walter Henneberwe, Thomas . . . , John Touey, William Habbegod, Nicholas atte Hulle, Robert Rychemond, William Payn, Richard Palmere, John Aubrey, Richard Damyrable, Henry Wyneyard, and John Stutte [?], who say that — The said John held in his demesne as of fee one messuage, . . . virgates of land, and 40s. rents in the vill of “la Lee”, from the King in chief by the service of keeping a certain bailiwick of the forestry of “la Lee” in the forest of Micheldeuer. The messuage and land are worth 6s. 8d. a year.

The said John, son of John, died on the Feast of St. Michael, 37 [?] Edward III. His daughter and heir, Joan, wife of Roger Dore, survives, and is aged 17 and more.

Edward de Kerdyf.

Inquisition taken at Teukesbury, 22nd November, 43 Edward III [1369], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Walter Galeys, Thomas Allyn̄g, John Strenchesham the elder, Richard Sclattere, Peter Wenlonde, John Strenchesham the younger, Richard Cole, Thomas Twenyng, William Tannere, Richard Penne, Richard Kene, and Walter Guyge, who say that

The said Edward held the manor of Walton Kerdyf from Ralph, Earl of Stafford, in joint seoffment with Joan his wife, who survives, by knight service, which manor they had of the gift of Henry Impyngham of Teukesbury, parker, Thomas Gestok, John Baudryf, and Elizabeth his wife, Robert Underhulle, and Iuet his wife, as appears by a fine thereof levied in the King's court.

There is a capital messuage in the said manor, worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 2 carucates of land, worth 40s. a year; 30 acres of meadow for mowing, worth 6s. a year; a wood of great timber trees, the wood of which is worth nothing by the year. There is a pasture in it, worth nothing by the year on account of the denseness of the oaks. There are 20*s.* rents of assize of free tenants, payable in equal portions at the Feasts of the Annunciation and Michaelmas. There are 6*s.* rents of bond tenants, payable at the said terms, and they are put to farm for that amount this year. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 6*s.* 8*d.* a year.

The said Edward died on the last day of September last past. Paul, his son and heir, is aged 20 and more.

Elizabeth, sister and heir of Richard Daubeneye.

Proof of age made at Wotton Unduregge before the abovesaid escheator, 3rd July, 43 Edward III [1369].

John Baron, aged 50 and more, says the said Elizabeth was born at Cromhale in the said county, 11th November, 28 Edward III [1354], and baptized the same day in the church of that vill, and was 14 on 11th November last. Walter Goldemere, rector of Cromhale, Elizabeth Reuer, and Idonia Baron were her godparents. This he remembers because on that day he was bailiff of the manor of Cromhale, and acquired an acre of arable land from Richard Smyth, and he recollects the date thereof by the date of the charter of feoffment, which was made at Cromhale.

Richard Corbet, aged 70 and more, recollects the date, because he had a son named John, who at Michaelmas next before the birth of the said heir was made a monk of Kyngeswode Abbey, and so it is written in a certain psalter at Cromhale.

Adam Pope, aged 56 and more, remembers, because he had a son named James born on the Morrow of the Conception of the B.V.M. next after the birth of the said Elizabeth, as is enrolled in a certain missal in the said church of Cromhale.

John Daunte, aged 48 and more, remembers the date, because his mother Ellen died on the 15th November following.

Ralph Brokeneburgh, aged 40, Roger Hickes, aged 39, John Belle, aged 51, John Sheneleye, aged 49, John Jones, aged 45, Hamond le Spencer, aged 40, Elias ate Hethe, aged 50, and Richard Baron, aged 47, remember, because there was a dispute between them and Elias de Daubeneye, father of the said Elizabeth, which was settled on the 15th November following the birth of the said Elizabeth.

John de la Forde, attorney of Gilbert Gyffard, who has custody of the lands of the said Elizabeth, was warned, and came to Wotton Underegge on the day aforesaid, but had nothing to say to the contrary on the part either of the King or the said Gilbert.

Richard Talbot of Castle Richard.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before the abovesaid escheator in the counties of Gloucester and Hereford and the March of Wales to those counties adjacent, 12th January, 43 Edward III [1370], by the oath of Walter Henneburgh, Thomas de Ledyntone, John Touey, William Habbegod, Nicholas ate Hulle, Robert Rychemond, William Payn, Richard Palmare, John Aubrey, Richard Damyralbe, Henry Wyneyard, and John Stutte, who say that

Richard Talbot held one messuage and one virgate of land in the vill of "la Lee," without any title thereto having been made to the said Richard; the premises are of the inheritance of John Inge, son and heir of Sir John Inge, knight, and are held of the King in chief by serjeanty, to wit, by keeping the King's bailiwick in "la Lee" in the Forest of Mucheldeuer, which John Inge the younger was unjustly disseised of the said tenements by the said Richard Talbot. The messuage is worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; the land is worth 3*s. 4d.* a year. There are 40*s.* rents of assize of free tenants payable at the Feasts of the Annunciation and St. Michael in equal portions.

The said Richard Talbot died on 25th November last; the jury do not know who is his next heir. Richard Dore, next heir of the said John Inge the younger, is aged 18 and more.

Owen ap Thomas Retherik.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before William Auncell, the King's escheator in the counties of Gloucester and Hereford and the Marches of Wales to those counties adjacent, 20 January, 43 Edward III [1370], by the oath of John Hatherleye, Roger le Yonge, John Pygace, Simon Brokworth, Thomas Lescy, Walter Lydeneye, John Stonehouse, Hugh Clyffale, John Maldon, William Walsshe, John atte Halle, and John Keek, who say that

Owen ap Thomas Retheryk is an adherent to the King's enemies of France, and is engaged in the war in parts beyond the seas against the King and his faithful people, contrary to his faith and allegiance; and on the day of such his adhesion he held a messuage and 1½ carucates of land in Budefeld in the said county of Gloucester, worth 10s. a year when sown, and worth nothing when not sown, because it lies in common; it now lies fallow. These he held in his demesne as of fee from the Earl of Hereford by knight service. There are 4 acres of wood there, worth nothing because it was cut down by the said Owen, and now lies in common. Also he held 18 acres of meadow, worth 12d. an acre when the grass can be mown and carried, and the herbage is worth nothing, after mowing, because it lies in common. He also held, as above, rents of free and customary tenants, 36s. a year, payable in equal portions at the Feasts of St. Martin, the Annunciation, and the Nativity of St. John the Baptist. The pleas and perquisites of the court there are worth 12d. a year.

They believed he adhered to the King's enemies on the 13th of October last.

John atte Mulle and others.

Inquisition taken at Lechlade before William Auncell, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester and the March of Wales thereto adjacent, 6th April, 43 Edward III [1369], by the oath of Robert Say, John Yewiswych, Richard Baroun, John Houwes, Robert Watten, William Neel, Thomas Collushulle, Robert Graswell, John Spyryng, Richard Goldsmyth, John Lemmannesworthe, and John Smyth, who say that

It will be no damage to the King or others to allow John atte Mulle, parson of the church of Broughton, John Wynchestre, warden of the chantry of Winterborne, John Cokerel of Langeforde, and Thomas Roftone of Yate, to grant 20 acres of meadow in Lechelade to the Prior and brethren of the hospital of St. John of Lechelade, to celebrate for the soul of Robert Murdac, clerk, in the said hospital every day. The said meadow is held of Sir Eustace Dabrichecourt, knight, and Elizabeth, his wife, Countess of Kent, as of the manor of Lechelade, the dower of the said Elizabeth, by the service of paying 3s. yearly at Michaelmas. It is worth 20d. an acre. The said Eustace and Elizabeth hold of the King in chief by knight service. There would still remain to the grantors lands, etc., in Lechelade, held of the said manor by knight service, worth 5 marks a year.

Inquisition taken at Bristol before William Auncell, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, 13th May, 43 Edward III [1369], by the oath of John Rolf, John Taillor of Marsfeld, John Ady, John Geffrey, William Dodyng, Thomas Fraunceys, John Clerk of Assheton, John Brut, Roger Tyldely, William Wasteuyle, Thomas ate Fortehey, and Richard Moun, who say that

Hugh Garewell of Lincoln, who [sic] holds the manor of Alueston, being in the King's hands by reason of the minority of Peter, son and heir of Walter de Gloucester, formerly knight, by grant of John Moigne, Anketill Moigne, [and] John Shardelowe, executors of the will of Thomas Moigne, chivaler, the which Thomas had the manor of the grant of the King. And they say the said Hugh made waste as well in felling trees bearing fruits as oaks and ashes, to the value of 20 marks.

They say also that Master Elias de Seintalbon gave to the Prior and convent of Bath a messuage and carucate of land, with 30*s.* rent, in the township of Tatewyk, in the parish of Coldassheton, in the hundred of Pokelechurch, to find a chaplain to celebrate in the chapel of Tatewyk for the souls of the said Elias and his ancestors; and the priory ought to keep up the chapel at their own costs, but now for twenty years past there have been no services or maintenance of the chapel.

Also they say that the bridge called Mattefordesbrugge next Wynterburne is in decay and broken down by default of the townships of Wynterbourne and Frompton Cotel, to the damage of the whole country.

carucates of land, worth 16*s.* 8*d.*; 20 acres of meadow, worth 20*s.*; a pasture, the herbage of two-thirds of which is worth 6*s.* 8*d.* from the Feast of SS. Philip and James to Michaelmas, and for the rest of the year the pasture is common. There is a park, not enclosed, the herbage of two-thirds of which is worth 6*s.* 8*d.* a year. Also 66*s.* 8*d.* of the rents of free and customary tenants, payable in equal portions at the Feasts of St. Michael, St. Andrew, the Annunciation, and the Nativity of St. John the Baptist. The two-thirds of the said Hundred, held every three weeks, are worth 20*s.*; the pleas and perquisites of the courts, 5*s.*

He also held the manor of Ciston from the Bishop of Bath, by knight service, and in August last past enfeoffed Roger Dene, chaplain, Ralph Worleys, and William Hobekyn therewith, as security only for the payment of £11 due to the said Roger Dene; but the said John continued to occupy the manor and receive the profits thereof, and gave the young doves [?(pullos columbarum)] and the fruit of the garden there to the wife of William de Chiltenham. The said feoffees had not re-enfeoffed John. There is a capital messuage there worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; a dovecot worth 4*od.*; 2 carucates of land worth 20*s.*; a several pasture worth 20*s.*; certain plots [?(pl'ita) sic] of meadow worth 26*s.* 8*d.*; 40*s.* rent of free and customary tenants, payable at the abovesaid feasts. John Bardolf of Wyrmyngeye.

Inquisition taken at Munechynhampton before the said Escheator, 24th September, 45 Edward III [1371], by the oath of Thomas Rundene, William Myblank, Robert atte Creyse, Richard Halman, John Tathale, John Huggns, Robert Neweman, John Hathewey, William Gene, Nicholas Mabbat, John Coterych, and John Cleycombe, who say that

The said John Bardolf held in his demesne as of fee on the day he died one messuage, one carucate of land, 20 acres of meadow, 2 acres of wood, and 34*s.* rent in Naylysworth, worth 66*s. 8d.* a year in all their issues; held (all but one acre of meadow) from the Abbess of Came [sic] by the service of socage, at an annual rent of 21*s. 8d.*, and by suit at her court at Munechynhampton every three weeks. The above-exceptioned acre he held from John Croft in socage, paying 1 lb. of pepper at Christmas.

The said John died 5th August, 37 Edward III [1363]. John Bardolf, chivaler, his son and heir, was aged 21 on 21st October last. Queen Philippa took the issues after the said John's death, by grant of the King, during the minority of the heir, until her death; since when Hugh Wodeward has occupied the premises, paying a farm for the same into the exchequer, the amount of which they do not know. .

Bruton Priory.

Inquisition taken at Bristol before William Auncell, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, 10th April, 45 Edward III [1371], by the oath of John Wykewyk, John de Wyke, William Goolde [sic], John de Weston, Hugh Staunton, John Snaylham, Roger Walssh, Thomas Burnell, John Rolf, Thomas Wykwyk, Reginald Waleys, Robert atte Hay, and John Stanlay, who say that

It will be no damage to the King or any other to allow the Prior and convent of Bruton and their successors to hold to their own uses the churches of Horsleygh and Whitenhurst, the advowsons of which belong to their manor of Horseleygh, as they and their predecessors have held the same in times past, quit of all charges, reserving to the King and his heirs the custody of the said manor at every vacancy of the said priory; and to present secular vicars to the said churches, with due authority from the bishop of the place, provided that no canon of the said priory is from henceforth presented to the said churches or called Prior of Horseleygh, but that the said secular vicars so to be presented, when admitted and instituted, shall exercise the accustomed cure there. The said churches and manor have heretofore been charged as follows, that the priory has for some time presented their own canons to the local diocesan for the said churches, and when admitted and instituted they have been called Priors of Horseleygh, and have been accustomed to reside at Horseleygh, and there, out of piety only, they have fed sometimes six, sometimes five, poor persons, with sufficient food and drink. In times gone by the said churches and manor were not so charged or taxed.

Hospital of St. Leonard next Bristol.

Inquisition taken at Bristol before the abovesaid escheator, 2nd August, 44 Edward III [1370] [sic; writ dated 25th October, 45 Edward III], by the oath of Henry Holewey, Roger Pylond, John Sexteyn, Hugh Staunton, Robert de Lye, John Snaylham, John Wyke, Thomas Wycwyke, Henry Freeman, John Monke, Thomas Fraunceys, and John Parkere, who say that

The hospital of St. Leonard was founded by the King's progenitors. The master of the hospital is to find two chaplains to celebrate in the said hospital every day for the King, his progenitors and his heirs, and for the mayor and commonalty of Bristol, and to maintain a hospital for lazars there for ever. Ralph, the present master, has ceased to maintain a chantry of one chaplain and the said lazars hospital for three years past; and he makes waste in the buildings.

The writ sets forth that on the then preceding 10th November, the King, believing the said hospital to be vacant, had granted the custody thereof to Robert Bailly, chaplain. Thereupon Ralph, son of Philip Coteller of Haydour, chaplain, has petitioned to be allowed to retain possession, having been presented for his life by the late Queen Philippa on the resignation of Henry de Fairford.

Seintmartyntypplace, Gloucester.

Commission dated 24th October, 45 Edward III [1371], directed to Gilbert Talbot, John Bromwych, John de Burlay, and Thomas Catewy, setting forth that whereas, by letters patent dated 28th March last, the King had granted to the Burgesses of Gloucester a certain place in that town called Seintmartyntypplace, 72 feet long by 24 feet broad, for the purpose of making a tower there to hold a clock to tell the hours of night and day, commonly called a 'clok', at an annual rent of 12*d.*, to be added to the farm of the said town by the hands of the bailiffs thereof; now Adam, parson of the church of St. Michael, has made grave complaint, setting forth that an oratory called the chapel of St. Martin, built before the time of memory on the place aforesaid, was annexed to his said church as parcel thereof. This chapel William, Archbishop of Canterbury, formerly Bishop of Worcester, suspended on his visitation as diocesan of the place for certain causes and defects by him found, and he granted that the parson of the said church, who had no certain manse in his parish, should have the said place for his dwelling, and might build thereupon. Nevertheless, William Auncell, the King's escheator in the county of Gloucester, having found by inquisition that the chapel was built on the King's soil without licence from the Crown, took the said ground out of the said Adam's possession, and the King has granted it to the burgesses, to the grave damage of the said Adam. Enquiry is to be made into these facts.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 20th January, 45 Edward III, before the said commissioners, by the oath of John Pope, John Anlep, William Heberar, Thomas Byseleye, Hugh Parker, John Brighthampton, Hugh Honsom, Nicholas Bredelep, William Folyot, Walter Leuyot, John Teek, and Walter Markeleye, who say that

The said chapel was built before the publication of the Statute of Mortmain, and has been held from time immemorial by the said Adam and his predecessors, as he has declared.

St. Augustine's Abbey, Bristol.

Commission dated 14th September, 45 Edward III [1371], to John Tracy, William Wynterbourne, Thomas Styward, John Sergeant, William Erlyngham, Elias Spelly, and Walter Derby, directing them to inquire into the truth of the reports of the lack of good rule in the said abbey, of the foundation of the King's progenitors, and the carelessness of Henry, now president there, in granting corrodies to people suspected and of bad repute, and making disadvantageous leases of the abbey property, so that divine worship has been stopped there, and the works of piety ordained of old time have been discontinued.

Inquisition taken at Bristol on Wednesday next after the Feast of St. Matthew, 45 Edward III [1371], by the oath of John Malverne, Thomas Sulton, John Best, John Wilkyns, Robert Gratele, Richard Carpenter, John Wattes, John Ropere, Geoffrey Wermynstre, Walter Appurlee, Thomas Inhyne, and John Elys, "beware," who say that

The said Henry, now president of the said abbey, sold 2 bushels of corn weekly out of his manor of Berkele to Robert Bradeston, and 2 bushels to Adam Leget and Margery his wife, for their lives, against the will of his convent, but they were forced to consent out of fear of the royal power [propter metum potestatis regie] for a certain sum of money, which never came to the use of the canons of that place. All the alms, ordained and accustomed in the said abbey from its foundation, have been discontinued by the said Henry. All prebends of the founders, patrons, and canons of the said abbey, which ought to be distributed for their souls, to wit, at every founder's obit so much to the poor as a canon of the place receives by the day [?], is likewise withdrawn. The hospitality of the abbey and the bread given to those coming for hospitality are done away with. The arable land belonging to the almonry is not sown. The cellarer's office and the things belonging to it, to wit, the water-mills with their appurtenances, are wasted and destroyed. The five mills at [?] Ber]kele are destroyed. No repairs have been done to the abbey church for three years past and more. The manor of Goderynton, which belongs to the fabric, lies waste. Of the stones ordained for the building of the abbey, the said Henry has made gateways and walls of no advantage, but to the great prejudice of the abbey. The almshouse [domus elemosinaria] he has recently converted into a stable for his own use. The church and the ornaments are not kept up, but the money that should be spent on them converted to other uses at the pleasure of the said Henry. The infirmary of the abbey is in a very ruinous state, and the bread that should be given to the sick people there has been withdrawn. The gates of the abbey were closed for three years, and are still partially shut, so that Christian folk cannot be present at divine service there, as they were accustomed. Last year the said Henry sold almost all the corn of the abbey about the beginning of the year, at Michaelmas, for 12*d.* and 13*d.* a bushel, and afterwards the convent had to buy at 3*s.* and 3*s.* 4*d.* a bushel, so that they were losers by £100. He has sold corn now in sheaf in the abbey manors up to the sum of £40 at less than it is worth, so that little remains in the granges for the maintenance of the canons in the coming year. The goods of the abbey are collected and administered by secular friends of the said Henry, whereas, according to their rule, they should be administered by the canons themselves. The said Henry spends large sums of money at the Court of Rome, and for no reason, because no one has a suit against him there. He has cut down and sold two entire woodlands [silvas], to wit, one at Almondesbury and the other at Groumhale, and has sold a great quantity of wood at Berkele, Horefold, Lye, and Fishide, for £50 and more, which was well worth £100. For fear of the said Henry, Walter Chiltenham, elect of the abbey, John atte Wode, the prior, John Darby, and Hugh Stonhouse, canons, have withdrawn from the abbey, and are now dwelling in other places. The said Henry has sold the tithes in the green [in viridi], to wit, the tithes of Asschulworth, Stone, Ailberton, Kyngesweston, Bradeston, Hulle, and other parcels, amounting to a large sum, at a small price. He exacted the sum of £90 from the canons of the said abbey, under pain of incarceration or expatriation or migration, and this under cover of the royal power [potencia regali], so that some of them are still in debt, and some are bound to celebrate for divers souls. He has sold 12 yoke of oxen, to wit, 2 at Asschelworth, 2 at Berkele, one at Groumhale, 2 at Almondesbury, 2 at Horefeld, 2 at Lye, and one at Goderyngton, so that where there used to be 3 ploughs there is now but one. For 2 years past he has supplied the canons with carcasses of beasts putrid and infected with murrain. He has sold the plough-oxen in Bristol market, to wit, at Martinmas last past, to the value of £50. All the money belonging to the abbey he has taken into his own hands, and disposes of it at his own pleasure, without the assent of the convent. Notwithstanding all these things, the abbey is £100 and more deeper in debt than at the time of the appointment of the said Henry, although £31 of the debt has been forgiven them by honest men. Unless a speedy remedy be applied, the whole abbey will be brought to destruction.

St. Martin's Chapel, Gloucester.

Inquisition taken before the abovesaid escheator, 20th March, 45 Edward III [1371], by the oath of Walter Markeleye, Roger Receiuor, Vincent le Botiller, William Bodenham, William Bele, Thomas Besaunt, William Stevenes, John Passemere, Thomas Bars, John Bin [?], Thomas Laurence, and Peter Pecke, who say that

A certain plot of ground in the King's vill of Gloucester, on which the chapel of St. Martin was built, which land is now empty, was not alienated in mortmain, because the said chapel was built on the King's soil next the highway of the vill aforesaid, with the licence of the King or his progenitors, by some one whose name is not now known. This chapel was annulled by William, late Bishop of Worcester, now Archbishop of Canterbury. The ground is now empty, and no one occupies it. It is 72 feet long by 24 feet broad. If occupied, it would be worth 12*d.* a year; as it is, it is worth nothing. The King alone has the right to have the said ground; it would be no damage to anyone if he made a grant of it to some person.

Joan who was wife of William de Whityngton.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 7th December, 46 Edward III [1372], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of the same jurors as in the last, who say that

The said Joan held in her demesne as of fee from the King in chief, on the day she died, the manor of Stokearcher, by the service of finding the King one archer for forty days in time of war in England at her own expense.

There is a capital messuage there worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; a garden, the herbage of which is worth 2s.; 2 carucates of land, worth 20s.; 4 acres of meadow for mowing, worth 8s., when mown; £8 of rents of assize of free and customary tenants, payable at the Feasts of the Annunciation and St. Michael in equal portions.

She died 24th September, 43 Edward III [1369]. Thomas de Cobbeleye, her son and heir, is aged 21 and more. William Auncell, the King's late escheator, occupied the said manor and took the profits thereof from the time of her death until the 11th of February then following, on which day the King granted the custody thereof to Richard Ruyhale, of the county of Gloucester, until the lawful age of the heir, at an annual rent of £10.

Aymer le Botiller.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before the abovesaid escheator, 12th April, 46 Edward III [1372], by the oath of Robert Passemor, John Jones, William Matteson, William Gerald, John Tyrell, John Reve, John Richeman, John Thedulf, John Granger, John Symondes, William Ingeleys, and John Droys, who say that

It will be no damage to the King or any other to allow Aymer le Botiller to enfeoff his son Thomas and Katherine, sister of the said Thomas, and the heirs of Katherine, with one virgate of land in Brewerne and Sondhurst, to remain, in default of issue to Katherine, to John le Botiller of Tudenham, in tail, and the right heirs of the said Aymer successively. The land is held of the King in chief by the service of doing fealty [and] suit of court at King's Bertone next Gloucester every three weeks, and a rent of 12d. payable into the Exchequer in equal portions at Easter and Michaelmas by the lands of the sheriff of the county. It is worth 20s. a year. The said Aymer will retain a messuage, one virgate of land, and 40 acres of meadow in Brewerne and Sondhurst, held of Edward, Prince of the Marches [sic] of Wales, as of the honour of Walyngford, by the service of 15d. yearly and suit of court at the Hundred of Chyryngton, worth 6os. a year.

Proof of Age of Thomas de Cobberleye, son and heir of Joan, who was wife of William de Whityngton, deceased.

Proof taken at Cobberleye, 6th . . . 47 Edward III [1373-4], before the abovesaid escheator.

[John Pope], aged 60, says the said Thomas was 21 on Monday next after the Feast of St. Dennis, 46 Edward III [1372], and was born at Cobberleye and baptized in the church of that town, and this he remembers, because he was in the said church when the said Thomas was baptized, burying William Pope, his father.

Walter Levyot, aged 56, remembers the date of the baptism, because on that day he set out for St. Iago [sanctum Jacobum].

William Haselton, aged 54, remembers the date, because he married his wife, Maud de Stowe, on the same day.

John Monemouth, aged 52, was making an account with the proctors of the said church on the day of the said baptism, with regard to the repairs thereof.

John Heved . . . , Thomas Gesant, and John Ryseley remember the date, because on that day they appeared before the King's Justices of Assize at Gloucester, when John Botiller, uncle of the said Thomas, recovered seisin of a messuage and carucate of land in Cobberleye by virtue of an assize.

John Clement, Walter Bronyng, and Robert Russell were at Gloucester in the train of Thomas de Cobberleye, father of the aforesaid Thomas, when news was brought of the birth of his said son.

Proof of Age of Joan, daughter of John Solers, son of Margaret atte Chaumbre, kinswoman and one of the heirs of Alice atte Chaumbre.

Proof made at Wynchecombe before the abovesaid escheator, 28th June, 47 Edward III [1373].

John Weoleye, aged 50, says that the said Joan was born at Okynton, co. Gloucester, 23rd May, 31 Edward III [1357], and baptized in the church of that town, so that she was 16 on the 24th [sic] of May last. William Solers the elder, Margery Shapstere, and Joan Wydecombe were her godparents. The deponent acquired certain tenements at Caumpedene from William Grynel, from the date of the deed of feoffment of which, which was at Caumpedene, 2nd May, 31 Edward III, he recollects the age of the said Joan.

Richard Webbeleye, aged 54, says that the aforesaid John Weoleye had a son named William, who was made a monk at Teukesbury on the Feast of St. Dunstan next before the birth of the said Joan, and it was thus enrolled in a psalter at Caumpedene on the said feast.

Roger Bailyf, aged 48, says that the said Richard Webbeleye had a son who died on the said 23rd [of May], and this was enrolled in a certain missal.

Robert Prodomme, aged 60, Thomas Cobberley, aged 40, and Ralph Eode, aged 53, recollect the date because the said Thomas Cobberleye acquired certain tenements from Ralph Eode, the deed of feoffment whereof was dated at Wynchecombe on Saturday after the Feast of St. John before the Latin Gate, 31 Edward III.

Nicholas Maltman, aged 46, Robert Spicer, aged 54, and Robert Wotton, aged 40, remember the date, because a difference had arisen between them and John atte Chaumbre, uncle of the said Joan, which was arranged on the second day before her birth.

John Padeslep', aged 50, Nicholas Capmon, aged 49, and William Budel, aged 40, say that the said church of Okyngton was interdicted on account of the shedding of blood there, and all services there suspended, except for the baptizing of children, and on the 20th of

May preceding the birth of the said Joan it was reformed and reconciled by the Bishop of Worcester.

John Sergeant of Stone.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 9th November, 47 Edward III [1373], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John Bastard, William Purlewent, William Modebrok, Richard Goleymyn, Thomas Skay, John Fromelode, John le Mon, Robert Broun, William Baker, Richard Aleyn, James Wyth', and Richard Galyen, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow John Sergeant of Stone to assign 5 messuages, 16 acres of land, and one acre of meadow in Hamme and Alkynton to a chaplain to celebrate in the chapel of Stone for the said John and his ancestors every day for ever. The messuages are worth 5*s.* a year, the land 5*s. 4d.*, the meadow 18*d.* They are all held of Thomas de Berkele, Lord of Berkele, by knight service. There would still remain to the said John a messuage and a carucate of land in Stone, held as above, and worth 40*s.* a year.

Peter de Wodemancote, clerk, and others.

Inquisition taken at Tewkesbury before the abovesaid escheator, 29th June, 47 Edward III [1373], by the oath of Robert Carent, John Mountefort, William Scot, Walter Galeys, John Poleyn, Walter Mundy, Walter Guyge, Richard Athelam, Richard Pen, Richard Kene, Richard Cole, and Richard Rayor, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Peter de Wodemancote, clerk, Nicholas de Wasshebourne, and Walter de Hereforton, chaplains, to assign a messuage, one virgate of land, and 10 acres of meadow in Forthampton to the Abbot of Tewkesbury, to celebrate daily in the church of St. Mary of Tewkesbury for the said Peter and Nicholas and their ancestors. The premises are held of the Prior of Great Malvern by the service of 20*s.* a year, and are worth 13*s. 4d.* a year clear. The said Prior is intermediary between the King and the said

Peter and Nicholas. There will remain to them land sufficient to include them in assizes, juries, etc., held of the said Prior by the service of 10*s.* a year.

Alice, Margery, and Elizabeth de Bentham and William de Acton.

Inquisition taken at Wynchecumbe on Thursday after the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 47 Edward III [1373], before the escheator abovesaid, by the oath of John Wile, Robert Spiser, Ralph Ede, Thomas Bisshop, Thomas Prodhumme, Thomas Ase, Thomas Brounyng, Richard William, Richard Webley, Henry Studley, William Brokempton, and Richard Suwar, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Alice, Margery, and Elizabeth de Bentham to enfeoff William Solers of Bristol with one-fourth part of 3 messuages and 2½ virgates of land in Weston under Egge; and William de Acton to enfeoff him with another fourth part thereof. The premises are held of the King, and are worth 7*s.* a year. The grantors would retain no lands beyond this assignment.

Roger Bavent.

Writ dated 27th August, 47 Edward III [1373], addressed to the sheriffs, etc., setting forth that on 1st July, 18 Edward III [1344], Roger Bavent granted to the King all his manors, knights' fees, etc., in England and Wales. It is reported that certain men have unjustly occupied the manor of Nebule in county Gloucester, and other manors formerly belonging to the said Roger, and have driven out a number of the bond tenants, seizing their goods and chattels. The King has assigned the Priors of Ewenny and Kylpekk, John de Wynston, Henry ap Johan, John de Wonsey, Walter Reyny, Garald Vaghan, Ralph de Mynstreton, and William le Eyr, jointly and severally to inquire concerning the truth thereof. The sheriffs, etc., are to be aiding and assisting to the commissioners.

The inquisition is taken at Ewias Harold, co. Hereford, 13th December, 47 Edward III [1373]. With regard to Nebule the jurors say that Michael le H . . r held that manor of Roger Bavent, chivaler, as of his manor of Moltestone next Ewias Harold, but by what service they do not know.

Thomas, son of Robert de Bradeston.

Inquisition taken at Neweport, 31st May, 48 Edward III [1374], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John Archer, William Modbrok, John Bastard, Thomas Purlewent, John Botiller, Walter Toyt', Richard Gylmyn, Richard Cook, Laurence Caumpe, Richard Corbet, John Hambrok', and John Tony, who say that

The manor of Wynterbourne came into the King's hands after the death of Thomas de Bradeston, and so remains by reason of the minority of Thomas, son of Robert de Bradeston, son of Thomas de Bradeston, kinsman and heir of the said Thomas de Bradeston, deceased. It is held of John fitz Estevene by knight service.

There is a capital messuage in the said manor, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; a garden likewise worth nothing; a dovecot worth 4*od.*; 2 carucates of land, worth 20*s.* when they are sown, and they were sown this year before the death of the said Thomas, son of Robert, and after the corn is reaped they are worth nothing, because they lie in common. There are 25 acres of meadow, worth 25*s.*, when they can be mown, and after mowing they lie in common till the Feast of the Purification every year. There are £9 14*s.* 2*d.* rents of assize of free and customary tenants, payable at the usual quarter days in equal portions. There is a customary rent of 5*s.* called 'Larderselver,' payable at Martinmas. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 6*s.* 8*d.*

Robert Mordak, parson of Wynterbourne, and Robert Coyne, parson of Somerford Mauduyt, granted the said manor and the advowson of the church to Thomas de Bradeston and Agnes, his wife, in tail male, with contingent remainder to Robert and John de Bradeston in tail male successively, under a fine levied in the King's court. Thomas, son of Robert de Bradeston, has died without issue male, and the said Thomas and Agnes are likewise dead without heir male. The manor ought therefore to remain to Edmund de Bradeston, son and heir of John de Bradeston.

Thomas, son of Robert, died on Tuesday before the Feast of St. Dunstan last past. His daughter Elizabeth is next heir of the blood, but not of the said manor, and is aged 8 months.

Filed with this inquisition is a copy of the record of the fine above referred to, levied in Trinity Term, 26 Edward III [1352].

Another inquisition, taken at the same time as the former one, finds that Sir Thomas de Bradeston, son of Robert de Bradeston, held the manor of Bradeston from Thomas de Berkeley, Lord de Berkeley, by the service of 17*s.* and suit of court.

There is a capital messuage there, worth nothing beyond the reprises; 2 carucates of land, worth 20*s.* when sown, and two-thirds thereof were sown this year before the death of the said Thomas, and after the harvest they are worth nothing, because they lie in common; the remaining third is worth nothing, because it is lying fallow and in common. There are 10 acres of meadow, worth 7*s. 6d.*; 7 acres of pasture, worth 2*d.* Rents of assize of free tenants £6 15*d.*, payable at the four usual quarter days.

He also held the manor of Stynchescombe from the said Thomas de Berkeley, by the service of 13*s. 4½d.* and suit twice a year at the Hundred of Berkeley. There are two messuages in the said manor and one toft, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; a dovecot, worth 1*d.* a year; 3 carucates of land, two-thirds of which are worth 30*s.* when sown, and they were so sown this year; the remaining third is worth nothing [as above]. There are 20 acres of meadow, worth 10*s.*; 6 acres of pasture, worth 2*s.* Rents of assize of free tenants £10 12*s. 5d.*, payable as above.

He also held a messuage and a virgate of land in Erlyngham from John atte Yate, John Thornhulle, and Thomas Westmancote, by the service of 5*s.* The messuage is worth nothing a year beyond the reprises, and the land 10*s.*

At Herton he held a messuage, 4 virgates of land, 10 acres of meadow, and 30*s.* rents of assize of free tenants payable as above, from Nicholas Louthe, lord of Herton, by the service of 32*s.* a year. The messuage is worth nothing beyond the reprises; the land 13*s. 4d.*, the meadow 10*s.*

At Tydryngton he held 8 acres of meadow from William de Glynton, by the service of doing fealty, worth 6*s. 8d.* a year; and 2 acres of meadow in Ichynton from the Bishop of Worcester, by the service of doing fealty, worth 1*d.*

Elizabeth, his daughter and heir, is aged 8 months.

Gilbert Gyssard, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 31st January, 48 Edward III [1374], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Walter Sevarne, John Mattesden, William Gerald, John Richeman, John Brockeworth,

John Droys, William Mattesden D[roys], Robert Passemor, William Ingeleys, John Jones, John Frankton, and John Uphatherleys, who say that

The said Gilbert Gyffard held of the King in chief the manor of Kyngeshome next Gloucester, in right and of the inheritance of his wife Elizabeth, by the service of keeping the entrance of the King's pantry on his coronation day. It is worth 66*s.* 8*d.* a year. He also held from the Abbot of St. Peter's, Gloucester, by knight service, one messuage and carucate of land in Matisdon next Upton St. Leonard, in right of his wife (as above), worth 40*s.*; also the manor of Cromhale from Thomas de Berkele, Lord de Berkele, worth . . .

The said Gilbert died abroad 10th October [the Oxford inquisition says 1st December] last. John Gyffard, his cousin and heir, is of full age.

Thomas le Rous.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 8th June, 48 Edward III [1374], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John Upcote, Walter Sevarne, Nicholas le Vey, Walter de Marcle, Walter Wynter, John Jones, John Freman, Walter Maynard, John Brokworth, Peter Cappe, William Gerold, and Peter Heynes, who say that

Thomas le Rous held the manor of Harsecombe from the King in chief by the service of one-fourth of a knight's fee. There is a capital messuage there, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; a garden, worth 40*d.*; a dovecote, worth 40*d.*; one carucate of land, worth 6*s.* 8*d.*; 4 acres of meadow, worth 4*s.*; 30 acres of wood, the underwood of which is worth 6*s.* 8*d.*; £8 2*s.* of rents of assize payable in equal portions at the Feasts of the Annunciation and St. Michael. He held also at Harsecombe one messuage called 'le Orchard', worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; one carucate of land, worth 6*s.* 8*d.*; and 6 acres of meadow, worth 6*s.*, from the Abbot of St. Peter's, Gloucester, farmer of the King's Berton next Gloucester, as of the said Berton, by the service of doing suit at the court of the Berton aforesaid.

The said Thomas died on Saturday after the Feast of St. Stephen, 32 Edward III [1358]. Julian, his daughter and heir, now wife of Andrew Herle, is aged 20 and more. Robert de Kendale and Maud, his wife, have taken the profits of the premises since the death of the said Thomas, by what title the jurors do not know.

Thomas de la Ryvere, son and heir of Richard de la Ryvere.

Inquisition taken at Sodbury, 11th April, 48 Edward III [1374], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Thomas le Vaire, Henry Weston, Richard Cook, Thomas Perys, Lawrence Caumpe, John Hambroke, William Richard, Thomas Elys, Thomas Whitemor, Robert Richard, John Porter, and Geoffrey Hampstude, who say that

The said Thomas, being within age and in the custody of the King, held in his demesne as of fee on the day he died, of the King in chief, the hamlet of Sturdene next Bristol, in socage, by the service of paying 15*s.* to the King's exchequer by the hands of the sheriff of Gloucester at Michaelmas. In this hamlet there is a capital messuage with a curtilage, worth 12*d.* a year; a dovecot, worth 2*s.*; 2 acres of wood, the underwood of which is worth nothing this year, because it was cut last year. There are 15*s.* rents of free tenants, payable at Michaelmas.

The said Thomas held in his demesne as of fee at Heenton one messuage, worth nothing beyond the reprises; 2 carucates of land, worth half a mark and not more, because they are lying uncultivated and in common; 10 acres of meadow, worth 10*s.*; 6*s.* rents of bond and free tenants, payable at the four usual quarter days. These tenements are held of Maurice, son of Ralph Russel, by the service of 2*s.* He also held a water-mill called "Glassepull mull", worth 26*s.* 8*d.*, from the King in chief as parcel of Warresplace of (de) Bristol, by the service of 6*d.* a year.

The said Thomas died 14th March last past. Joan, wife of Richard Prior of Wycombe, daughter of Thomasine, sister of the said Thomas's father, is his next heir, and is aged 24 and more.

John Trillowe, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Cirencester before the abovesaid escheator, 8th May, 48 Edward III [1374], by the oath of Robert Cotes, Thomas Juyn, Andrew atte Halle, Walter Bruin, William Grey, Walter Solers, Nicholas Edolf, William Pedworth, William Spekke, William Heryng, William George, and Thomas Goldsmyth, who say that

The said John Trillowe held of the King in chief the manor of Nethersodynton, in right of Joan, his late wife deceased, by the law of England, by the service of one-third of a knight's fee. There is a capital messuage there, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; a dovecot, worth 2s.; 2 carucates of land, worth 10s.; 20 acres of meadow, worth 20s.; £6 13s. 4d. rents of assize of free and customary tenants, payable at the four usual quarter days. The pleas and perquisites of the courts there are worth 4d.

Elizabeth, wife of John de Barndesleye, daughter of Roger, son of Joan, daughter of Edmund, brother of John, father of Geoffrey, father of Geoffrey, father of the aforesaid Joan, wife of John de Barndesleye [sic], is next heir of the said Joan, and is aged 22 and more. John Barndesley married the said Elizabeth before the death of the said Joan, and they have issue. The date of John Trillowe's death is not recorded.

William de Wotton.

Inquisition taken at Wynchcombe, 17th July, 48 Edward III [1374], under a writ addressed to the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Thomas Wotton, William James, Robert Grant, Thomas Ase, John Knelle, Thomas Brounyng, Nicholas Mokel, John Arkel, John Ailward, John Brasil, Walter Heyward, and Nicholas Hymeyne, who say that

William de Wotton held of the King in chief in his demesne as of fee 2 messuages, 2½ virgates of land, and 2 [acres] of meadow in Grete and Greton, by the service of doing the King fealty. The messuage is worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; the land 2s. 6d. and not more, because it lies on the hills; the meadow is worth only 10d. for the same reason, so that sometimes it is mown and sometimes not.

The said William died on Monday after the Feast of St. Nicholas, 42 Edward III [1368]. John, his son and heir, is aged 50 and more.

Ela, who was wife of Thomas, son of Robert de Bradeston, chivaler.

HORTON.

Assignment of dower to the said Ela, made before the said escheator, 15th July, 48 Edward III [1374], in the presence of Richard Lescrope, chivaler.

The said escheator assigned to her one-third of the house there called 'Incethous' towards the south, one-third of a grange in bad state, towards the north, one-third of an oxhouse there, with ‘bakehous’ and ‘cartehous’ at the end, towards the north; one-third of a ‘gatehouse’ in bad condition, towards the west. Of arable land 29 acres 1 rood, lying in divers furlongs, to wit, 2 acres in Baddeputt, one acre in ‘Cuteforlang’, one in ‘Middelforlang’, one in Standelf, one acre called ‘la Gore’, 2 acres under Tweyberihull, half an acre in Riforlang, 2 acres beyond Mersshwey, 2½ acres in Mersshforlang, 3 acres in Saltwell, half an acre in Litelchastel, 4½ acres in Walmerlond, 2 acres in Rexway-forlong, 3 acres in Langlond, 2 acres in Longarston, one at Charwell. Also a close of meadow called Bridcroft, containing 5 acres; a close of pasture called ‘le grove’, containing 2 acres. Likewise the following rents, viz. 8d. from the free rent of Cicely Hodgeking for a croft which she holds in fee; 3s. 5½d. from 10 acres held at will by Nicholas Crowbrig.

The said Ela is to pay 6s. 8d. yearly to the chief lord of Horton, being the share which belongs to her dower of the 32s. 2d. paid yearly to the said lord for all the lands and tenements which belonged to Thomas de Bradeston in Horton.

The escheator also assigned her 3½ acres of meadow in Brodemore in the manor of Teteryngton, worth 6s. 8d.

BRADESTON.

Assignment made as above, 9th July, 48 Edward III [1374].

The escheator assigned her one-third of the messuage, to wit, the knight’s chamber with the wardrobe annexed, with two squires’ chambers under one roof, and all the rooms underneath them [suis subcameris], together with the room over the inner gate to the said chambers annexed, with all the grange adjoining, with a stable, oxhouse, the stable next the outer gate, and all the aforesaid outer gate, with all the houses built over the said gates or annexed thereto. Also a small grove called ‘le home park’, with the orchard adjoining on the east side, the grove abutting on the high street. Also 70 acres of arable land in the field of Beoles, to wit, 17 acres in Hongarston furlong there, 3 acres in another furlong, 16 acres in Bolerydyng, 9 acres in Boeles orchard, 12 acres in Holcroft, 3 acres in Cullewik, 5 acres in Boelyhull, and 4 acres in the upper part of a field called ‘le Ridyng’, towards the west next ‘la Sandpuit’ there. Also one [?] acre of meadow in the meadow called ‘Bolerudyng’, and 6 acres of meadow in Longacres; a pasture called Beriale, containing 8 acres, and another called Oteleye, containing 3 acres. He assigned her likewise 4s. 10d. free rents, to wit, from John Man 6d., from John Fryg 6d., from the wardens of Bradeston chantry 3s. 4d., from Richard Adelyns 4d., from Thomas Hollyng 1d., and from Thomas Wrench 1d. He further assigned to the said Ela atte Welle, worth 2s. 4d. a year, and a croft formerly Basilia’s, in the tenure of

William atte Grene, worth 6*d.* a year; also 1*½d.* yearly out of 2*½* acres in the tenure of John Frig, and 2*s.* 9*d.* out of a messuage and 8 acres of land, which John Faireford holds for the lives of himself and his wife Alice, by feoffment of the last Thomas de Bradeston, made before he married the said Ela, which Thomas died within age. The escheator also assigned to the said Ela the third of the curtilage towards the north, lying next the chantry close, and one-third of the profits of the great pond and other waters in reeds and in fishing, and one-third of the advowson of the chantry of a free chapel there.

ERLINGHAM.

Assignment made as above, 10th July, 1374. The escheator assigned to the said Ela 7 ridges [selleones] of land in the tenure of John Whitsonde, to wit, two lying on 'la lynche' next the land of Walter Milton, one between the land of Walter and Robert Milton, shooting upon Pulshammesweye, two lying together in Langemerssh next the land of William de Erlingham in Middelforlang, another in the same forlang between the land of John Bolgarston and Walter de Milton, and another in the same next the land of William de Erlyngham, shooting upon Glasemerestrete. Also 5 ridges in the tenure of John Bolgarston, to wit, 3 in Glasmerssh between the land formerly Walter Wygth's and that of William de Erlyngham, one in the same field between the land of Robert Bailly and Stephen Whitsonde, and another on Rydon between the land of Richard Clifford and John Forester. Also 2 parcels of meadow, one in Westmerssh next the meadow formerly Walter Wygth's on the south, and the other in Cornforlang, between the meadows of John Bolgarston and William de Erlyngham. Also 16 ridges of land in the tenure of William Hughet, 9 thereof lying in parcels in Westmerssh and 4 in Westwall', one in the field called Warch' and 2 in the field called Bynetheton. And 3 ridges in the tenure of Walter Hikeman in Syndrich, between the two moors of Astmerssh, 2 ridges at Cadelestyghel, and 2 at Glasmerssh.

STYNDESCOMBE.

Assignment made as above, 28th June, 1374.

The escheator assigned to the said Ela one-third of the manor, to wit, in the messuage of the Court [mesuag' Cur'] formerly David de Melksham's, the high chamber there with the chimney at the south end of the hall roofed with stones, with the kitchen annexed to a chamber at the north end of the said hall, with a henhouse over the bakehouse, and pigsty annexed. Also one-third of the oxhouse at the east end, and the grange called 'Godewynesbern', roofed with straw. The waggon-house in the same court to be in common. He also assigned her one-third of the dovecot of Melkesham, with the charge [cum onere], and a sheepfold in the court formerly Peter de Styndescombe's, roofed with stones, and one-third of the grange there towards the west, roofed with straw, and one-third of the dovecot there, with the charge. Also all the close called Styndescombes orchard. Of arable land in the Northfeld he assigned to the said Ela $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres in Ryforlang, one acre called Horscroftacre, $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres lying in 3 parcels at Sloogh, one acre at Nyweburghestoppe, one acre in 2 parcels at Sandacrecrosse, one acre called Hevedeacre, one acre of land called Mayster Davidysacre, one acre called Wytherstop-acre, one acre abutting on Sellewyn's land, 3 'buttes' containing half an acre at Sandacrecrosse, one acre called Northlyngacre, $5\frac{1}{2}$ acres on Crowepen, 7 acres on 'la Toote', one acre abutting on Berkleweye, and half an acre abutting on the land of William Tailor. Also, in severalty, 2 acres in the croft called Wodelst' and 2 acres in Estwodecroft. Of arable land in Westfeld: $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres in Shortlond, $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres at Bourhey, 2 acres at Wowelond, $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres formerly Melksham's lying in Wolverdale, and 3 acres there of the land formerly Peter Styndescombe's, 2 acres under 'les leesacres', one acre at Homede, 4 acres in the furlong called Redepury, 6 acres in 'la langeryge', $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres in Holley, half an acre on Westhulle, and one acre in Boele. Edmund, son and heir of Hugh, son of Edmund le Blount.

Proof of age taken at Filton, 4th May, 48 Edward III [1374], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Hugh de Stanton (aged 50), Thomas Burnel (48), Richard Corbet (53), Lawrence Campe, John Hambroke, Henry Long, Richard Cook (48), William Ricard, Thomas atte Perye, William Lacok, Richard Whitefield (52), and Thomas Gibbes, who say that

The said Edmund, son of Hugh, was born at Filton on the Monday after Michaelmas, 26 Edward III [1352], and baptized in the church there. Hugh de Stanton and Edmund de Filton were his godfathers. Immediately after the birth of the said Edmund, Thomas Burnell and Hugh, the child's father, set out on a pilgrimage to Walsyngham. The four next witnesses remember the date of his birth, because two new bells were hung in the church on that day. The four next were at commons at Winterbourne with Thomas de Bradeston and a number of others sitting at table there, when a message was brought to John de Filton, uncle of the said Edmund, announcing his birth. Whitefield and Gibbes remember the date because John Wilkyns of Filton, who was killed among [cum] thieves, was buried on the same day in the church aforesaid.

Note.—On the writ is endorsed a note of a summons to Thomas Styward, who has no reason to object to livery of the lands, etc., of the said Edmund out of the hands of the said Thomas.

Thomas de Beverston and John Godwot.

Inquisition taken before the abovesaid escheator at Gloucester on Tuesday after Michaelmas, 48 Edward III [1374], by the oath of John Joyce [?], John Wykwyk, Geoffrey Wenebaud, Robert Chalkeleye, John Barbast, John Wodecok, Walter Sevarn, John Mattisdon, John Joyce, John Freman, Robert Passemere, and William Gerald, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Thomas de Beverston and John Godwot to grant 2 messuages and a carucate of land in Gloucester and Haukesbury and the advowson of the chapel of St. Mary of Haukesbury to the Abbot and Convent of St. Peter of Gloucester, to find two tapers to burn for ever at the high altar in the church of the said abbey.

The messuage in Gloucester is held of the Prior of Lanthony next Gloucester by the service of 7*s.* yearly, and is worth 20*s.* The remainder of the premises, in Haukesbury, are held of the Abbot of Pershore by the service of 8*s.*, the messuage and land being worth 13*s. 4d.*, the chapel 20*s.*

The grantors would retain two messuages in Gloucester, held of the Abbot of St. Peter's by the service of 2*s.*; worth 40*s.*

Richard Aubrey of Breghenok.

Inquisition taken before the abovesaid escheator at Gloucester, 27th April, 48 Edward III [1374], by the oath of William Rodberwe, Phillip de Aune, Henry Somerville, Ralph Hathewey, Walter Home, Walter Bougham, John Staure, John Forde of la Newelonde, Geoffrey Beaufitz, John Hikokes, Thomas Chadesleye, and John Bergeseny, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Richard Aubrey of Breghenok to enfeoff Walter de Ocle with his manor of Wellyngton in Neulond. It is held of the King in chief as of his castle of St. Briawell, by the service of paying 44*s. 5d.* at the feasts of Easter and Michaelmas in equal portions. It is worth 20*s.* yearly beyond the reprises. After the said grant no lands, etc., will remain to the said Richard.

Thomas de Berthon.

Inquisition taken at Cirencester on Saturday the Feast of SS. Tiburcius and Valerian, 49 Edward III [1375], before John Sergeant, the King's escheator in the county of Gloucester and the March of Wales adjacent thereto, by the oath of Henry Bordon, Walter Brut, Henry de Penynton, John Dene, William Solens, Nicholas Fyckes, Thomas Shoghe, Robert Sende, John de Berlon, John Quyntrel, William Heryn, and Thomas Juyn, who say that

Thomas de Berton was seised in his demesne as of fee on the day he died, of the manor of Eycote, held of the King, by reason of the temporalities of the Bishopric of Worcester being in his hand, as of the manor of Bybury, by knight service and the payment of 12*d.*, and 6 bushels of corn at Martinmas, with suit of court at the said manor of Bybury twice a year.

There is a capital messuage there with a garden worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; 60 acres of arable land, worth 10*s.* and not more because the land is hilly; 60 acres of arable land worth nothing, because they are lying uncultivated; 5 acres of meadow, worth 10*s.* a year; a parcel of underwood, worth 12*s.*; 2*s.* 1*d.* of the rents of tenants at will. The pleas and perquisites of the court are worth nothing beyond the reprises.

The said Thomas also held a messuage and half a virgate of land in Rodmerton from Henry Bordon by knight service and the payment of 12*d.* a year, worth 4*s.* a year clear.

The said Thomas died on Friday after the Feast of St. Gregory the Pope last past. Thomas, his son and heir, was 11 on the Feast of the Annunciation last past.

Elizabeth, who was wife of Reginald de Cobham.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 4th October, 49 Edward III [1375], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Simon Usk, Henry Semes [?], Robert Sewyn, Thomas Kyng, Richard Lamberd, Thomas Okyngton, Henry Bordon, John Carlton, Thomas atte Halle, John Sprenghose, Richard atte Hyde, and James Clifton, who say that

The said Elizabeth held the manors of Teynton and Bykenore from the King in chief by knight service, jointly with Sir John le Ferers, knight, formerly her husband, in fee tail. The former is worth £6 yearly, the latter £4.

She held also a moiety of the manor of Beggesworth of the Earl of Gloucester by knight service, in dower after the death of Fulk Lestraunge of Blakemere, formerly her husband. It is worth £11 a year. She died 7th August last past. Robert, son of John le Ferers, is next heir of the said John and Elizabeth, and is aged 17. Elizabeth, daughter of John Lestraunge, of Blakemere, brother and heir of Fulk Lestraunge, formerly husband of the said Elizabeth, who was wife of Reginald de Cobham, is next heir of the said Fulk, and was aged one year on the Feast of St. Nicholas last past.

John fitz Nichol.

Lucas, Henry Baret, Nicholas Shipward, John Sparewe, Richard Webbe, William Clerk, John Gamele, John Smyth, and Nicholas Thomas, who say that

The said John fitz Nichol was seised in his demesne as of fee, on the day he died, of the manor of Hulle. There is a capital messuage there with a garden, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; 3 carucates of land, worth 20s.; 10 acres of meadow, worth 13s. 4d.; 3 acres of pasture, worth 4s.; a park and the pasture therein, worth 3s. 4d.; £20 of the rents of free and bond tenants, payable at the four usual quarter days. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 20d.

He was also seised, as above, of the manor of Nymdesfeld, where there is a messuage worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; 2 carucates of land, worth 6s. 8d., and not more because the land is hilly; 5 acres of meadow, worth 6s. 8d.; a parcel of underwood, worth 3s. 4d.; and 26s. 8d. of the rents of free and bond tenants, payable at the terms abovesaid. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 20d. The manor is held of the King by knight service.

They say that Juliana Aleyn held from the said John one toft and one carucate of land at Wyckestowe in Hamme by knight service and the payment of 2s. yearly at the Feast of St. Peter Advincula, and John fitz Nichol held them of Thomas de Berkele, Lord de Berkele, by the same services.

John died 20th July last past. Thomas, son of Reginald fitz Nichol, son of the said John, is his next heir, and is aged 21 and more.

Thomas de Graunson, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Newent before Edmund de Brugge, the King's escheator in the county of Gloucester and the March of Wales thereto adjacent, 19th January, 49 Edward III [1376], by the oath of Nicholas Myle, Richard atte Hulle, Peter Cappe, Thomas Hathewey of Oxenhale, Thomas de Ledynton, Richard Aleyn, William Webbe, William Sheyl, John Drewe, John Pury, Reginald Holle, and John Staverton, who say that

The said Thomas held of the King in chief on the day he died, in his demesne as of fee, the manor of Dymmok, of the King's ancient demesne, by the service of paying the King 1d. at Christmas. There are no buildings or demesne lands in the said manor, but there are 6 acres of meadow there worth 9s. when mown; there is a water-mill worth half a mark yearly, and not more because it is ruinous; £26 of rents of assize, payable at the four usual quarter days. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 13*s.* 4*d.*

The said Thomas held also the manor of Oxenhale in fee tail to him and the heirs of his body, from Edmund Mortimer, Earl of March, as of the inheritance of Geoffrey de Genevyle, by the service of half a knight's fee. There is a capital messuage there, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; a curtilage, worth 6*d.*; a dovecot, worth 4*d.*; one carucate of arable land, two-thirds of which are worth 16*s.* when sown, and after the corn harvest they lie in common, and the other third lies fallow every year and in common. There are 6½ acres of meadow, worth 9*s.* 9*d.*, and after mowing they lie in common till the Feast of the Purification. There is a park, the underwood [sic, ?herbage] of which is worth nothing beyond the upkeep of the game, and there is no underwood. There is another out [forinsecus] underwood [sic], the underwood of which is worth 4*d.*, and the pasture nothing, because it lies in common throughout the year. There is £6 2*s.* of the rents of free and bond tenants, payable at the Feasts of St. Michael and the Annunciation. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 12*d.* a year.

The said Thomas died on Monday after the Feast of All Saints [last past]. The jurors do not know who is his next heir.

A second inquisition, taken under a writ dated 1st February, 50 Edward III [1376], directing a return to be made of the heir, by the oath as well of the jurors in the previous inquisition as of other honest and lawful men, finds that the said Thomas de Graunson held the manor of Dymmok as aforesaid, which manor together with 46*s.* 3*d.* rents in the manor and vill of Dertford, co. Kent, Edward I by his charter granted to William de Grandisson and Sybil, his wife, father and mother of Oto, father of the aforesaid Thomas, in exchange for the manors of Ihamme and Idenn in co. Sussex. It is now found that William de Montague, Earl of Salisbury, is cousin and one heir of the said Thomas, to wit, son of Katherine, one of the sisters of the said Oto, and is now aged 40 and more. John Northwode, chivaler, of Kent, is cousin and another heir of the said Thomas, to wit, son of Roger, son of Agnes, another sister of the said Oto, and is aged 30 and more. Alice, wife of Thomas Wake of Blisworth, chivaler, aged 50, and Katherine, who was wife of Robert Todenhham, chivaler, aged 50, are third and fourth daughters of Mabel, the third sister of the said Oto, and are also heirs of the said Thomas de Graunson.

Margaret, who was wife of Robert Hunteley.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 24th November, 49 Edward III [1375], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John de Aure, John de Staunton, John de Ketford, John Wythur, Henry de Aure, Thomas Gamage, Ralph Hathewy, John de Staure, John Hemmyng, Walter Maledson, Edward Whyte, and William de Wyke, who say that

The said Margaret held in her demesne as of fee simple a messuage at Abbenhale, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises, and a carucate of land there worth 40*d.* and not more because it lies uncultivated and in common; also 100*s.* rent (payable at the four usual quarter days) at Little Dene next Abbenhale. They are held of the King in chief by the service of one-tenth of a knight's fee, and a rent of 30*s.* at Michaelmas. Her husband survives, having had issue by her, so that he ought to hold the premises by the law of England.

The said Margaret died on Sunday after Michaelmas last. John Greydore, her son by her former husband, Laurence Grendore, is her next heir, and is aged 19.

John de Hastings, Earl of Pembroke.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Monday before the Feast of St. Dunstan, 49 Edward III [1375], before John Sergeant, the King's escheator in the county of Gloucester, by the oath of John de Aure, Henry de Aure, Thomas Bray, William Bray, Walter Horne, Ed . . . Blideslowe, Thomas Pulesd . . . , Thomas Smyth, Henry Roberd, John atte Feld, Richard Cornowe, and Richard Foxle, who say that

The said Earl and Anne, his wife, who survives, held for a term of forty years by demise of Margaret Marschall, Lady de Segrave, the castle and lordship of Sturguyll, the town of Chepestowe, and the manor of Todenhamb in the county aforesaid, which term began on the 12th July, 46 Edward III [1372]. They are worth 100 marks a year.

The Earl died 16th April last. John, son of the said Earl and Countess, his next heir, was aged 2 at Martinmas last past.

Note.—The inquisition as to fees held by the said Earl in Gloucester and the adjacent March are all in what is now Wales, except Bevereston, where William de . . . holds one-tenth part of a fee, and Weston, where William de Staunton [?] and Matthias Wogan hold 2½ fees. (Inquisition in bad state.)

Joan, who was wife of Walter del Isle.

Inquisition taken at Cirencester, 20th November, 49 Edward III [1375], before Edmund de Brugge, escheator in the county of Gloucester, by the oath of William de Chakford, William de Loderugge, William de Frompton, Walter de Lydeneye, Richard Blisse, Roger Hathemor, Thomas Gybbe, John Saundres, John Goter, Robert Veleyn, William Cartere, and John Chaddewelle, who say that

The said Joan held with the said Walter, formerly her husband, to them and the heirs of the said Walter, a moiety of the manor of Saperton, with the advowson of the church of a moiety of the manor, from the King in chief by the service of one-fourth of a knight's fee. The buildings in the said moiety are worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; there is a dovecote, worth 2*s.*; one carucate of land worth 4*od.*, and not more because it lies uncultivated and in common; one acre of meadow, worth 1*2d.*; 1*2* acres of several pasture, worth 3*s.*; a wood, the underwood of which is worth 4*od.*; 46*s.* of the rents of free and bond tenants, payable at the Feasts of St. Thomas the Apostle, the Annunciation, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and St. Michael in equal portions. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 2*s.*

The said Joan likewise held for term of her life a moiety of the manor of Great Rysyndon, with the advowson of the church of a moiety of the manor, of the King in chief by the service of paying 2*s.* yearly to the King's exchequer by the hands of the sheriff of Gloucester every Michaelmas, and by doing fealty to the King for the same. The buildings are worth nothing beyond the reprises; there is one carucate of land, worth 6*s. 8d.*; 9 acres of meadow, worth 6*s.*; 53*s. 4d.* of the rents of free and bond tenants, payable at the Feasts of the Annunciation and St. Michael in equal portions. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 4*od.*

The said Joan died on Wednesday after the Feast of SS. Simon and Jude last past. William del Isle, son of Walter and Joan, is next heir of the said Walter, and is 24 and more.

Joan, daughter and heir of Richard Haym.

The said Joan has sued for livery of her lands, held by knight service of Humphrey de Bohun, kinsman and heir of Humphrey de Bohun, late Earl of Hereford, deceased, now a ward to the King, which lands are in the custody of Richard de Lutteleye by the King's commission, till the said Joan be of age.

Inquisition taken at Wynchcombe before John Sergeant, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, on Tuesday next after the Feast of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, 49 Edward III [1375]. The jurors say that the said Joan is aged 18 and more. She was born at Southam on the Vigil of St. Lawrence, 31 Edward III [1357], and baptized on the same day by Geoffrey Whyte, chaplain, in the parish church there, her godparents being John Tailler of Clyve, Joan, late wife of John A . . ., and . . . (names quite illegible). John Lorewynch, aged 40, remembers, the date, because he married his wife Margery on the same day, and saw Joan baptized. William Agmondesham, aged 58 [?], remembers, because, in going home from the church that day, he fell and broke his leg. John atte Halle, aged 60, remembers, because the aforesaid chaplain struck him on the head with a stick that day, and broke his head. William Channon, aged 50, had a son Richard [?] confirmed by the Bishop on the same day that the said Joan was born. Nicholas Smyth, aged 39, fetched the water to the church for baptizing the said Joan, and in drawing it fell into the well [fontem]. Thomas Sampson (37), Thomas Smythe (43), and John Taillor (54) were in a house belonging to the said John, upon which the wind [?] suddenly blew, wrecking [?] it entirely that day. John Wetherde (56) says that that day his wife Alice bore his eldest son John. Nicholas Fisshe (64) says his son Nicholas died that same day. Robert Umfray (43) was servant of the said John Taillor of Clyve, and was present in the church with his master when the said Joan was baptized. Adam Wayte (58) says that his father Robert . . . the same day. Richard Lutteleye acknowledges that the said Joan is of full age.

Joan, who was wife of John Trillowe.

Inquisition taken at Cirencestre on Friday after the Feast of St. Luke, 49 Edward III [1375], before John Sargeant, the King's escheator in the county of Gloucester, by the oath of Henry Somerville, Henry Bordoun, Robert Cotes, John Caumpe, John Hupcote, Nicholas le Vey [sic], Thomas Tresham, Walter Brut, Andrew atte Halle, William Hugun, William Solers, and John Dene, who say that

The said Joan held in her demesne as of fee, on the day she died, of the King in chief by the service of one knight's fee, the manor of Netherludynton, worth £20 a year.

The said Joan died on Monday next after the Feast of SS. Simon and Jude, 42 Edward III [1368]. John Worthe, chivaler, son of Beatrice, daughter of Eva, daughter of Christine de Langelegh, sister of John de Langelegh, father of Geoffrey de Langelegh, father of Geoffrey, father of the said Joan, is her next heir, and is aged 26 and more.

After the death of the said Joan, John de Peyto, chivaler, entered into a moiety of the said manor, and took the profits thereof for two whole years, without title, they say; and after that John de Trillowe, late husband of the said Joan, entered into the said moiety and occupied it for his life, to wit, for four years following, as tenant by the law of England by reason of issue born to him by the said Joan. After his death John de Berdesle and Elizabeth, his wife, entered into the manor without title, and have occupied it for a whole year.

Inquisition taken at Stowe St. Edward on Friday before the Feast of St. Parnell the Virgin, 49 Edward III [1375], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John Kyrkeby, Martin de Corton [?], John Blondel, William Stephenes, Hugh Bisseybury, Henry atte Halle, Thomas Rumden, Walter Pauncefot, Robert Jolyf, Walter Jolyf, John Floure, and Henry Chestre, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow John le Rous of Raggeleye, William Gylle, clerk, William Alewy, and Richard Patty, chaplains, to assign the manor of Eyford, the advowson of the church of that manor, one messuage, one toft, 3 virgates, 9 acres, and half a virgate of land, and 6 acres of meadow in Stow St. Edward, Malgaresbury, Burghton, and Wykerysyndon, to the Abbot of Evesham, to hold to him and his successors for ever. The said manor and advowson are held from Agnes Beecy by knight service and one rose yearly; the other premises are held of the said Abbot by knight service and 3*s.* 6*d.* yearly. The manor and advowson are worth 10 marks yearly, the other premises 35*s.* 8*d.*

John Rous would retain 10 librates of land in Weston on Avon, held of the Abbot of Evesham by knight service; William Gylle would still retain 10 marks' worth of land in the manor of Burghton, held in the same way; the two other grantors, tenements in Seynebury to the value of 10*s.* a year held of John . . . es by knight service.

John Chardeburgh and Julian, his wife, and others.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 9th April, 49 Edward III [1375], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John de Aure, Henry de Aure, Thomas Bray, William Bray, Walter Home, Adam Blydeslowe, Thomas Pulesdon, Thomas Smyth, Henry Roberd, John atte Feld, Richard Cornowe, and Richard Foxle, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow the said John and Julian to assign one messuage, one carucate of land, 6 acres of meadow, and 2 acres of wood in Lydeneye and Aylberton, and Walter de Aust and John Gayner of Aylberton, to assign the reversion of 2 messuages, one carucate of land, 6 acres of meadow, and 2 acres of wood in the same vills, after the death of John Steevens and Joan, his wife, to a chaplain to celebrate in the church of Lydeneye for the said John Steevens and Joan, John Chardeburgh and Julian.

The first messuage, one carucate of land, 7 acres of meadow, and 3 acres of wood are held of Sir Gilbert Talbot by knight service, and he holds of the Earl of Warwick; the second messuage, half a carucate of land, and 4 acres of meadow are held of Thomas de Berkeley, Lord de Berkeley, by knight service, and he holds of the Earl of Warwick and Gilbert Talbot; the residue of the premises are held by knight service of the Prior of Lanthony next Gloucester, who holds of the King. The whole is worth 26*s.* 8*d.* a year.

There would still remain to the grantors 2 messuages, one carucate of land, and 6 acres of meadow in Lydeneye, held of the Earl of Warwick by knight service.

Thomas de Graunson, chivaler.

Inquisition [in bad state] taken at Gloucester, 1st December, 51 Edward III, before Edmund de Brugge, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, by the oath of John Gaynere [?], Robert South . . . , John Teste, Richard Cantok, Thomas Fraunceys, . . . Kyng, Robert Thomas, John Hawe, John Harward, and Walter Tournor, who say that . The said Thomas held, on the day he died, the manor of Oxenhale in fee tail from the King by the service of one-fourth of a knight's fee. There is a capital messuage there, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; 2 carucates of land, worth 6*s.*; 10 acres of meadow, the hay of which is worth 20*s.* when mown. There are rents of assize of £7 2*s.* 6*d.*, payable at the four terms of the year. There is a park, in which there are about 30 wild deer [bestie fere], the herbage of which is worth 20*s.* a year. There is a water-mill, worth 8*s.* The pleas and perquisites are worth half a mark. The abovesaid escheator has received the profits of the manor from the said Thomas's death to the day of the taking of this inquisition.

The said Thomas died 18th October, 49 Edward III [1376].

Peter Graunson, chivaler, was seised in his demesne as of fee of the said manor, and therewith enfeoffed William Styntescombe, parson of the church of T . . . , and John de la Hyde, who re-enfeoffed him therewith in tail, with contingent remainders to the aforesaid Thomas de Graunson, deceased, and Elizabeth la Despenser in tail successively. Both Peter and Thomas died without issue. The heir of the said Elizabeth is Guy de Bryen, chivaler, son of Sir Guy de Bryen, knight, son and heir of the said Elizabeth, now aged 24 years and more.

Katherine, who was wife of Andrew Peverel, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 11th September, 50 Edward III [1377], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of William de Chalkford, William de Frompton, Walter de Lydeneye, Robert Chapmon,

William Hokkenale, John Ferner, John Bysrug, Robert de Cotes, John Gernon, Thomas Pipar, Richard Strotford, and John Fraunsom, who say that

The said Katherine held from the King in chief a moiety of the manor of Saperton in dower, by the service of one-fourth part of a knight's fee, by assignment of Henry de Huse, chivaler, son and heir of Henry de Huse, chivaler, deceased, first husband of the said Katherine.

The buildings in the said moiety are worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; there is one carucate of land, worth 4*d.* because it is in common and lies fallow; one acre of meadow, worth 12*d.*; 12 acres of several pasture, worth 3*s.*; a wood, the underwood of which is worth 4*d.*; 4*s.* rents of assize of free and bond tenants, payable at the Feasts of St. Thomas the Apostle, the Annunciation, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and St. Michael, in equal portions. The pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 10*s.* beyond the reprises.

The said Katherine died on Friday after the Feast of St. Luke last past. Henry de Huse, son of her said first husband, is aged 40 and more.

Richard Clyve.

Inquisition taken at Wynchcombe, 12th October, 1 Richard II [1377], before Ralph Waleys, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, by the oath of Thomas Mory, John Frere, John Knyll, Roger Bailly, William Charynworth, John Marche, John Clerk, William Bedull, John Kyng, Richard Keys, John Blithe, and Richard Clerk, who say that

Richard Clyve, of Wynchcombe, held of the King in chief, on the day on which he died, a certain tenement in Wynchcombe, as well in demesne as in service, by the service of paying the King 3*d.* yearly at Michaelmas for the 'Wallegavel' usual in the town of Wynchcombe, by the hands of the bailiff there. It is worth 4*s.* a year.

The said Richard died on Sunday after the Feast of St. Mark, 28 Edward III [1354]. Joan, wife of Ralph Hunt, is his next heir, viz. daughter of his sister Agnes, wife of John Barbour, and is aged 30 and more. Agnes, widow of the said Richard, occupied the premises for nineteen years after his death, by what title they do not know. After her death John Benet, then escheator of Edward III, knowing nothing where [? (unde)] the said Joan was out of the countryside [extra patrum] in parts remote, pretending that the said Richard had died without heir, seised the tenement into the then King's hands.

William Corbet of Chaddesley, co. Worcester.

Inquisition taken at Alveston before the abovesaid escheator, 4th October, 1 Richard II [1377], by the oath of Richard Cantok, Thomas Deyer, William Hayward, John Warde, Roger Corbet, Edward Colier, Walter Bernewater, William Parker, William Addekyns, William Thom', Geoffrey Hoper, and John Alpays, who say that

The said William Corbet held of the King in chief on the day he died 2 parts of the manor of Alveston and Herdecot, and 2 parts of the Hundred of Langeley, by knight service. There are 2 parts of a capital messuage in the said 2 parts of the manor, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; 2 parts of 2 carucates of land, worth 16s. 8d.; 20 acres of meadow, worth 20s.; a pasture, the herbage of 2 parts of which is worth 6s. 8d. every year from the Feast of SS. Philip and James to Michaelmas, and for the rest of the year the pasture is common; a park not enclosed, the herbage of the 2 parts of which is worth 6s. 8d.; 66s. 8d. rents of free and customary tenants, payable at the Feasts of St. Michael, St. Andrew, the Annunciation, and the Nativity of St. John the Baptist. There are there 2 parts of the Hundred of Langley, held every 3 weeks, worth 20s.; the pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 5s.

The said Walter died 25th August last. Margaret Corbet, wife of William Wyriot, is his sister and heir, and aged 25 and more.

One-third of the said manor is in the hands of Alice, who was wife of Peter de Gloucester, who holds in dower, with reversion to the said Margaret.

John, son and heir of John Notelyn.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 19th April, 1 Richard II [1378], before John Lucy, the King's escheator in the counties of Gloucester and Hereford and the Marches of Wales adjacent, by the oath of William in the Felde, William Walsshe, Thomas Lescy, Nicholas atte Mulle, John Freman of Stanleye, Nicholas Mauncel, John Stonhouse, Richard Horwode, Laurence Rusell, John Mey, Henry Maldon, and Robert Taillor of Longeneye, who say that

Two parts of a messuage and of 60 acres of land, one acre of meadow, and 2 acres of wood in King's Stanleye came into the hands of Edward III, on the death of John Notelyn, by reason of the minority of John, his son and heir, who died a ward to the said King; they are in the hands of William Erchebaud, under commission of Edward III. They are worth 17*s.* a year.

John, the son, died 1st April, 51 Edward III [1377]. Hugh, son of Thomas Notelyn, who was brother of John, the father, is his next heir, and is aged 23 and more.

John Poyntz, chivaler.

Inquisition taken before the abovesaid escheator (upon a writ for further information upon an inquisition previously taken by Edmund de Brugge, late escheator) at Gloucester on Saturday after the Feast of Ascension, 1 Richard II [1378], by the oath of John Joye, Geoffrey Wynebaud, Nicholas . . ., Richard Cook, Robert Russel, John Dene, Andrew atte Halle, Robert Serjeant, Thomas Solers, John Malle, Stephen Mareschal, and Robert Chalkeleye, who say that

The 40*s.* rents of assize of free and bond tenants in the manor of Elkeston, which the said John Poyntz held of the King in chief by the service of one-quarter of a knight's fee, are payable yearly at the Feasts of St. Andrew, the Annunciation, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and St. Michael equally; so also are the 46*s.* 8*d.* rents out of four messuages and two virgates of land, which he held of the King as one-sixth of a fee, and likewise the £24 8*s.* 8*d.* rents of assize of free and bond tenants in the manor of Irenactoun, which he held by knight service from Hugh, Earl of Stafford. There are no other issues out of any of the premises payable at certain terms, but they are leviable on divers occasions, as may seem most expedient to the keepers thereof.

The said John died on the Feast of St. Matthias, viz. 24th February, 50 Edward III [1376], and not on the Feast of St. Matthew, viz. 21st September, 49 Edward III [1375]. Robert, his son and heir, was 18 on the Feast of St. Barnabas last past.

William Griffyn of Gloucester.

Extent made before William Crook and John Rusby, bailiffs of the liberty of the town of Gloucester, at Gloucester on Wednesday after the Feast of St. Oswald the Bishop, 2 Richard II [1379], of all the lands, goods, etc., of William Griffyn of Gloucester, who has failed to pay to John de Heillesdon, citizen and mercer of London, £40 according to his recognizance made before William de Walleworth, mayor of the staple of Westminster, 18th January, 47 Edward III [1375]. The writ to the Sheriff of Gloucester includes an order for his arrest, if he be a layman.

The said William Griffyn has a tenement in Gloucester, with 3 shops, which Walter Baysham holds for a term of years at 30s. rent. Thomas Peyntour holds one other tenement in the same town for a term of years at 15s. rent. The said William has another tenement there, which William Fewaryn formerly held in the Butchery [Bocheria] of the said town, worth 18s. a year. John Baldewyn holds another tenement there for term of his life by demise of the said Griffyn, at an annual rent of 5s. Griffyn has also one shop there, held by Thomas Byseley, for a term of years at 22s. rent, and another shop in the Mercery, held by Peter Canon, at a rent of 8s. 4d.; another at the corner of the Mercery next the Cross, worth 10s.; another in 'le Cornchepyng', which Thomas Bysley holds for a term of years at 30s. rent; another near [versus] the Cross, worth 2s. a year. He has also a tenement in the East Street of the same town, in which he himself lives, worth 20s. a year; and a tenement outside the south gate, in the suburbs of the city, worth 10s. He has also goods, to wit, woollen and linen cloths, worth 40d.

William Wyryot.

Inquisition taken at Poukelchurche on Saturday after the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 3 Richard II [!379], before Thomas Lauerens, the King's escheator in co. Gloucester, by the oath of John Kyng, Robert Stanscombe, Thomas Vadur, John Frompton, Laurence Erward, John de Alyngton, Richard Dollyng, Roger Edward, Edmund Halle, Gilbert Belsire, Thomas Adwelle, and John Taylor, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow William Wyryot and Margaret, his wife, to enfeoff John de Brampton, vicar of the church of Thornbury, and Roger de Dene, parson of Siston, with their manors of Alueston and Herdecote and Hundred of Langeleye, which are held of the King in chief, for the purpose of a re-enfeoffment to the said William and Margaret in tail, with contingent remainder to the right heirs of Margaret.

The manor of Alveston and the said Hundred are worth respectively £5 and 40s. yearly, and are held of the King by the service of half a knight's fee; Herdecote is likewise held as half a fee, and is worth £5. They have besides the manor of Siston, worth 10 marks a year, and held of the Bishop of Bath, but by what service the jury do not know.

Inquisition taken before the abovesaid escheator (upon a writ to inquire what the said William held of the alien priory of Derhurst) at Newent on Friday after St. Matthew's Day, 3 Richard II [1379], by the oath of John Bond, Richard Whitton, William R . . ., Thomas Boldray, John Broke, William Saresone, William de Parys, John Wod . . ., Thomas Grenewey, John Aubrey, and John Staure, who say that William de Rodbergh, late deceased, held 2 messuages and 2 carucates of land in Lye and Heydon from the said priory by homage and fealty.

If his heir be under age, he will be in the prior's custody, and a relief of twice the yearly rent will be due on his coming of age. The messuages are worth nothing beyond the reprises; [the land] 43*s.* 6*d.*

The said William [died] 1 [Richard II (1377-8)]. John, his son and heir, æt. . . . de St. Medardo, Prior of Dewhurst, and one John de Webbele, have taken the profits of the premises since William's death, but by what title the jurors do not know.

Edmund Blount.

Inquisition¹ taken at . . . on Thursday in Easter week, Richard II [1381], before Hugh de Byseley, escheator in co. Gloucester, by the oath of John Joye, Geoffrey Wynbaude, Robert Chalkeleye, Robert Wodroue, . . . Sadeler, John Tony, John Porter of Hambroke, William Wytewyk, Thomas Burnell, William Broun, and John Snayllam [?], who say that

Edmund Blount was seised of a moiety of the manor of [Button], held of the King in chief by the service of half a knight's fee, which by his deed of feoffment, without the King's licence, he gave to William Heyberare, [² Thomas Styward, Hugh Manner [?], Ralph Waleys, Richard Scotard, Cradock Phelippes, Richard Cook, and William Wilkokes, chaplains; and all the tenants of the said moiety attorned to the said feoffees, to wit, John Button, chivaler, who held divers tenements there by 6s. rent, homage, fealty, and heriot; William Stokewell, likewise holding a messuage by 4s. rent, etc.; Peter Wytyng, a messuage at 12s.; Thomas Gibbes, a messuage at 4s.; and John Colyns, a messuage at 5s.] He also held a messuage and half a virgate of land in Button from Sir Nicholas Berkeley, knight, by the service of 5s., worth 2s. clear yearly. Jointly with his wife Margaret, who survives, he held a moiety of the manors of Fylton and Harristoke of the feoffment of Thomas fitz Nichol and Margery, his wife, to the said Edmund and Margaret in tail at a rent, during the lives of the grantees, of 16 marks. [² These are both held of Sir Reginald de Cobham, knight, and Eleanor, his wife, in her right, by the service of one-fourth part of a knight's fee. He also held jointly with his wife of the feoffment of William Heybarare and Nicholas Adam, clerk] the manor of Aylminton, to them and the heirs of Margaret [² charged with 20 marks yearly to Christian Slyward; during her life it is worth nothing beyond the reprises. It is held of the Bishop of Worcester by suit at his court of Hembury twice a year.]

The said Edmund died on Thursday after the Feast of the Purification [¹last. William, his son and heir, was aged 7 at the Feast of All Saints last past.]

A writ for further inquiry was directed (1st April, 4 Richard II [1381]) to John Beauchamp, chivaler, John Joce, and John Cassy, and an inquisition taken at Gloucester before Beauchamp and Cassy on Thursday after St. George's Day following, by the oath of John Weston, Reginald Waleys, William Wardewik, Walter Brounyng, Walter Severne, John Kyng, John Kent of Wike, John Jones, John Malmouthe, John Gayner, John Witwik, and John Poleyn, whose finding is identical with that of the previous inquisition.

Inquisition taken at Wynchcombe before Thomas Lawrence of Compton, escheator in co. Gloucester, on Tuesday after the Feast of the Decollation of St. John the Baptist, 4 Richard II [1380], by the oath of John Chambre, Robert Jurdan, William de Westinton, Henry Chester, Robert Grant, Robert Calf, John Weleye, Walter Weleye, John Barell, William Williams, Robert Hereward, and Robert Ede, who say that

Sir Richard de Stafford died seised of a moiety of the manor of Campedene and of a moiety of the advowson of the chapel of that manor, held of the King in chief by the service of one-fourth part of a knight's fee, jointly with his wife Maud, who survives, by the grant of John de Whitynton, parson of the church of Newynton de la Wolde, and Richard de Drayton, parson of the church of Sekynton, co. Warwick, to hold in tail male, by fine thereof levied with licence of the present King. The manor is worth £20 a year.

He also held in like manner the manor of Aston undur Egge and the advowson of the church of that vill, by grant of Hugh de Hopewas, chaplain, Henry de Tymmore, chaplain, and Nicholas de Yvyngho, by fine thereof levied. It is held of the Bishop of Rochester, by what services the jurors do not know, and is worth £10 a year. Jointly with his wife for their lives, with remainder to his right heirs, he held the manor of Charingworth, by grant of John Goldyng and Maud, his wife, by fine levied thereof. It is held of Sir John Lovel, knight, by what services the jurors do not know, and is worth £10 a year. In like manner they held the manor of Plynton in tail male by the grant of Thomas de Hampton, by fine thereof levied; it is worth 60s. a year, and is held of Sir Robert Corbet, knight, but by what services they do not know.

The Abbot of Evesham.

Inquisition taken before Hugh Byseyle, the King's escheator, at Wynchcombe on Saturday next after the Epiphany, 4 Richard II [1381], by the oath of Robert de Wotton, Robert Grant, Robert Calf, Robert Ippewell, Thomas Frankeleyn, John Knoll, Henry Roys, William Chalyngworth, Robert Cres, William Ippewell, William James, and Henry Colne, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow the Abbot and convent of the monastery of Evesham in the diocese of Worcester to appropriate the church of Seynebury, in augmentation of the worship and honour of the B.V.M.; they hold the advowson thereof of the King in chief. They intend it in aid of the maintenance of certain secular clerks to chant the Mass and office of the B.V.M. every day, and to find one hundred wax tapers to burn from the beginning to the end of the said Mass. These charges used to be defrayed out of certain rents and profits assigned to the said chapel [sic] in ancient times, now so diminished by plagues and deaths of men and tenants that they no longer suffice for the purpose. The manor of Seynebury with the said advowson is held by the service of one-fourth part of a knight's fee; the church is worth £10 a year and not more.

Thomas Hathewy.

Inquisition taken at Ruardyn, 4th February, 5 Richard II [1382] (under a writ dated 24th January preceding, referring to the findings of an inquisition formerly taken before Edmund de Brugge, late escheator), before Henry Moton, escheator in co. Gloucester, by the oath of John Hicokes, Richard Brayn, Nicholas Hoke, Richard Shayte,

John atte Hyde, John Tannere, Walter Gybons, Robert Tannere, Thomas Smyth, John Facsho, William Marchal, and Thomas Fleccher, who say that

Thomas Hathewy had, on the day he died, three daughters, viz. Isabel, now aged 16 and more, Sybil, aged 14, and Ellen, aged 13; and no other children.

Attached to this is an inquisition taken at Great Dene, 3rd February, 50 Edward III [1376], by the oath of Richard Brayn, John Dene, John Magote, William de Leye, John Garon, Nicholas Hoke, John Burrych, Robert Tannere, Richard White, William Huli, Peter Cappe, and John atte Lyde, who say that

Thomas de Hathewy held of the King in chief on the day he died, in his demesne as of fee, a capital messuage at Ruardyn, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; a dovecot worth 2s.; 80 acres of arable land worth half a mark; 26s. 8d. rents of assize, payable at the Feasts of the Annunciation and St. Michael; all held by 4s. payable to the King's castle at St. Briavel.

He also held at Seyntbrevel a messuage worth nothing a year beyond the reprise; 40 acres of arable land worth 40d. These he held of the King in chief by the services of 28s. yearly and of being the King's chief forester throughout the Forest of Dene.

The said Thomas died 2nd January last. Elizabeth, one of his daughters, is aged 10; Sybil, the second, 8; Ellen, 7; and Maud, 5 years. They are his next heirs.

Edmund de Mortimer, Earl of March.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Monday before the Feast of the Annunciation, 5 Richard II [1382], before Henry Moton, escheator, by the oath of Nicholas Veye, William Frompton, William Lutterugge, Richard Blees, John Clipsale, John Tymburhulle, Peter atte Forthay, Thomas Roome, John Bysser . . . John Lefcy, William Chalkeford, and Walter Ledeneye, who say that

The said Earl held the manor of Brymmesfeld in right of his deceased wife, but of whom or by what services they do not know. There are divers buildings in the said manor, worth nothing a year beyond the reprises, a dovecot worth 2*s.*, and 40 acres of land worth 13*s.* 4*d.*; 16 acres of meadow, worth 32*s.*; and 2 acres, worth 4*s.* every alternate year, and they were worth that this year, because they were mown; there are divers parcels of pasture in closes, worth 12*s.*, and divers others worth 24*s.* every alternate year, and they are worth that this year, because they lie in several, and next year they will be worth nothing, because they will lie in common. There are divers other parcels, worth 7*s.* 6*d.* every alternate year, and this year nothing, because they lie in common. The pasture of Haselhanger is worth 10*s.* There are £14 11*s.* 5*d.* rents of assize, viz., at Michaelmas £4 11*s.* 5*d.*, at St. Andrew's Day £3, at the Annunciation £4, and at St. John's Day £3. The customary works are worth 36*s.* 10*d.* at Michaelmas. There are also rents of assize of 2 lb. of pepper and 1 lb. of cummin at Michaelmas. There is a park, the underwood of which is worth nothing, but the herbage is worth 66*s.* 8*d.* beyond the maintenance of the game. The pleas and perquisites of courts, with two views of frankpledge yearly, are worth 13*s.* 4*d.*

The said Edward also held the manor of Wynston, but of whom, etc., they do not know. There are divers buildings there worth nothing beyond the reprises; one carucate of land, worth 10*s.*, and it is demised for that rent. There are divers parcels of meadow, worth 26*s.* 8*d.*; a pasture, worth 2*s.*; £4 18*s.* rents of assize; the pleas and perquisites of courts are worth 12*d.*

He held likewise three parts of the manor of Byseleye, of whom, etc., as regards two parts, they do not know; one part is held of Thomas de Wodestoke, Earl of Bukyngham, as of the Honour of Hereford, by knight service. There are divers buildings there worth nothing beyond the reprises; 80 acres of arable land, worth 13*s.* 4*d.*; 5*½* acres of meadow, worth 11*s.*; divers pieces of pasture, worth 20*d.*; £24*os.* 0*½d.* rents of assize, viz., at Christmas £5 5*s.* 0*½d.*, at the Annunciation £6 9*s.*, at St. John's Day £5 5*s.*, and at Michaelmas £7 [1*s.*]. There are customary ploughing works, worth 16*s.*. . . . There is a rent of 50 hens, worth 6*s.* 3*d.*, and 250 eggs, worth 10*d.* There are customary hand-works worth 6*s.* 3*d.* at Michaelmas. The pleas and perquisites of the courts, with two views of frankpledge are worth . . . There are at Hamptonet next Northlechche, a member of the said manor, rents [?] worth 20*d.*; at Chyrinton next Tettebury, another member . . . and at Chorleton next Tettebury, rents of assize of 4*s.* at Michaelmas. Deduction must be made for an annuity (as in the inquisition below).

The said Edmund died 27th December last. Roger, son of the said Edmund and Philippa his wife, is his heir, and aged 9 years and more.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Tuesday after St. Lawrence, 6 Richard II [1382], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Thomas Boteyvleyn, William Yonge, John Wakarey, Simon Brockeworth, William Huchenale, Lawrence Doleman, Richard Strotteford, John Notelyn, Philip Smyth, John Taillour, John Fraunsom, and Thomas Person, who say that

The said Earl held from the King in chief on the day he died the manor of Brymmesfeld, in right of Philippa, his deceased wife, by the law of England. It is worth £24 15*s.* 2*d.* yearly. He held also the manor of Wynston, but of whom or by what services they do not know, worth 119*s.* 4*d.* Also three parts of the manor of Byseleye with its members adjacent, two parts whereof are held of the Honour of Radenore by knight service, and the third of Thomas de Wodestoke, Earl of Bukyngham, in right of Eleanor, his wife, as of the Honour of Hereford. These three parts are worth £30 6*s.*, but there should be deducted £13 6*s.* 8*d.*, an annuity granted by Roger de Mortimer, lord of Wygemore and Trym, to Philip de Hambury, the younger, clerk, for his life. [The remainder of the inquisition is concerned with manors, etc., in the Marches. Return of death and heir as above.]

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 19th May, 5 Richard II [1382], before Henry Moton, escheator, by the oath of Thomas de Wolton [?], John Bonde, Adam Heydon, John Thomas, William Russell, John Wattes, Richard Bailly, William Paris, William Bulmering, Robert Heynes, Geoffrey Roggeres, and William Godmey, who say that

Gilbert le Despenser and John de Legh purchased from Fulk de Byrmyngham, chivaler, 2 messuages, 400 acres of land, 110 acres of meadow, 20 acres of wood, and £6 rents in Wyghtfeld and Appurley, to hold to them and the heirs of Gilbert, who afterwards released all his rights therein by deed to the said John, who died seised thereof, and was succeeded by his son and heir Thomas de Legh, who granted the premises to Gilbert as tenant at will. So holding Gilbert died. The premises are held of the Abbot of Westminster by the service of 20*s.* a year, and are worth 10 marks beyond the reprises.

The said Gilbert held in chief from Thomas le Legh, in his demesne as of fee, one messuage (worth nothing a year beyond the reprise), 8 acres of land, and 3 acres of meadow in Appurley (worth 14*d.*), by the service of 5*s.* yearly.

He died on Tuesday before St. Mark's Day last. His heir is Thomas le Despenser, son of Edward, son of his brother Edward, aged 8 years and more.

Edmund de Stonore.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Friday after Holy Trinity, 5 Richard II [1382], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Thomas Moryn, Robert Grant, John Caldecote, John Rogeres, William Vicares, Adam Heydon, William Russell, John Wattes, Richard atte Water, Geoffrey Rogeres, John Mauncell, and William Godmey, who say that Long before his death the said Edward, by his charter of feoffment, gave to Reginald Scheffeld, Henry Dounham, John Alblaster, Richard, rector of the church of Barton, and Gregory, rector of the church of Bourton in Henmersshe, in fee simple, his manors of Harnhulle and Cundicote, and all other his lands in the county. The former is held of Thomas, Earl of Bukyngham, in right of Eleanor, his wife, by what services they do not know; it is worth £6 6s. 8d. Of whom the latter is held they do not know, but it is not held of the King in chief; it is worth 100*s.* The other lands lie in Bourton, Doughton, and Hembury in Saltemersshe; those in Bourton are held of Thomas, son and heir of Edward, Lord le Despenser, a ward to the King, and are worth 100*s.*

Those in Doughton are not held of the King in chief, but of whom they are held they do not know; they are worth £4. The lands in Hembury are held of the Bishop of Worcester, by what services they do not know, and are worth £10.

Edmund de Stonore died on Friday before the Feast of the Invention of the Cross last. John, his son and heir, is aged 13 and more.

Walter de Perle.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Tuesday after Michaelmas, 5 Richard II [1381], before Hugh de Byseley, escheator, by the oath of William Hockenhall, John Stonhouse, William Dudbruge, Henry Monk, John Hockenall, William Felde, John Seymor, John Chapman, John Notylyn, John Wilkyns, Lawrence Gerveys, and John Wode, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Walter de Perle, Hawyse, his wife, and John, son of the said Walter, to retain one carucate of land and 22*s.* rent in Pychencombe, acquired by them from William le Gyldene, cousin and heir of Isabel, who was wife of Walter de Wilton, who held from the King in chief, at a rent of 5*s.*, payable by the hands of the sheriff; the land is worth 10*s.*, and not more, because it lies in common.

Proof of Age of Isabel, one of the daughters and heirs of Thomas Hathewy.

Inquisition taken at Rewardyn (upon the claim of Thomas Wallewyn, who has married the said Isabel), 3rd March, 5 Richard II [1382], before Henry Moton, escheator, by the oath of Thomas de Falleye, John Cotillur, John Westhale, John Garoun, Nicholas Hooke, Simon Shephurde, Walter Gybons, Richard Wythur, Richard Shayte, John Brut, Reginald Hickes, and John Hykokes, who say that

The said Isabel was born at Rewardyn on Sunday after St. John the Baptist's Day, 38 Edward III [1364], and was baptized in the church there.

Thomas de Falleye (aged 60) recollects because on that day he was putting a house together [?(composuit domum)] in that vill. Cottiler and Westhale (72) were in the church, and remember because on that day the parishioners there bought an image of the B.V.M., which is still there. Garoun, Hooke, and Shephurde (51) bought a messuage and virgate of land there, and had seisin thereof the same day. Gybons (47), Wyther, and Shayte (47) remember because on that day they and others began to make and fill up the foundations of the belfry of the said church. Hyckes and Hykokes (49) recollect because on that Sunday the parishioners resolved to buy a missal out of the goods of the said Thomas bequeathed to the same church, and did buy it one month afterwards.

Inquisition taken at Newport on Tuesday after the Feast of the Assumption, 6 Richard II [1382], before Henry Moton, escheator, by the oath of John Joye, Richard Cook, Geoffrey Wynbaud, Richard Gilmyng, Walter Rauwyn, John Bryd, John Walkere, Robert Woderoue, John Barbast, John C . . . yng, Richard Vale, and John Wordus, who say that

Nicholas de Barkeleye held of the King in chief, by knight service, on the day he died, in his demesne as of fee, the manor of Dodynton. There are divers buildings there worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; divers parcels of land, meadow, pasture, and underwood, worth £6 13s. 4d.; rents of assize of free and bond tenants, £6 10s. yearly; the pleas and perquisites of courts are worth 40d. He also held as above at Stanleye St. Leonard one messuage, one virgate of land, 10 acres of meadow, 5 acres of wood, and 40s. rents payable as above, by knight service. They are worth in all 26s. 8d. a year beyond the reprises.

Jointly with his wife Cicely, who survives, he purchased from John Weston of Inste a messuage and half-virgate of land in Dodynton, which the said John held of the said Nicholas as of his manor of Dodynton by the service of 10s. and a pair of spurs yearly; worth . . . He also held by knight service, from the King in chief, the manors of Dursele and Colde Newenton, which long before his death he gave to William de Auste and Nicholas Waueswelle, who re-enfeoffed himself and his wife; the former is worth £6 13s. 4d. a year, the latter 66s. 8d.

The said Nicholas died on the Vigil of St. James the Apostle last past. Maud Cantelow, his sister and next heir, is aged 40 and more.

Assignment of dower to the abovesaid Cicely made before the said escheator at Dodynton, 10th September, 6 Richard II [1382], in the presence of the said Maud Cantelow.

The escheator assigned to her 3 houses, a garden, a plot of land called Con . . . , and 3 acres of pasture, in common with the said Maud; 16 acres of meadow, 80 acres of arable land and pasture, 30 acres of wood, and 7*1s.* 10*d.* rents; also these bond tenants and their profits, viz. John Thommes, senior, William, John, Joan, Christian, and Alice Thommes, children of the said John, senior, John Graunte, junior, and William and John, his sons.

Assignment made at Stanleye St. Leonard on the day following: 2 houses, one garden called Lady Orchard, 3 acres of meadow, 30 [?] acres of arable land and pasture, 4 acres of wood; £4 4*s.* 3*½d.* rents of assize, with certain works and customs of tenants, rented at 4*s.* 2*½d.* Also a way in common with the said Maud, called Preborde, extending from Medeslande to Sydehurne; likewise in common a piece called Coursepece, and a way leading from the meadow called . . . croft, called Oldeponfelde, and a path through the entrance of the hall to the garden. Also the following bond tenants: Robert Stompe, John Stompe, senior, and Thomas, Robert, John, and . . . his children.

John, son and heir of Alexander Carent.

William Merke, Hanekyn atte Forde, Thomas Smerte, Thomas Taillour, and John Wardelhynde, who say that

The said John died under age, a ward to the King, on Friday after Michaelmas last, holding in chief two parts of a water-mill at Ruardyn and 26*s.* 8*d.* rent by the service of 16*s.* yearly, payable at the castle of St. Bryavell at the two yearly terms in equal portions. The said two parts of the mill are worth 20*s.* clear. He likewise held two parts of a messuage and carucate of land at Bykenore, and of a water-mill, toft, and 2 acres of meadow in Aston Karent, worth 10*s.* yearly, and not more, because the land lies barren in the King's Forest of Dene. These premises are held of Robert Ferrers, lord of Bykenore, as one-seventh of a knight's fee; and Robert holds the manor of Bykenore from the King in chief, as half a fee. The said John also held two parts of a messuage and 4 shops in Teukesbury from the Abbot there, by the service of 4*s.* yearly, worth 4*s.* clear.

Edward, brother and heir of the said John, was aged 15 and more at his brother's death.

Fulk Fitz Waryn, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before the abovesaid escheator on Monday after the Feast of St. Peter ad Vincula, 7 Richard II [1383], by the oath of John Jones, John Matteson, Roger Cook, Walter Okeholt, John atte Churche, William Kemmote, John Broke, John Wyneyard, Thomas Stevenes, John in the Felde, Robert Taillour, and Simon Uske, who say that

The said Fulk held from James de Audeley in chief by knight service the manor of Bentham, worth 106*s.* 8*d.* yearly. He died on Friday after St. Chad's Day, 46 Edward III [1272]. Fulk, his son and heir, is aged 21 and more.

After Fulk's death the King had the manor seised into his hands, and occupied it till he granted it by letters patent to Alice de Perys, to hold till the heir came of age. From that time she received the profits till the day on which she forfeited to the said King Edward, from which date Fulk Corbet occupied the manor till his death, under letters patent of Richard II, after which Philip Fitz Waryn had a like grant thereof.

Gilbert Gamage.

Inquisition taken at . . . on Wednesday next after the Feast of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, 6 Richard II [1382], before Henry Moton, escheator, by the oath of Morgan Leyson, William Valeys, John Stanshawe, John Walshe, John Wythur, Thomas Blay [?], John de Aure, John Foxleye, John Ya.weyn, William Bothe, Henry Elyot, and John Webbe, who say that

The said Gilbert held the manor of Caldecote in the Marches of Wales to the county of Gloucester adjacent, from the King in chief by knight service. There are no buildings there; but there are 48 acres of land, worth 8*s.*; 12 acres of meadow, worth 12*s.*; £7 rents of assize, payable at the Feasts of the Annunciation and St. Michael; the pleas and perquisites of courts are worth 6*s.* 8*d.*

Jointly with Lettice his wife, who survives, he held the manor of Lanuhangell in the Marches of Wales.

He died on Wednesday after the Feast of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist last. Roger Gamage, his son and heir, is aged 18 and more.

Assignment of dower to the said Lettice in the manor of Caldecote, made there by the said escheator 20th August, 6 Richard II [1382], in the presence of John, parson of the church of . . . gyat, and William Valeys, attorneys of William Davy, clerk, and Robert Muskeham, clerk (Davy and Muskeham being grantees of the custody of all the lands till the lawful age of the heir).

There were assigned to the said Lettice 8 acres in Westforlong field, and 8 acres in Esteforlong, 2 acres of meadow in Brodemede and 2 in Westmede; a third part of the hill called Sapieshull from Haselscherd as far as Leperescroft on the north in length, and in breadth from Gilbroke to Hevynothe; a third of the forest called Sapieswode, from the way leading from Neweton to Blakewell on the north in length, and in breadth from Blakewell to Kenthlenyes. Also the free tenants following:—the Earl of Bukyngham, who holds one-third of the fish preserve of Caldecote by the service of 18*d.*; John Stanshawe, who holds the manor of Waltereston as a knight's fee, whereof for her dower the third of the ward [which is?] 14*½d.*; William Valeys, who holds one-third of a messuage, 4 acres of land, and half an acre of meadow, by the service of 4*s.* and suit of court; the tenants of . . . of Waltereston, who hold by the service of 2*¼d.* and suit of court; William Stormy, who holds a messuage and 8 acres of land by the service of 3*s.* and suit; William Wylkyns, who holds 3 roods of land by 4*d.* and suit. Other tenants are John Peyteveyn, William David, John Glyn, Richard Cut, William Matheus, . . . Gony, Philip Cole, John Phelup, Adam Toppyn, John Symondes, Neste Gethyn, Jevan Loyes, and others whose names are quite illegible.

John, son and heir of William de Rodeberwe.

Inquisition taken at Tetteburi before Hugh de Biselee, escheator, on Wednesday after the Feast of the Purification, 6 Richard II [1383], by the oath of Nicholas . . . bei, Richard Leward, Walter Waltres, Walter de Escourt, Philip Harnhulle, John de Weston, Walter Herward, John Buryman, Simon Hickes, John Moigne, Edmund Draper, and Walter Motteshonte, who say that

The said John held from the alien priory of Durherste, being in the King's hand by reason of the war between this country and France, the manor of Legh next Durherste, by the service of one-fourth of a knight's fee. It is worth £13 6s. 8d. beyond the reprises.

John died on Friday after Michaelmas last. Agnes and Alice, his sisters and next heirs, are aged respectively 20 and 13. Philip de Rodebergh married the said Agnes to John, son of John Brounyng, without the King's licence, and took the profit of the said marriage, viz. £20, to his own use. Alice has been removed by the said Philip, but they do not know whether it is to the King's prejudice or not, because the said Alice cannot be found in the county. He has also taken the profits of the manor since the said John's death, to the prejudice of the King.

Sir John Poyntz, knight.

Inquisition taken before John de Thorpe, sheriff of Gloucester (in virtue of a writ for the valuation of the lands, etc., of the said Sir John, in connection with recognizances entered into by him 8th June, 49 Edward III [1375], to John Peche, citizen and alderman of London, now deceased), at Neweport, 21st October, 6 Richard III [1382], by the oath of Thomas Dyere, William Mildenhale, William Clyvedon, Walter Dyere, William Edward, John Brut, Robert Tommes, Thomas Trewebody, John Geffrey, John Blithe, Walter Spache, and William Tannere, who say that

On the said 8th June Sir John Poyntz held the manor of Irenacton, worth in rents of assize £30; there are 420 acres of arable land in the said manor, worth £8; 100 acres of meadow, worth £10; 40 acres of pasture, worth 40s. There is no wood belonging to the manor except a wood called 'le Park', in which there is great timber, but it cannot be sold except to waste. He had no other goods or chattels which can be valued.

Another inquisition taken at Neweport before the sheriff aforesaid on the Feast of St. Catharine the Virgin, 6 Richard II [1382], by the oath of the abovesaid jurors, who say that

There is a wood in the manor of Irenacton called 'le Park', in which there is great timber, worth half a mark yearly in addition to the fencing.

Another writ directs the sheriff to make a valuation of all the goods of the said John Poyntz, and to cause them to be seised into the King's hands, until Sir William Pecche, knight, son and executor of the said John Pecche, be satisfied of the debt.

Robert Playn and others.

Inquisition taken before Thomas Fitz Nicol, sheriff of Gloucester, at Cirencester on St. Hilary's Day, 6 Richard II [1383], by the oath of Nicholas de Vey, Henry Bordon, John Campedene, Thomas Tresham, Walter Solers, William Benet, John Pyndrop, John Dene, Andrew Gage, Nicholas Stratton, Robert Clement, and William atte Hall, who say that

It would be no prejudice to the King or any other to allow Robert Playn, John Boys, and Nicholas Pointer, of Cirencester, to give the manor next Cirencester called Bagyndene, 4 messuages in Cirencester and 3 acres of meadow in Baudynton, to two chaplains to celebrate every day for the souls of the Kings of England, and of the grantors, after their decease, one at the altar of Holy Trinity and the other at the altar of the Blessed Mary in the parish church of Cirencester. The manor is held of Sir John Chandos, knight, of the county of Herford, by homage and fealty. Three messuages and the meadow are held of Roger Wyght, Lord of Wyggewold, and Alice his wife, as of their fee of Wyggewold in right of the said Alice, viz., one of the messuages by a red rose yearly and service every three weeks at the said Roger's court at Wyggewold; the second, by fealty and a rent of 3*d.*; the third and the meadow by fealty only. The fourth messuage is held of the Abbot of Cirencester by fealty and a rent of 3*d.*, as of his manor of Cirencester, which he holds of the King in frankalmoine. The manor and the meadow are worth 9 marks annually, the messuages 13*s. 4d.* The grantors hold divers other tenements worth 10*s.* yearly.

Walter Broun of Lasseberwe.

Writ directed to the sheriff of Gloucester, setting forth that on 21st October, 4 Richard II [1380], the said Walter Broun in the King's chancery acknowledged he owed £37 2s. to Walter Ludeneye, citizen and draper of London; for non-payment Ludeneye elected to receive all the goods and half the land of the said Broun, according to the statute. The sheriff sent the writ issued accordingly to Henry Cau, bailiff of the liberty of Cirencester, who has return and execution of all the King's writs in the said liberty; the bailiff made no answer. The sheriff was therefore commanded to enter the said liberty to summon Walter Broun to appear in the King's chancery to give reasons, if any there be, why his goods, etc., should not be so delivered. Broun failed to appear. The sheriff is therefore now instructed to deliver Broun's goods to the said Ludeneye, at a reasonable valuation, to the amount of £37 2s., in Broun's presence if he desires to be there, and a moiety of his land, to hold until the said debt be wholly satisfied.

Extent and valuation of the goods and lands of the said Walter Broun, made at Tettebury on Thursday after the Feast of the Annunciation, 7 Richard II [1384], before Ralph Waleys, sheriff of Gloucester, by the oath of Philip Rodberwe, Nicholas Vey, Richard Leward, Thomas Tresham, Thomas Spilman, William Langeford, Thomas Arderne, John Moyne, John Jones, Philip Glasiere, Hugh Notelyn, and William Agas, who say that

The said Walter Broun has the manor of Lasseberwe, and 50 acres of arable land, and 2 acres of meadow; the moiety thereof is worth 60*s.* He has no other goods in co. Gloucester which can be extended. The sheriff delivered the moiety thereof to Ludeneye in accordance with the writ.

John Basset.

Pleas before the King in his Chancery in the Quinzaine of St. John the Baptist, 7 Richard II [1383].

The King directed a writ (17th June, 6 Richard II [1383]) to the sheriff of Somerset, setting forth that by an inquisition taken before Henry Moton, late escheator in Gloucester, it was found that the manor of Lasberwe and the advowson of the church of that manor, held of the King in chief by knight service, came into the hands of Edward III after the death of John Basset, by reason of the minority of his daughters and heirs, Margaret, who survives, and Alice, now deceased. An inquisition taken in Somerset found that the profit of lands in that county had been taken since John's death by his father, Sir Simon Basset, till his death, and since by Maud, widow and executrix of the said Simon. The custody of all these lands belongs to the Crown. The sheriff is to summon the said Maud to appear in the King's chancery in the said Quinzaine, to show cause (if any) why the profits of the premises from John's death till the coming of age of the said Margaret should not be delivered to the Crown.

The said Maud appears accordingly by Henry Maupas and John de Rolles, her attorneys, and says with regard to the Somerset property that Simon settled it (15 Edward III), to remain after his own death, to the said John and his first wife Elizabeth in tail; Simon afterwards demised the premises to John as tenant at will, and he died possessed of that estate therein only, without heir by the said Elizabeth.

She puts in another deed of the said Simon, dated at Iweleye on the Feast of the Annunciation, 37 Edward III [1363], by which he enfeoffed John Clavyle and Richard Goldeney, chaplains, with all his lands, etc. and pourparty in Iweleye, Oulepenne, Camme, Nubbel, Coldnewenton, and Preston in Netherewent, in co. Gloucester and the Marches of Wales. This deed was witnessed by Sir Nicholas de Berkele, knight, William de Chiltenham, John Sergeant, Nicholas de Kyngescote, and John Oulepenne. The feoffees after re-enfeoffed the said Simon and Maud therewith (and with property in Somerset) for their lives, with remainder to their sons Maurice and Edmund in tail successively, by deed dated at Iweleye on Tuesday after Easter in the same year, witnessed by . . . Sir Peter de Veel and Sir Thomas Moigne, knights, William de Cheltenham, John Sergeant, John de Coueley, and John Dreycole.

The sheriff of Somerset is ordered to summon a jury of twenty-four between the parties.

Robert Wynter.

Proof of age of Robert, son and heir of William Wynter, a tenant of the alien priory of Newent, made at Newent on Monday after Martinmas, 7 Richard II [1383], before Hugh Bysleye, escheator.

John Smythe, John Bradeford, William Cleveleye, and Richard Forster, all aged 60 and more, say that the said Robert was born at Newent, and baptized in the church of that vill on Thursday after All Saints', 35 Edward III [1361]. They were in the church at the time, and were beginning to build anew the chapel of the B.V.M. on the south side of the said church.

Thomas Hathewy, Richard Hulle, John Tankard, and Reginald Aylway, all aged 50 and more, recollect the date because on the same day the head of Maleswyke millpond broke down from the pressure of the water. John Ledene, William Staverton, Peter Heynes, and Richard Swayn, all aged 44 and more, remember the date, because they were in the company of the said William Wynter at Gloucester, attending on the assizes there, when John Raket came and brought him news of the birth of the said Robert.

Margaret Broun.

Proof of age of Margaret, daughter and one of the heirs of John Basset, wife of Walter Broun, and heir also of her sister Alice, taken at Tettebury on Friday after Whitsuntide, 7 Richard II [1384], before the abovesaid escheator.

Walter Haleys, William Hudde, William Hayle, and John Pond [?], all aged 60 and more, say that the said Margaret was born at Lasseberwe on Thursday before Christmas Day, 34 Edward III [1361], and baptized in the church of that vill. They were in the company of John Basset, when Robert Ratteforde, chaplain, brought him news of the birth of the said Margaret.

Robert Skynnere, John Moris, Thomas Rauf, and Thomas Flexman, all aged 50 and more, remember the date, because on that same day they began to raise anew a certain stone cross in the churchyard there.

Henry Hunt, Richard Hayle, Edward Carpenter, and John Bury, all aged 50 and more, remember because on that day John Rokeley, at Tettebury, at the fair [?] there, slew a certain stranger.

William Lylle.

Inquisition taken at Cirencestre, 25th January, 8 Richard II [1385], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Richard Blees, John Bysengge, William . . . , , William Rose, Robert Aibrugge, John Graunger, John Clissale, John May, Roger Jurdan, Henry Cherugge, and Nicholas Reignes, who say that

The said William Lylle held in his demesne as of fee a moiety of the manor of [Saperton], with the advowson of the church of that vill, of the King in chief by the service of a quarter of a knight's fee. The houses there are worth nothing beyond the reprises; there is a dovecot worth 2*s.* yearly; one carucate of land worth 30*d.*, and not more, because it is hilly; an acre of meadow worth 8*d.*; . . . acres of several pasture worth 3*s.* The sale of the underwood brings in 2*s.* a year. There is 46*s.* . . . rents of assize of free tenants.

He also held a moiety of the manor of Great Rysyndon of the King in chief, by fealty and the payment of 2*s.* yearly at Michaelmas. The buildings there are worth nothing; there is a carucate of land worth 40*d.* only (as above); 9 acres of meadow worth 6*s.*; and 53*s.* 4*d.* rents of free tenants.

Thomas Waldyng.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Monday after Martinmas, 8 Richard II [1384], before Hugh de Byseley, escheator, by the oath of Roger Skyn, John Holowe, John Halle, William de Staunton, Walter Dobbes, John Haillieie, Nicholas Smyth, Walter Bonham, John Hatheway, William Watkyns, John Norton, and John Filly [?], who say that

Thomas Waldyng of Staunton, in the Forest of Dene, held from Edward III, as of his castle of St. Briavel, on the day he died, the manor of Staunton with the advowson of the church of that vill, to the same manor appending, by knight service, but by what part of a fee they do not know, and by the payment of 26*s.* 8*d.* to the said castle; worth 20*s.* yearly beyond reprises.

The said Thomas died at Michaelmas, 35 Edward III [1361]. John Waldyng, his son and heir, is aged 38 and more; at his father's death he was aged 17 and more. By letters patent of 12th March, 36 Edward III [1362], the said King granted to his yeoman [valeto] Richard des Armes the custody of the said manor and the marriage of the heir. During the minority of the said John the church fell vacant by the death of John de Staunton, the late parson, and King Edward presented Henry Burch, his clerk. Des Armes occupied the manor for five years, when the heir, being of full age, entered. The church became vacant again in 7 Richard II [1383-4] by the death of the said Henry Burch, and the now King presented Thomas Woborne, because John Waldyng has not yet sued forth the said advowson out of the King's hands.

Assignment of Dower to Joan, wife of Thomas West, Esq.

Assignment of dower falling to the said Joan of the lands of Ralph de Welyngton, son of John de Welyngton, chivaler, her former husband, made in the presence of Thomas Broun, attorney of John Poulet, chivaler, by the abovesaid escheator, on the Feast of St. Luke, 8 Richard II [1384]. In Frompton Cotell one-third of the following lands, viz., lands called Whetesond, Ryesond, Wodefeld, Kyndon, Nywelondeshull, Hedegrove, Adegorst, Wolsele, Wyntteresworth, Bursemour, Mulcroft, Buricroft; also of meadows called Slymmede, Holmersshe, and Edenebergh; of pastures and woods called Wakenegrove, Dokham, Nethersned, and Holleleye; also a third of the advowson of the church, presenting on each third vacancy; and the rents and services of Henry Puryman (1s. 4d.), John atte Wode, bond tenant (2s. 2½d.), with the body of the same John, William Somer (2s. 2½d.), Henry Scryveyn (2s.), Nicholas Stephenes (1s. 1¼d.), Christian Lupghat (1s. 1¼d.), Margaret atte Brouke (4s. 6d., one cock and 3 hens), Henry Muleward (4s. 6d., one cock and 3 hens), Henry Bidham (4s. 3½d., one cock and 3 hens), John Brid (6s., 2 cocks and 6 hens), and Richard Wodlee (7½d., one cock and 3 hens), and a third of the rent of Henry Puryman (2s. 6d.) out of 5 acres of meadow demised to him for his life by deed of John de Welyngton, chivaler, late lord of this manor; with a third of all the pleas and perquisites of courts, charged with a third of the steward's fee.

Similar assignment of dower in Sandhurst, made in the presence of Richard Ruyhale the younger, to whom the King has granted the custody of the lands in question, on the morrow of All Souls, 8 Richard II [1384].

The escheator assigned to the said Thomas and Joan the upper chamber at the end of the hall, the whole chapel, all the small grange, one-third of the "couhous" towards the north, the whole of a garden called Steorcorchard, with free access through Colverhey, one-third of a close called Bernhey next the abovesaid small grange, one-third of lands called Aldeworthe, Brodecroft, Wodeforlang, Blakeforlang, Longeforlang, Shortforlang, a piece of land on the east side of the hill towards the north in Combefeld, one-third of Medforlang, Schortforlang, Hulleforlang (towards the south in "la Combe"), Wodebreche, Cotemanleye, Stonyforlang, la Donne, Tokkeleye, Brewernefeld, Wynardesforlang, Cosyneshulle, Colvercroft, Nywelond, Sternhulle, Litelcroft, Hardeslond, and Morleye. Also one-third of meadows called Langemede, "le Holte," Fissheley, "la Grove," Colverdenemede, Somerlese, Cowmede, . . . homcroft, Harperesaker, and Appelderne.

Also one-third of the common of pasture for cattle, viz. 27 oxen, with the Abbot of St. Peter of Gloucester in a pasture called Oxenlesewe, one-third of woods called Overwode, Nutherwod, and Dawesgrovē. Also one-third of all the pleas and perquisites of the courts, with the easements in Pondfalde, they paying one-third of the steward's fee. And these rents and services: Walter Ingelbye (10s.) and John Kent of Brewerne (2s.), bond tenants, with their bodies, William Couk (10s.), John Ryen (4s. 8d.), Robert Borchay [?] (4s.), the residue of the said Robert's rent remaining to the heir.

In Abylton the escheator assigned them one-third of the capital messuage towards the north, with free access by the door, one-third of a garden and a croft; also one-third of lands called . . . Inhowe, la Knolle, la Dunne, la Northdoune, Wyssewellegate [?], Rogerescroftes, Hauekesbergh, Braynesdene, Stwywardesham [?], land between the quarry and the "churchwey", and one-third of a certain meadow and of the pleas of court, paying their proportion of the steward's fee. Also the rents and services following: Ralph Pyccheres (16s.), Richard Urehull (4s.), part of the rent of Thomas Basset [?], . . . Wyryng (13s. 4d.), John atte Watere (6s. 8d.), 1 lb. of pepper and 1 bushel of wheat out of the tenement of John Ponter. He also assigned them 2 virgates of land, which John Roder and John Herte lately held. The said Thomas and Joan are to discharge one-third of the services due to the chief lords.

Sir Guy de Bryene, knight.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Monday after the Feast of St. Lawrence, 10 Richard II [1386], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Walter Boys, Peter Cappe, Thomas Flewelyn, Thomas Hathewy, Richard Palmere, William Dyke, Richard Walkere, William Habbegood, John Broke, John Phippes, Walter Wynter, and John Penyard, who say that

The manor of Oxenhale is held of Roger de Mortimer, Earl of March, as of the inheritance of Geoffrey de Chenevyle, as one-half a knight's fee. There are divers buildings there worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; a dovecot likewise worth nothing; a carucate of arable land, two-thirds of which are worth 16*s.* yearly when sown, after the harvest they lie in common; one-third lies fallow and in common every year. There are 6½ acres of meadow worth 10*s. 9d.*, after the mowing they lie in common till the Feast of the Purification. There is a park worth nothing beyond the maintenance of the game. There is an out-wood, the underwood of which is worth 40*d.* when it is cut, and the pasture nothing, because it lies in common. There is £6 2*s.* rents of free tenants, one-third of which is paid to Margaret Graunten [?] in dower. The pleas of the courts are worth nothing beyond the reprises.

Guy de Bryen the younger died on Monday after the Feast of the Purification last. He held the manor jointly with his wife Alice, who survives, under a feoffment made by Guy de Bryen the elder, Robert Whytyndon, and Morgan Gogh. The said Guy and Alice had issue Philippa, aged 6, and Elizabeth, now aged 4, who are daughters and heirs of the said Guy the younger.

John Taillour.

Inquisition taken at Cirencester before William Barewell, escheator, virtute officii, on the Feast of St. Oswald the Bishop, 9 Richard II [1385], by the oath of Philip Rodberwe, Nicholas Vey, William Arwyn, John Caumpedden, Richard atte Hyde, Hugh Tyndale, William atte Halle, Robert Clement, Reginald Mareys, Nicholas Stratton, William Oulepenne, and John James, who say that

John Taillour of Whydnton purchased a messuage, 20 acres of land, one toft, and 4 acres of meadow in Whydnton from Edmund Croupes, lord of Whydnton, as of that manor, without the King's licence, on Monday after the Feast of Purification, 30 Edward III [1356]; the premises are worth 12*d.* a year clear, and pay 5*s.* to the lord of Whydynton. In the same manner he purchased 2 acres of land there on St. Valentine's Day following, worth 12*d.* a year, paying a rent of a red rose. He took the profits of the premises for 8 [sic] years thereafter. The manor and the premises are held of the King by knight service.

On Monday after the Conversion of St. Paul, 48 Edward III [1374], without the King's licence he gave the premises to Elizabeth, daughter of William Taillour, in tail. She occupied till Thursday after the Feast of St. Barnabas, 8 Richard II [1384], when John Couele, then escheator, seised them into the King's hand on account of the said alienations.

Thomas de Welyngton.

Pleas before the King in his Chancery in the Octave of St. Michael, 9 Richard II [1385]. Whereas it was found by an inquisition taken by Hugh de Bysley that Thomas de Welyngton died seised of tenements in Sandhurst called Colverden [here is given in full the tenor of the inquisition, see p. 134 above], now John Poulet, chivaler, and Roger Roys of co. Devon, by Walter Willesdon, their attorney, come into the King's Chancery, and say that, whereas it was found by the said inquisition that the said Thomas de Welyngton held certain tenements as above for his life by grant of John de Welyngton, his deceased brother, with reversion to the said John and his heirs, and that his heir Ralph died under age, a ward to the King, they themselves were seised of the premises, in their demesne as of fee, long before the death of the said Thomas, by feoffment of John Moigne by his deed produced in court, dated at Culverden on Wednesday after the Feast of Bartholomew, 45 Edward III [1371]; and this they are prepared to prove, and they demand that the King's hands shall be removed. William de Hornby, for the King, says the fact is as in the inquisition. A jury is summoned between the parties in the Quinzaine of Martinmas next.

The said Earl on Thursday before the Nativity of the B.V.M. enfeoffed Sir Nicholas Stafford, knight, and others, with the manor of Estington and the advowson of the church of that manor; and made no other demise thereof to farm or otherwise until his death; and his feoffees have taken the profits ever since.

Another inquisition taken at Thornby before the abovesaid escheator 21st February, 10 Richard II [1387], by the oath of John Crook, John Weston, John Kent of Wyke, Matthew Walays, Walter Santemareys, Robert Chalkeley, William Broun, Robert Marener, Richard Wale, Ralph Gilpen, Thomas Burnel, and John Waller, who say that

Hugh, Earl of Stafford, was seised in his demesne as of fee, on the day he died, of the manor of Thornby with its members, viz., Oldeby, Kyngton, Morton, Falefeld, and Mars, worth nothing beyond the reprises [sic]. There is a water-mill, worth 10s.; 2 dovecots, worth 13s. 4d.; 4 carucates of demesne land, worth £6; 30 acres of demesne meadow, worth 35s. There is the free borough of Thornby with rents of assize of 100s. yearly. The rents of assize in the manor with its members are £40 6s. 4½d. Rents of the other demesne lands and of other tenements at will, £25. The winter, summer, and autumn works of divers customary tenants there are worth £20 14s. 3d. A rent called "Petruspeny", payable at the Feast of St. Peter ad Vincula, worth 6s. 8d. The pleas and perquisites of the view of frankpledge and court of the manor with its members, and the said borough, with the profit of a market in the said borough held every Saturday, are worth £4 5s. The view of frankpledge held twice a year at Oldelond, at Easter and Michaelmas, is worth at farm 13s. 4d. There is a court held at the manor of Thornbury every three weeks, called the Court of the Fee of the Honour of Gloucester, worth 10s.

The said Earl was also seised of yearly rents of 10s. out of certain tenements in the vill of Gloucester, and of a court held there every three weeks, worth 6s. 6d.

He was also seised of the manor of Rendecombe, with the advowson of the church of that manor, with lands and tenements in Sareney and the advowson of the church of Sareney. In the manor of Rendecombe there is one carucate of demesne land, worth 26s. 8d.; 6 acres of meadow, worth 6s.; 60s. rents of assize in Rendecombe and Sareney; farm rents of other demesne lands, 8s. 8d. Pleas and perquisites of the manor court, 3s. 4d.

The Earl was seised of the following knights' fees: 2½ fees in Ryndecombe and Hertwyk, held by Thomas de la Mare and Robert de la Mare; 2 fees in Doynton, by John de Tracy; one fee in Charfeld, which Peter le Veel holds; 6 fees in Tokynton and Swell, which Nicholas Poyntz formerly held; 8½ fees in Hampton Meisy with the members, which Lord le Seymour formerly held; one fee in Estlecche, which William de Lecche lately held; one fee in Tydrynton, lately held by William de Clynton; one fee in Baggeworth and Shardyngton, held by Richard, son of Gilbert Talbot; another fee in the said vills, by Lord Daudele : one fee in Eldresfeld, by Thomas de Berkeley of Cobburley; one fee in Chaddresley Corbet, which William Corbet formerly held; one fee in Oxendon and Aston, formerly held by Lord de Tipedot; one fee in Kynemarton, Aston, and Wodington, held by William de Beauchamp; half a fee in Mangotsfeld, which Edmund Blount lately held; $1\frac{1}{2}$ fees in Bykenton, held by Matthew Gournay; one fee in Kynendon, formerly held by John de Bures; 2 fees in Akelysdon and Aldryngton, formerly held by John de Akelyston; one-fifth fee in Shardyngton, which William Cropet lately held; one-fifth fee in Shenyndon, which John Pecche lately held; another one-fifth fee there held by Ralph de Stafford; one-fifth fee in . . . by Lambert de la More; half a fee in Benham, formerly held by Henry de Harpetre; one-fifth fee in Lydene, which Robert de Lydene formerly held; one-fifth fee in Sutton, formerly held by Richard de Sutton; . . . in Walkote, which the heirs of Sevari de Walcote formerly held; 2 fees in Walton Kerdyf formerly held by Edward . . . ; one fee in Bawdynton, which Simon le Basset lately held; one-third fee in Grawell formerly held by Alan . . . ; half a fee in Thad', which the heirs of Baldwin de Lisle formerly held; one-eighth fee in Middilton, which Robert de Ferby formerly held; one-eighth fee there, formerly held by the heirs of Thomas Tox; one-fifth fee in Knobourne, of the Marshall's fee, which Andrew de la Beche formerly held; one fee in Irenacton by Robert le . . . ; . . . fee in Dekelysdon and Alryngton, held by the same Robert; one-third fee in Littelmarsfeld by James . . . ; . . . of a fee in Oldelond, Upton, and la Beche, which John de Buttan lately held; one fee in R[odemarton, Welford, and Estlegh] called Chamberleys; 2 fees in Sharcole, Northcote, and Preston, held by Thomas de Raly; [half a fee in Sodington] called Barebastes; 2 fees in Kynmerton, Aston, and Badyngton, which John de Dikelysdon formerly held.

All the aforesaid manors are held of the King in chief as parcel of the Honour of Gloucester.

The said Hugh died 14th October last. Thomas, his son and heir, is aged 18 and more.

Hundreds of Kiftegate, Holford and Greston.

Return to a writ directed to the Treasurer and Barons of the Exchequer (3rd April, 14 Richard II [1391]), instructing them to search their records to ascertain what the said Hundreds, with the fair of Wynchecombe and other fairs to the said Hundreds belonging, used to pay to Edward III.

They return that a search does not show for what sum the premises used to answer to Edward III, because Henry III in the 55th year of his reign [1271] committed the county of Gloucester with the fairs of Wynchecombe to the then sheriff, at a farm of 80 marks beyond the ancient farm, and this farm has been paid ever since (Memoranda Roll, 55 Henry III, and subsequent rolls). But search has shown that among the Precepts of Hilary Term, 24 Edward III [1350], rot. 4, that in 43 Henry III [1259], before the said county was committed to farm as abovesaid, the sheriff, then approver, accounted thus: for 38*s.* 2*d.* rents of assize of Wynchecombe; 26*s.* 8*d.* for the view of frankpledge of that vill; 2*s.* 8*d.* for flodgavel and smergavel; 16*s.* for toll of the market; 18*s.* for the pleas and perquisites of that vill; £10 5*s.* for the toll and perquisites of the fairs there; £6 16*s.* 1*d.* for the view of frankpledge of the Hundreds of Holeford and Greston, and again for 50 marks; for 57*s.* the pleas and perquisites thereof; for £6 6*s.* 1*d.* for the view of frankpledge, hokedaysilver, and wardepeny of the Hundred of Kyftesgate; for 68*s.* the pleas and perquisites thereof. Total, £35 9*s.* 2*d.* Of this deductions were made, £4 for the expenses of the keepers of the fairs; 5*s.* for a house hired for collecting the toll. Net total, £31 4*s.* 2*d.*

It was also found, in an inquisition taken between Edward III and John Musard, to whom he had granted the bailiwick of the Hundreds of Kiftegate and Greston for term of his life, that Kiftegate [sic] and Greifton were anciently called the Hundred of Kyftesgate, Holeford, Greston and Wynchecombe in the county of Gloucester, and that they were and ought to be one and the same Hundred called Kiftegate [sic] and Greifton, which the same John held in that 24th year [1350], and that Kyftesgate, Holeford, Greston and Wynchecombe, and the vill of Wynchecombe (except the toll and perquisites of the fairs of that vill, which Simon Basset, then sheriff, and all other sheriffs of the county had always had in aid of the farm of the county, to wit, from 9 o'clock on the Vigil of St. Kenelm the Martyr to 3 o'clock on the morrow of that feast) belonged and always had belonged to the said Hundred of Kystegate and Greifton, as members and parcels thereof, and had always been accustomed so to be demised by the sheriff for the time being for £32 a year in aid of his farm, before the bailiwick was granted by Edward III as is aforesaid; and that since that grant the bailiwick was always worth £32 a year. (Pipe Roll, 24 Edward III and following years.)

Priory of Lanthony.

Pleadings before the King in his Chancery in the Quinzaine of Trinity, 14 Richard II [1391].

Gloucester: It was found by inquisition taken before John Gomond, escheator, amongst other things, that John Heede, on Monday before the Feast of the Purification of the B.V.M., 11 Richard II [1388], without the King's licence, gave to William Cheryngton, now Prior of Lanthony, an unoccupied piece of ground in Southgatestrete, Gloucester, between the wall of the town and the chapel of St. Keneburg, which is held of the King in chief. The priory afterwards built a house upon it. Thereupon the Prior, by John Frank and John Clere, his attorneys, delivered into Chancery a certain Royal writ of privy seal setting forth that whereas the Prior had recovered by assise of novel disseisin taken before Robert de Cherlton, John Cassy, and Richard Abburbury against the bailiffs and commonalty of Gloucester a certain messuage there, this messuage was found by escheator's inquisition to be in the King's hands, so that the Prior did not dare to take possession of it; and directing that full seisin be given to the Prior. Dated at Westminster, 16th June, 14 Richard II [1391]. The Prior's petition is recited; it states that the town procured the escheator's inquisition to the effect that the Prior had acquired the land without licence.

Upon the advice of the justices, sergeants at law, and others of the King's counsel, letters patent were issued to the said Robert de Cherlton and his associates, directing them to inquire and certify concerning the premises, the tenor of which letters (dated 16th June, 14 Richard II [1391]) is here recited. They return the finding of an inquisition as follows: that John Bannebury and Robert Pope, bailiffs of Gloucester, and the community of that town by craft induced the escheator to inquire concerning the premises, and that a false presentment was made before him to the effect that the Prior acquired the messuage in 11 Richard II [1387-8] from the said John Heede, whereas in truth John Heyhamstede, predecessor of the present Prior, was seised of the place in which the messuage is built in right of his church in the time of Henry III, and all his predecessors from time immemorial.

Thereupon the now Prior continued the process to the Quinzaine of Michaelmas, when he appeared by his said attorneys, and said that the unoccupied piece of land and the place on which the messuage is built are one and the same, and demanded restitution and livery of the said messuage with all the issues thereof from the time it was taken into the King's hands. William de Hornby, for the King, acknowledged that they were one and the same, but contended that John Heede alienated to the Prior as found by the escheator's inquisition. On this point they join issue. A day is given them till the Quinzaine of St. Martin, and the sheriff is ordered to summon a jury of 24 men.

Manor of Haukesbury.

TENOR of the record and process before the Barons of the Exchequer in Easter Term, 13 Richard II [1390], returned into Chancery in accordance with a writ dated 1st June, 14 Richard II [1391].

It was presented by an inquisition taken at Sobbyr on Thursday after the Feast of St. John the Baptist, 13 Richard II [1389], before John de Berkeley and Maurice Russell, chivalers, and their associates, under letters patent, directing them to inquire concerning certain articles, by the oath of William Haukyn [? Hankyn], John Frensch, and others, whose names are recorded in the inquisition delivered into the Exchequer by John de Burton, clerk of the Rolls of Chancery, that the Abbot of Pershore holds one manor called Haukesbury of the foundation of the King and his progenitors in frankalmoine, for hospitality to knights, esquires, and other gentlefolk passing the abbey, which alms he withdrew about six years since, and still withdraws, to the grave prejudice of the King. The manor is worth £50 a year, therefore the arrears are £300, for which the Abbot is answerable to the King. The Abbot was attached to be here on the morrow of the close of Easter, to show cause, if any, etc., why the manor ought not for this reason to be seised into the King's hands.

On that day the Abbot comes by John Wycombe, his attorney, and, as regards the abovesaid presentment, says that he holds the manor in right of his church, and his predecessors from time immemorial have held it in frankalmoine, but not as above supposed for hospitality, etc.

A jury of 18 knights, etc., is to be summoned for the Quinzaine of Holy Trinity. For want of jurors hearing is adjourned from term to term till the following Easter Term [1391], when John Cassy, Chief Baron of the Exchequer, delivers in an inquisition taken before him at Gloucester on St. Ambrose Day, 14 Richard II [1390]. Lawrence Sebrook being associated with him according to the statute, the Abbot being present by William Broun, his attorney, by the oath of Thomas Monemouth, Thomas Tresham, and others, who say that the Abbot holds the manor as he himself claims, without any obligation as supposed by the former inquisition.

Proof of Age of Joan and Margaret, daughters and heirs of John de Awre.

Inquisition taken at Newenham, 18th November, 14 Richard II [1390], before John Skydemore, escheator, at the instance of David ap Ynor, husband of the said Joan, and Richard de Awre, husband of Margaret.

John Kaweyn, Nicholas Boughton, Richard Foxley, and John Wheelar, aged 60, say that Joan was born at Awre, 31st March, 46 Edward III [1372], and baptized in the church there, and they remember the date because on that day they were in the company of the said John de Awre at Gloucester before the Justices of Assize, when news was brought him of the birth of the said Joan.

James Gayner, Richard Bray, Thomas Bray, and Thomas Smyth, aged 40, remember because on that day they set out in pilgrimage to the sepulchre of St. James.

William Heede, John de Yate, Richard de Staur, and John Feld, aged 50, recollect the date because John de Awre's bakehouse was burnt the same day.

They say Margaret was born at Awre on St. Mary Magdalén's Day, 48 Edward III [1374], and baptized in the church there. On that day John Seysell's son fell into the well opposite John de Awre's house, and was drowned; on the day following John de Awre began to rebuild his bakery. On the day she was born the said John Kaweyn's ship, called St. Mary Cook, sailed for Bordeaux.

John atte Wode, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Wednesday before the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul, 15 Richard II [1392], before Thomas Wakwayn, escheator, by the oath of John Brownyng, Thomas Moryn, Robert Eade, John Burne, William Wygod, Thomas Be mound, Thomas . . ., . . . Wotton, John Halle, William Ace, John Lorwynch, and John Thomas, who say that

The said John held for term of his life the Hundred of Kiftsgate, Holford and Grefton, by grant of King Edward III, paying no rent. Richard II has given the said Hundred to Wynchcombe Abbey, with waifs and strays, chattels of felons and fugitives, view of frankpledge, and all other liberties and profits thereto belonging, to be held by their own steward; also the fairs and markets to be held as is customary in the vill of Wynchcombe; in reversion after the death of the said John, at a fee farm payable into the Exchequer, as has been heretofore accustomed. The premises are worth £20 yearly beyond the reprises.

The said John died 27th November last. John, son and heir of John Beauchamp of Holt, his next heir, is aged 14 and more.

Fulk FitzWaryn, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Monday before St. Clement's Day, 15 Richard II [1391], before John Gomond, escheator, by the oath of John atte Wode, John Bo . . ., senior, Richard Noreys, Thomas Hatherley, Nicholas Styward, John Hatherley, Matthew Clyfford, William Mattesden, John Clerk of Crykeley, John Wynyard, Simon Uske, and William Kemote, who say that

The said Fulk on Monday before the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, 8. Richard II, by his charter now produced to the jurors, gave his manor of Bentham to John, vicar of the church of Wantyng, John Crook, William de Brydesale, and John Marchall of Betteley, who were in possession at the time of his death, and still survive. The manor is held of the Earl of Stafford by knight service, and is worth 10 marks a year clear.

The said Fulk died on Tuesday before the Feast of St. Lawrence last past. Fulk, his son and heir, was aged 2 on the Feast of the Invention of the Holy Cross last past.

John Paulet, chivaler.

Inquisition taken . . . [the earlier part being illegible] . . .
15 Richard II, upon a writ is dated 27th January, 15 Richard II
[1392].

The calendar gives that he was seised of two-thirds of the manor of Frematon Bedall, and a messuage and carucate of land in Colverden next Gloucester.

He appears to have been one of the feoffees of the manor of Yate, settled on Ralph de Welyngton and Joan his wife and the heirs of Ralph; she survives. The manor is held of the Bishop of Worcester by a rent of 33*s. 4d.* yearly, and by knight service, and is worth £16 13*s. 4d.* a year beyond the reprises; also of the manor of Polton and a messuage and land in Westonbrut, formerly belonging to John de Welyngton, chivaler, to whose heir, John de Welyngton, they demised the premises till his coming of age. The manor of Polton is held of the heirs of the Earl of Warwick by knight service, and is worth £4 . . . yearly beyond the reprises. The tenements in Westonbrut are held of the Abbot of Cirencestre by knight service, and are worth 23*s. 4d.* yearly clear.

The said John Paulet died 8th December last. John, son and heir of Ralph, son of John de Welyngton aforesaid, aged 16, is next heir of the said John de Welyngton.

In co. Cornwall the said John Paulet held certain property in right of his deceased wife Margaret, whose heirs were her sisters Joan, wife of William Maleherbe, Isabel, wife of John Hillygan, and Anastasia, wife of Edmund Beket. In other counties he appears to have held only for life, by the grant of the said John de Welyngton the elder.

John Gabbe alias Wycheleye of Penington.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 29th January, 15 Richard II

The said John Gabbe alias Wycheleye, held of the King in chief one messuage, 42 acres of land, and 6 acres of meadow in Sondhurst, by the service of paying 13*s. 4d.* yearly into the Exchequer by the hands of the sheriff for the time being. Without the King's licence he alienated the premises to John Frankhomme and Catherine his wife in tail, with contingent remainder to John, son of Thomas Styward. The premises are worth 20*d.* yearly beyond the reprises, and not more because they are frequently submerged by the overflow of the Severn. The said escheator seised the premises into the King's hands for the reason aforesaid on the said day.

John Tymmes and others.

Inquisition taken at Wynchecombē on St. Bartholomew's Day, 16 Richard II [1392], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Thomas Keys, Robert Vyleyn, Walter Sloughtre, Philip Boter, Robert Grant, Thomas Moryn, John Stevenes, Thomas Bemond, William Sclattere, William Charyngworth, William Caldecote, and John Daftyn, who say that

It would be no prejudice to the King or any other to allow John Tymmes, chaplain, Thomas Pope, Ellen Pope, John Forstall, and William Soke, to grant 2 messuages, 20 acres of land, 8 acres of meadow, and 2 acres of wood in Mayesmore to the Abbey of St. Peter of Gloucester, and to allow Edmund Toky to give a toft in Gloucester, and Lawrence Messenger to give an acre of land in Elmore to the same house, in aid of their maintenance. The premises in Mayesmore are held of the Abbey by fealty and the service of 26*s. 5d.* yearly; the Abbot holds of the King in frankalmoyn; they are worth 6*s. 8d.* beyond the reprises. The toft is held of the King in burgage by the service of 2*½d.*, and is worth 6*d.* clear. The land in Maismore is held of Richard Talbot by the service of 2*d.*, and is worth 6*d.* yearly beyond that rent; Talbot holds of the King. There will remain to the grantors tenements worth 20 marks yearly.

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow William Waspe, vicar of the church of Brayles, and Philip Fortheye, late parson of Adbryghton, to grant 12 messuages, one toft, 3 carucates of land, 9 acres of meadow, 3 acres of wood, and 7*s.* 2*d.* rents in Hildesleigh and Haukesbury to the Abbey of Pershore, in part satisfaction of lands, etc., of the yearly value of £20, which they have licence to acquire under letters patent of Edward III. The premises are held of the Abbot as of his manor of Haukesbury, by the service of 4*s.* yearly and service twice a year at his court there. Besides the rents they are worth £7 6*s.* 4*d.* a year beyond the reprises. The jurors do not know whether the grantors would retain any property beyond the above grant.

Richard Busshel of Brodemershton.

Inquisition taken at Wynchcombe on Thursday after the Feast of the Annunciation, 15 Richard II [1392], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Thomas Eode, John Burne, John

Stevenes, John Knulle, Thomas Frankeleyn, Philip Boter, John Fremon, John Wotton, Thomas Ace, William Charyngworth, Lawrence Gotewode, and Henry Roys, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow the said Richard Bussel to grant one messuage, 3 virgates of land, 6 acres of meadow and 4 acres of pasture in Drymerston, 3 messuages in Wynchecombe, and 2 acres of land and half an acre of meadow in Cotes next Wynchecombe to Wynchecombe Abbey, to find two wax tapers weighing 12 lb. to burn every day before the high altar in the church of St. Kenelm of Wynchecombe at the Mass with music [cum nota]. The premises in Drymerston are held of the Abbot by the service of 23s. 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ d., fealty and suit at his court of Drymerston every three weeks. One of the said messuages is held of the Abbot by the service of 14d., and each of the others by the service of 7d. and fealty; the land in Cotes by the service of 1d. and fealty. The whole are worth 26s. 8d. yearly beyond the reprises. The grantor will retain sufficient to discharge all customs and services.

Thomas Cole and others.

Inquisition taken at Wynchecombe on the Monday preceding the last by the oath of the same jurors except that here Robert Eode replaces Thomas Eode, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Thomas Cole, John de Eberton, and John Herberd, chaplain, to grant a messuage, a toft, and 4 virgates of land in Nether Swell to the Abbey of Hayles; and to allow John Swell to grant another messuage and one carucate of land there to the same house, and the same John Swell and William Croys to grant them one messuage and a virgate of land in Langberewe, in part satisfaction of lands, etc., to the yearly value of £20, which they have licence to acquire under letters patent of Edward III.

All the tenements in Nether Swell are held of the Abbot as of his manor of Swell by knight service, and are worth 40s. clear; the Abbot holds of the King, by what service the jurors do not know. The premises in Langberewe are held of William Greyuel by the service of 8d., and are worth 10s.; he holds of the King. The grantors would retain sufficient land, etc., to enable them to discharge their responsibilities.

Lanthony Priory.

Pleas before the King in his Chancery at Westminster in the Octaves of St. John the Baptist, 15 Richard II [1391].

It was found by an inquisition taken ex officio before John Gomond, escheator, in co. Gloucester, that William Pyndebury, late Prior of Lanthony, purchased a tenement in Southzatstrete, Gloucester, in which William Corueser now lives next Shepelane, a messuage in Kymburystrete, set on the south side of the wall of the town, and a tenement in Southzatestrete between the tenement of John Calewey on the north and the shop formerly Robert Aston's on the south, which shop stands at the corner of Southzatestrete. Also that William Chiriton, now Prior, purchased a tenement in Southzatestrete in which Elias Porter and other tenants now dwell, on the south side of the tenement of Richard Cofermaker, and an empty plot of ground there on the north of the tenement where David Carpenter now lives, all without licence from the King.

Now the Prior by John Clerk and John Frank, clerks, his attorneys, appears in the King's Chancery and says that John Heyhamstede, formerly Prior, was seised of all the tenements in right of his church in the time of Henry III, to wit, long before the passing of the Statute of Mortmain, and that all his predecessors have been seised thereof from time immemorial, until he himself was dispossessed under the abovesaid inquisition.

In like manner it was found by the said inquisition that the now Prior purchased without licence a tenement with shops in the suburbs of Gloucester outside Southgate, between John Hudy's tenement on the north and that in which John Couentre dwells on the south. And upon this John Keche, son and heir of John Keche, by the said attorneys comes into the Chancery, and pleads that one Amice Griffitz was lately seised of the premises in her demesne as of fee, and by her deed, produced in court, dated at Gloucester on Saturday before the Feast of St. James, 8 Richard II [1385], she therewith enfeoffed Simon Swanerib and the said John Keche, the father, who survived Simon, and died seised thereof, and was succeeded therein by his son until he was dispossessed by colour of the said inquisition.

It was likewise found by the said inquisition that the said Prior purchased without licence a tenement in Southgatestrete, set between the church of All Saints on the north and the highway on the south. Thereupon comes Walter Whelere of Heyhamstude, by the said attorneys, and alleges that a fine was levied in the King's court before Robert de Cherlton and his associates, Justices of the Court of Common Pleas, in one month from Easter, 11 Richard II [1388], between himself as plaintiff and Walter Oudeby and Margery, his wife, deforciants, of the said tenement under the name of one shop in Gloucester, by which he acquired the same to him and his heirs, with warranty against the heirs of Margery, and was seised thereof until dispossessed as above.

William de Horneby for the King puts forward the findings of the inquisition. The parties join issue, and a day is appointed in the Quinzaine of Michaelmas, against which the sheriff is to summon a jury of twenty-four as well knights as other honest and lawful men of the neighbourhood of Gloucester.

John, son and heir of Elizabeth Gissard.

Inquisition taken before Robert Whytyngton, escheator, at Gloucester, on the Tuesday before St. Gregory's Day, 16 Richard II [1393], by the oath of Walter Toky, Simon Uske, Henry Semes [?], John Uphathurleye, William Kemote, John Matteson, John Wynyard, William Matteson of Snedham, John Smythe of Brokeworth, William Jones, John Frankeleyn, and Walter Okholt, junior, who say that

The said John died under age, a ward to the King, holding in his demesne as of fee tail one manor called Kyngeshome next Gloucester, under feoffment made by . . . Godleye to John Daubeny and Cicely, his wife, progenitors of the said John, viz. parents of Elias, father of his mother Elizabeth.

The said John died without issue on Monday before St. Peter ad Vincula last. His heirs are William Matteson Droys, son and heir of Maud, daughter of the said John Daubeny and Cicely, and sister of the said Elias; Eva, wife of Simon Cadel, daughter and heir of Christian, another sister of Maud and Elias; Cicely Sage, also their sister; all aged 40 and more; and John Swonhonger, son and heir of the fourth sister, Isabel, aged 18.

Thomas, Earl of Stafford.

Inquisition taken at Thornbury on Thursday before the Feast of St. Bartholomew, 16 Richard II [1392], before Thomas Walewayn, escheator, by the oath of Geoffrey Wynebaude, Richard Cook, Thomas Fayre, Richard Cantok, William Wykewyke, John Goddeston, William Nasshe, William Webbe, Robert Chalkeley, Thomas Wykewyke, John Walkere, and John Collewell, who say that

The said Earl was seised of the manor of Thornbury with its members, to wit, Oldebury, Kyngton, Moreton, Falefeld, and Mars, held of the King as parcel of the Honour of Gloucester, by what service the jurors do not know. There are in the said manor divers buildings worth nothing a year beyond the reprises; there are rents, services, and other profits as follows, viz., a water-mill, worth 10s.; 2 dovecots, worth 13s. 4d.; 4 carucates of land, worth £6; 30 acres of demesne meadow, worth 35s. The free borough of Thornbury, with rents of assize, is worth 100s. The rents of assize of the manor and its members amount to £34 5s., and not more because 2 annuities of 66s. 8d. granted by the late Earl to Robert Wright and Thomas Turffyn are payable out of these rents for term of their lives. Of rents of the demesne lands held by tenants at will there is £25. The winter, summer, and autumn works of divers customary tenants are worth £20 14s. 3d. There is a rent called Petruspeny, worth 6s. 10d., payable at the Feast of St. Peter ad Vincula. The pleas and perquisites of the view of frankpledge and court of the manor with its members, and of the said borough, with the profits of a market held there every Saturday, are worth £4 5s. in the year. There is a view of frankpledge held at Easter and Michaelmas every year at Oldeland, worth at farm 13s. 4d. There is a court held every three weeks at the manor of Thornbury, called the court of the fee of the Honour of Gloucester, worth 10s. a year.

The said Earl was likewise seised in fee of an annual rent payable by certain tenants in the vill of Gloucester, worth 10s.; and of a court held there every three weeks, worth 6s. 8d.; held of the King in chief, by what service the jurors do not know.

He held also in demesne the manor of Rynecombe, with certain lands, etc., in Sarney, of the King in chief by knight service. In this manor there is one carucate of demesne land, worth 26s. 8d. a year; 6 acres of meadow, worth 6s.; 60s. rents of assize in Rynecombe and Sarney; 8s. 8d. farms and rents of the demesne lands; the pleas and perquisites of the courts are worth 3s. 4d.

The said Earl Thomas died 4th July last. William, son of Hugh, late Earl of Stafford, brother of the said Thomas, is his next heir, and is aged 14 and more [other inquisitions say 16].

Extent of knights' fees and advowsons of churches belonging to the said late Earl, taken as above.

The said Earl held 2½ fees in Rendecombe and Hertewyk, held of him by Thomas de la Mare and Robert de la Mare, worth £73 a year; 2 fees in Doynton, held by William Tray [sic], worth £60; one fee in Charefeld, by Peter le Veel, worth £20; 6 fees in Tokynton and Swell, formerly held by Nicholas Poyntz, worth £170; 8½ fees in Hampton Moisy, which Lord le Seymor formerly held, worth £200; one fee in Estlecche, which William de Leche lately held, worth £40; one fee in Tydryngton, lately held by William de Clynton, worth £10; one fee in Baggeworth and Shardyngton, held by Richard, son of Gilbert Talbot, worth £40; another fee in the same vill, by Lord Daudele, worth £40; one fee in Eldresfeld, by Thomas Berkeley of Cobberley, worth £40; one fee in Chaddersley Corbet, which William Corbet formerly held, worth £40; half a fee in Oxendon and Aston, which Lord de Tepetot formerly held, worth £15; one fee in Kynemarton, Aston and Wodyngton, held by William de Beauchamp, worth £40; half a fee in Mangotesfeld, which Edmund Blount lately held, worth £10; 1½ fees in Bykenton, held by Matthew Gournay, worth £40; one fee in Kynmerton, which John de Bures formerly held, worth £20; 2 fees in Akelesdon and Aldryngton, formerly held by John de Akelesdon, worth £10; ½ fee in Shardyngton, which William Cropet lately held, worth 100s.; one fee in Dodynton, held by Maud Cauntelo, worth £34; ½ fee in Shenyndon, which John Pecche lately held, worth 100s.; ½ fee there which Ralph de Stafford holds, worth 100s.; ½ fee there which Lambert de la More formerly held, worth 100s.; half a fee in Benham, which Henry de Harlentre formerly held, worth 100s.; ½ fee in Lydeney, formerly held by Robert de Lydeney, worth 100s.; ½ fee in Sutton, formerly held by Richard de Sutton, worth 100s.; half a fee in Walkote, formerly held by the heirs of Seuar de Walcote, worth 100s.; 2 fees in Waltonkerdyf, lately held by Edward de Kerdyf, worth £50; one fee in Raudynton, formerly held by Simon Basset, worth £10; $\frac{1}{3}$ fee in Grawell, formerly held by Alan de Grawell, worth 40s.; half fee in Thad, which the heirs of Baldwin de Lisle formerly held, worth 40s.; $\frac{1}{3}$ fee in Middelton, which Robert Ferby formerly held, worth 13s. 4d.; $\frac{1}{3}$ fee there, formerly held by the heirs of Thomas Tox, worth 20s.; $\frac{1}{3}$ fee in Kneburn, formerly held by Andrew de la Beche, worth 20s.; one fee in Irenacton, held by Robert le Poynz, worth £30; $\frac{1}{3}$ fee in Litelmarsfeld, by James de Berkeley, worth £10; $\frac{1}{3}$ fee in Oldelond, Upton, and Beche, which John de Button lately held, worth £10; one fee in Didmarton, Welford, and Estlecche, called Chamberleyns, worth £30; 2 fees in Sharcote, Northcote, and Preston, held by Thomas de Raly, worth £48; half a fee in Sodynton called Barebascet, worth 100s.; 2 fees in Kynmerton and Badyngton, which John de Dykelesdon lately held, worth £70.

He held the advowsons of the churches of Sareney, worth £10, and Rendecombe, worth 100s.*

The Will of Bristol.

Inquisition taken at Bristol before Walter Seymor, sheriff of that vill, in the Guildhall there, on Friday before the Feast of St. Vincent, 16 Richard II [1393], by the oath of John Burton, Walter Trebell, Walter Wynter, James Cokkys, Hugh Carleton, Henry Roper, Hugh

* The discrepancies between this list of fees and that on pp. 151 and 152 above exist in the originals.

Plommer, Adam Inhyue, William Dyer, Walter Martyn, Ralph Bradewey, and Walter Portlond, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow the mayor and commonalty of Bristol to enter into a messuage, 14 shops and one toft in Bristol, after the death of Cicely, who was wife of Richard Spicer, to hold the same to them and their successors, to support divers charges set forth in the will of the said Richard Spicer. The premises are held of the Priory of St. James of Bristol by a rent of 6*s.* 8*d.* a year, and are charged with ancient rents of assize of 8*d.* to Shaftesbury Abbey, 6*s.* to the churchwardens of St. Nicholas, 18*d.* to Edmund Arthur, and 1*2d.* to St. John's Hospital.

Roger Barbour.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Wednesday after the Feast of St. John the Baptist, 16 Richard II [1392], before Thomas Walwayn, escheator, by the oath of Walter Toky, Thomas Steunes, John Matteson, Simon Usque, Walter Okholt the elder, William Matteson of Snedham, Walter Cady, William Elkyns, Walter Okholt the younger, John Uphatherley, John Smythe of Brockeworth, and John Longedon, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Roger Barbour to grant 4 messuages and 3 shops in Gloucester and Stanley St. Leonard to Sir Roger, chaplain of St. Mary in St. Mary's Church before the gate of St. Peter's Abbey, Gloucester, in aid of the maintenance of himself and his successors for ever. The premises are held of the said Abbey by the service of 9*s.* 8*4d.* yearly, and are worth 4*s.* 6*d.* clear, and not more, because they are in very bad condition. Roger would retain sufficient to discharge all his responsibilities.

Beatrice, who was wife of Richard de Burley, chivaler.

Commission dated 22nd Nov., 12 Richard II [1388], directed to the escheators of cos. Gloucester and Hereford, setting forth that the King is given to understand that the said Beatrice held, in co. Gloucester, a pourparty of the manors of Kilcote and Teynton, for her life, with remainder to Simon de Beurleye, chivaler (now deceased, who forfeited to the Crown), for his life, then to the right heirs of the said Richard; also that she conveyed her estate therein to the said Simon, to whom also William de Burley, brother and heir of the said Richard, afterwards released all his rights therein, so that the said Simon died seised thereof; and directing inquiry to be made.

Writ, dated 9th March, 16 Richard II [1393], for return into chancery of an inquisition made by the escheators touching one-fourth of the manors of Teynton and Kilkote, by virtue of the above commission.

Inquisition taken at Morton Valens, 8th April, 12 Richard II [1389], before William Castellacre, chivaler, and William Heyberere, by the oath of John Harsefeld, Nicholas Mauncell, William Brockeworth, Stephen Hook, John atte Mulle, Thomas Pipere, William Freeman, John Freeman, Robert Graunt, William Hulle, John Taillour of Longeneye, and John Clerk of Elsmore, who say that

The said Beatrice was seised of the said fourth part after her husband's death, as jointly enfeoffed with him, and that she conveyed and William de Burleye quitclaimed to the said Simon, as in the commission is set forth, so that Simon died seised thereof. The said fourth part is worth 6*s.* 8*d.* yearly.

Thomas Pope and others.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Tuesday after the Feast of St. James the Apostle, 16 Richard II [1392], before Thomas Walwayn, escheator, by the oath of Stephen Pope, Richard Iremond, William Hornecastell, William Eldesfeld, Benedict Morewyn, William Baghot, Henry Benet, William fitz Waryn, John Dawe, Thomas Bredon, John Muleward, and Thomas Grene, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Thomas, son and heir of John Pope, goldsmith, John Yde, John Ubbeleye, William Manchestre, Cradock Phelippes, Robert Skynnere, and John Tymmes, chaplain, to grant 6 messuages, one toft, 2 shops, and 2*s.* 8*d.* rents in Gloucester and its suburbs to the chaplain of St. Mary's chantry in the church of the Holy Trinity of Gloucester. All but one shop are held of the burgesses of Gloucester as of the vill of Gloucester, which they hold at fee farm of the Crown, by the service of 6*d.* yearly; the sixth messuage is held of the Abbey of St. Peter, Gloucester, as of King's Berton next Gloucester, held likewise at fee farm, by the service of suit at court. They are worth only 19*s.* 8*d.* beyond the rents, because they are all in very bad condition. The grantors would still retain tenements held of the said burgesses, by what services the jurors do not know, worth £20 a year.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Thursday after the Feast of the Nativity of the B.V.M., 16 Richard II [1392], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John Leycester, William Wyntryngham, Henry Smyth, John Tannere, Robert Haukere, John Walker, John Camme, John Morton, William Dyare, Thomas Bakere, Thomas Lydeney, and Nicholas Sheremon, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Edward Taverner, John Conestable, William Taverner, and Simon Bakere of Gloucestre, to give 6 messuages in the suburbs of Gloucester and 3s. rents out of certain tenements there to the chaplain of the Carver [?(Carvarii)] chantry in St. Michael's chapel, annexed to the church of St. Oswald of Gloucester, in aid of the maintenance of himself and his successors. One of the said messuages is held of Teukesbury Abbey by the service of 18d.; the residue of the premises of St. Oswald's priory by the service of 12d. The messuages are worth 12s. 4d. a year clear, and not more, because they are in bad state and often unoccupied for that reason. The grantors would still retain sufficient to enable them to discharge their responsibilities.

Richard Baskerville.

Proof of age of Richard Baskerville, son and heir of Richard Baskerville, chivaler, who held of the heir of William de Ferrers, chivaler, a ward to Edward III and the now King, taken at Newent on Christmas Eve, 16 Richard II [1392], before Robert de Whytynton, escheator.

Thomas [?] Sowthorne, aged 62, says that the said Richard was born at Baskervillescombe on Wednesday before the Feast of the Purification, 44 Edward III [1370], and baptized in the church there. He recollects it well because he was in the church when the father Richard was summoned to Stowe St. Edward before the sheriff of Gloucester on sundry business to be done there for the King.

Thomas Lewelin and Nicholas Wabyn [?], aged 60, remember because Peter Cappe, who was bailiff of the King's Hundred of Sloughtre, summoned them to be at St. Edwardestowe as above, and they came through the vill of Baskervillescombe, and heard the Mass, and saw the said Richard, son of Richard, baptized.

Peter Cappe, Richard Fulmer, and Walter Wynter recollect because they were there with Walter Heyne, one of the godparents, in connexion with the rebuilding of a house of his, and went into the church, and there saw one Margaret Fources, the godmother, holding the said Richard at the font.

John Rodeley, Stephen Crounemer, and Richard Miles, aged 50, remember because Christian, daughter of William de Leyelone, was married to Ralph Duddon in the said church, and they were at the Mass, and offered with the said Ralph, and then they saw Thomas, rector of the said church, baptizing the said Richard there.

William Markle and William Faukener, aged 48, remember the date because James, son of John le Vynor, . . . at the first Mass he celebrated in the said church, and they offered with him there, and . . . the said Richard received to be baptized.

Thomas Rodberghe.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on the Monday after Palm Sunday, 16 Richard II [1393], before Robert Whytyngton, escheator, virtute officii, by the oath of John Clifford, William de Alre, John Thomas, John Matteson, John Bryd, Thomas Heydon, John the Mon, Robert Kyngton, John atte Noke, Reynold Clerk, William Webbe, and John Uphathirlegh, who say that

Thomas Rodberghe, deceased, was seised, in his demesne as of fee, of the manor of Rodberghe, and tenements in Thrope, Hertford, Ebbeleye, and Nategrave. He married one Alice, and conveyed the premises to Philip Rodberghe, Thomas Hanwell, parson of Nategrave, and John Upcote, for the purpose of a settlement on himself and the said Alice, and the heirs of his body, with contingent remainders in tail male successively, to his brother William, to the said Philip and Philip's brother Richard. The said Thomas Rodberghe afterwards went abroad, and during his absence the said feoffees gave seisin to Alice, making a settlement with remainders as above stated, but adding, without authority, a contingent remainder to Gilbert Gamage and the heirs male of his body. Thomas, on his return to England, protested against this feoffment, as contrary to his will; he re-entered the premises, claiming his former estate therein, and he died thus seised 10th May, 41 Edward III [1367].

Richard, son of John Brounyng, is next heir of the said Thomas, viz. son of Agnes, daughter of his brother William Rodberghe, and is aged 6 years and more.

The manor of Rodberghe is held of the King as of his manor of Munchenhampton (which belonged to the alien Abbey of Caen) by knight service, which manor of Munchenhampton the King granted to Thomas, Duke of Gloucester, during the war. The manor of Rodberghe is worth £4 clear by the year. The tenements in Thrope are held of Roger, Earl of March, a ward to the King, by knight service, and are likewise worth £4. The tenements in Hertford are held of William, Earl of Stafford, a ward to the King, by knight service, and are worth 13*s.* 4*d.*; the tenements in Ebbeleye, from Reginald de Cobham and Eleanor his wife, in her right, by knight service, worth 40*s.*; the tenements in Nategrave from Henry, Bishop of Worcester, by knight service, worth £4.

Simon Bryan and John atte Welle.

Inquisition taken at Stouwe St. Edward on the Feast of St. Peter ad Vincula, 16 Richard II [1392], before Thomas Walewayn, escheator, by the oath of Walter Pynchepoll, Robert Vileyn, Thomas Keys, Hugh Marchall, John Hickes, Philip Boter, Roger Bolde, William Mabely, John Malverne, John Salesbury, Robert Hickes, and Nicholas Saundres, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow Simon Bryan, chaplain, to grant 3 messuages, one toft, dovecot, garden, one carucate and 3 virgates of land, 5 acres of meadow, with pasture for one bull and 12 oxen in Tatlesthrope to Evesham Abbey; and John atte Welle to grant to the same abbey 2 messuages, one toft, one water-mill, one carucate and one virgate of land, and 3 acres of meadow in Burghton, in reversion after the death of John Clynton, in part satisfaction of lands and rents to the value of £30 yearly, which they have licence to acquire under letters patent of the King. All the premises are held of the Abbot by homage, fealty, suit every month at the Hundred of Stowe St. Edward, and rents of 26*s.* 5*d.*; they are altogether worth £6 6*s.* The said grantors would retain sufficient land, etc., in co. Gloucester to enable them to discharge all their responsibilities.

Inquisition taken on Saturday before the Feast of St. Clement the Pope, 17 Richard II [1393], before Robert Whityngton, escheator, by the oath of Robert Goderynton, Robert Kyngton, John Weston of Oldelond, William Broun, Richard Coldwyth, Thomas Burnell, Thomas Staunton, Lawrence . . ., Nicholas Mody, John Tannere, Matthew Pope, and William Longefeld, who say that

The said Cicely held of the King in chief a moiety of the manor of Button, otherwise called Oldelond, by knight service, and therewith lately enfeoffed William Croke and Matthew Waleys; they afterwards resettled it upon her for life, with remainder to Sir John Deveros of Staunden, knight, and Joan his wife in tail, and contingent remainder to the right heirs of the said John, without licence from the King, who afterwards, upon a fine made with him in his Chancery, pardoned this offence, under letters patent dated 15th November, 9 Richard II [1385]. The said moiety is worth 100*s.* yearly.

Cicely died on the morrow of the Assumption last past. John Botiller, son of Walter Jouet, aged 40 and more, is her next heir. [He is described in the other inquisitions as of Shentyngfeld, co. Berks, and son of Alice, sister of William, father of the said Cicely.]

The said Hugh held in his demesne as of fee, on the day he died, the manor of Rodewyke in the March of Wales, from the King in chief by knight service, worth 21 marks yearly. Also divers tenements in Seuele in co. Gloucester, from Thomas, Duke of Gloucester, as of the manor of Munchenhampton, formerly belonging to the Abbess of Caen, by fealty and relief, worth 20*s.* yearly.

The said Hugh died on Wednesday after the Feast of St. Barnabas, 17 Richard II [1394]. Edmund Rodberowe, his son and heir, is aged 32 and more. Since Hugh's death Walter Somervylle has occupied the premises and taken the profits thereof.

Abbey of St. Peter of Gloucester.

Inquisition taken at Northleche on Monday after All Saints' Day, 15 Richard II [1391] (and the tenor thereof certified again under writ of 1st July, 17 Richard II [1393]), before John Gomond, escheator, virtute officii, by the oath of Thomas atte Halle, Robert Polham, Thomas Solers, Richard Borford, John Eynesham, Robert Spencer, Thomas at Croyse, Thomas Shorte [?], Nicholas Styward, Richard Norreys, Miles Clyfford, and Richard Walker, who say that John Bayfeld, formerly abbot, and William Froucestre, now abbot of the said monastery, appropriated to themselves, without the King's licence, certain ground in Northleche belonging to the King, upon which one John Noreys has now built a shop by demise of the said House, worth 3s. 4d. yearly, and he has occupied it for one year. In like manner they have appropriated certain ground there, upon which John Godspede has likewise built a shop worth 5s. a year, which he has occupied for 10 years past; and another plot, on which John Yatemon has built a shop, worth 2s. yearly, which he has occupied for 7 years; also a plot on which Robert Colas has built a shop, worth 6s. 8d. a year, which he has occupied for 12 years. The said abbey has received all the profits of the shops during the periods specified.

Thomas Hyll of Gloucester.

Writ, dated 5th June, 17 Richard II [1394], directed to the sheriff of Gloucester, instructing him to arrest and imprison Thomas Hyll of Gloucester until Thomas Brangwyne and Thomas Wytschire, citizens of London, shall be satisfied, out of his goods and chattels, for a debt of £7, which he acknowledged he owed them before Adam Karlill, Mayor of the Staple of Westminster, 7th June, 16 Richard II [1393].

The sheriff sends the writ to John Byseley and Thomas Pope, bailiffs of the liberty of the vill of Gloucester, who have full return and execution of writs in that liberty, because neither the said Thomas Hill, merchant, nor his goods, are to be found in the sheriff's own bailiwick.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 18th September, 18 Richard II [1394], before the abovesaid bailiffs, by the oath of John Bartre, John atte Noke, Robert Yonge, William Hobkyns, John Hody, John Hubert, Roger Tay[lor?], John Portman, William Carpenter, William Wyke, Walter Fyssche, and Thomas Seneschall, who say that

The said Thomas Hill has a tenement in Ayleszate strete in Gloucester, between the tenement of John Dannebury on the east and that of John Pope, chaplain, on the west, worth 18s. 8d. yearly; also a shop outside Southzate, between the tenement of the Prior of Lanthonby on the south and the land belonging to the service of St. Mary in the church of St. Owen on the north, worth 3s. 6d., which tenements have been delivered to the creditors. Hill cannot be arrested, because he cannot be found in the bailiwick.

William de Botreaux, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Clyston on the Morrow of St. Martin, 19 Richard II [1395], before William Jouet, escheator, by the oath of John Baylif, John Schilue [?], John Soyote, Richard Whyte, John Hayward, John Carpenter, John Harpere, John Longe, Thomas White,
Walter Cole, James West, and Robert Hardr . . . , who say that

Sir William de Botreaux, knight, held on the day he died from Lord le Despenser, as of the Honour of Gloucester, one-third of the manor of Clyston next Bristol, by the law of England, in right of Elizabeth his wife, one of the daughters and heirs of John Seintloo, chivaler, by knight service; worth £4 yearly.

The said Sir William died 20th May, 18 Richard II [1395]. William de Botreaux, his son and heir, is aged 5 and more.

Margaret, who was wife of Thomas de Grauntson, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Thursday after the Feast of the Conception of the B.V.M., 18 Richard II [1394], before
Robert de Whytyngton, escheator, by the oath of Thomas Flewelyn, Peter Cappe, William Hulle, William Habbegood, Henry Payn, John Aubrey, Robert Shaill, Nicholas Dobyn, George Mulleward, Thomas Barbe, Peter Heynes, and Henry Trygg, who say that

The said Margaret, on the day she died, held one-third of the manor of Dymmok in dower after the death of her said husband, by assignment of William de Montacute, Earl of Salisbury, Sir John Northwode, knight, of co. Kent, Thomas Faukunberge, Alice, late wife of Thomas Wake, Katherine Tudenhamb of co. Norfolk, and Sir Roger Beauchamp, knight. It contains divers parcels, as follows: £12 8s. 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ d. of rents of assize payable at the Feasts of St. Michael, St. Andrew, the Annunciation, and St. John the Baptist, in equal portions, from the tenants underwritten, viz.,
Richard Amyrable, 15s. 2d.; R . . . Grygge, 14s.; Edmund Boys, 29s. 8d.;
Richard atte Grene, chaplain, 8s. 4d., and 4s. besides for the park of Chestersford beyond Haroldesrudynge; William Calewe, chaplain, 10s.;
John Clynton, 10s.; Christian Broun, 8s. 4d., besides another tenement which she holds elsewhere; Henry Willes, 3s. 4d.; the chantry of St. Mary there, 3s. 4d.; Joan atte Mulle, 8s. 4d.; Richard Elene, 11s. 11d.; William Webbe, 10s. 1d.; Henry atte Felmulle, with 2s. in right of his wife, 5s. 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ d.; Julian Payn, 12s. 7d.; Richard Palmere, 9s. 3d.; Henry Duyr, 15s. 5d.;
Roger Spylmon, 14s. 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ d.; George Belamy, 8s. 3d.; Richard Goode, 14*s.* 3*½d.*; Henry Burstude, 4*s.* 1*d.*; Roger Habbegood, 5*s.* 4*½d.*; Robert Budde, 2*s.* 7*d.*; Henry Carsewall, 10*s.*; Richard Aleyn, 4*s.* 8*d.*; Walter Carswall, 7*s.* 5*½d.*

She also held as parcel of her said dower the meadow called Ladysmede, which is farmed for 12*d.* a year; also 20*d.* issuing from a meadow called Kyngesmede; 20*d.* from a pasture called Haketeshethe; one-third of a water-mill farmed yearly at 5*s.*

The said John Northwode died and left a son and heir, Sir Roger Northwode, knight, of co. Kent; Katherine Tudenham is also dead, leaving a son, Sir John Tudenham, knight, of co. Norfolk. The dower therefore reverts as follows: one-third to the said Sir Roger Northwode, son of the said John, son of Agnes, sister of Otto de Grauntson, father of the said Thomas de Grauntson; another third to William, Earl of Salisbury, son of Katherine, the second sister; and the remaining third among the said Thomas Faukunberge (son of Maud, daughter of Sybil, daughter of Mabel, the third sister), Alice Wake (daughter of the said Sybil), John Tudenham (son of Katherine, daughter of Sybil), and Roger Beauchamp (son of Roger, son of Sybil [sic]).

The part of Thomas Faukunberg ought to remain to the King on account of his forfeiture, because he adhered to the King's enemies of France. John Tudenham gave all his pourparty to Richard Ruyhale and Elizabeth his wife, with the reversion of his share of the said dower. Richard de Montacute purchased from the said Earl his pourparty of the said manor.

The manor of Dymmok and the manor of Dorteford are held of the King in chief by the service of paying 1*d.* into the Exchequer at Michaelmas.

The said Margaret died on Friday before St. Luke's Day last. All the aforesaid heirs are aged 22 and more.

Sir Ralph de Stonore, knight.

Inquisition taken at Cirencester, 15th January, 18 Richard II [1395], before William Jouet, escheator, by the oath of Thomas Tresham, William Walleye, Geoffrey Hideman, John Campedene, John Coue, Thomas Corser, John Honyborne, John Colynes, Nicholas Grys, John Fortheye, . . . Mulleward of . . . and John Haukynes [? Hankynes], who say that

The said Sir Ralph held certain lands in Hemberry in Saltmersshe from the Bishop of Worcester by knight service, but by how much service they do not know; worth £12. He held also the manor of Harnhulle, with tenements in Doughton, and the advowson of the church of that manor, worth £13 yearly. The manor is held of the Earl of Derby, by what services they do not know; the tenements in Doughton of Sir Thomas de Brewes, Lord of Tettebury, by service unknown. He held the manor of Cundycote and the advowson of the church of that manor from the Bishop of York [sic], by service unknown; worth 33*s.* 4*d.* Also certain lands in Bourton in Hennemarshe and the advowson of the church of that vill, from Lord le Despenser, by service unknown; worth 10*s.*

The said Ralph died on Friday after Martinmas last. Gilbert de Stonore, his son, was aged 2 on the Feast of St. Wolstan last.

Inquisition taken (upon writ to inquire concerning the estate of the said Ralph in the premises) at Circestre, 1st March, 18 Richard II [1395], before the said escheator, by the oath of William Ayllwyn, Thomas Tresham, John Campedene, William Walley, Nicholas Pontere, Geoffrey Hideman, William atte Halle, John Coue, Nicholas Edull, Reynold Mareys, John Honyborne, and John Colynes, who say that

The said Ralph held all the premises in his demesne as of fee.

Inquisition taken at Syrcestre, 20th April following before the same escheator, by the oath of Walter Toky, John Richeman, John Wynyard, William Matteson, John Wythur, Roger Cook, Thomas Ingelyns, John Buddefeld, William Jones, John Reede, John Freeman, and John Frankeleyn, who say that

The said Sir Ralph held no knights' fees in the county. The advowson of the church of Bourton in Henmerssh is worth 20 marks, that of Harnhulle 10*s.*, and that of Cundecote 4*s.*

John Barstaple.

Inquisition taken at Bristol before William Frome, mayor of that vill and escheator there, on Monday in the first week of Lent, 18 Richard II [1395], by the oath of John Palmer, Geoffrey Meke, John Gibbes, John Fluyt, John Ston, John Chepstowe, Nicholas Hastyn, John Martyn, John Westbury, Walter Poulond, Richard Frere, and William atte Lane, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow John Barstaple, burgess of the said vill, to grant an unoccupied plot of ground in the suburbs to the mayor and commonalty of the said vill for the erection of a hospital or manse there in honour of God for a dwelling for poor folk and the support of certain works of piety at the ordinance of the said mayor and commonalty. It is held immediately of the King by the service of $1\frac{1}{4}d.$ "langabul" yearly, and is worth 2s. It is 7 perches 10 ft. $6\frac{1}{2}$ in. long and 3 perches 9 ft. 9 in. broad, each perch containing 16 feet royal measure. The grantor would retain sufficient to discharge all his responsibilities.

Manor of Ringeshome next Gloucester.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Thursday before the Feast of St. Thomas the Apostle, 18 Richard II [1395], before John Cassy, Robert de Whityngton, escheator in co. Gloucester, William Aumondesham, and John atte Zate, commissioners appointed by the King to inquire concerning the abovesaid manor, by the oath of Walter Toky, Simon Uske, John Richemon, John Wynyard, John Gerald, Henry Semes, John Rede, Walter Okholt, senior and junior, John Stauerton, John Fremon of Lassyndon, and John Thomas of Okynton, who say that

A fine was levied in the King's court in the Quinzaine of St. John the Baptist, 7 Edward III [1333], between John Daubeny and Cicely his wife, plaintiffs, and Elias de Godeleye, deforciant, of the said manor, which is held of the King in chief, settling it on the said John and Cicely in tail. On their death the manor descended to their son and heir Elias Daubeny, and from him to his daughter and heir Elizabeth, who died without issue, whereupon it passed to Cicely Sage (petitioner in the case with Nicholas Mattesdon Drois, Simon Cadel and Eva his wife, and John Swonhongre) and her sisters Maud, Christian, and Isabel, aunts of the said Elizabeth, daughters of the said John and Cicely. The share of the said Maud descended to her son and heir William, and from him to his son and heir, the petitioner Nicholas Mattesdon Droys. Christian's share has descended to her daughter Eva; Isabel's passed to her son Elias, and from him to his son and heir the said John Swonhongre. The said Elizabeth was convicted of the murder of her husband Andrew Wauton, and was burnt, whereupon the manor became forfeit to the King.

Attached to the inquisition is a panel of jurors to be summoned, containing, besides those sworn as above, these names : William Kemote, William Mattesdon (whose name is scored through), John Webbeley, William Elkyns, another John Freman, John Stauerton, John Brokke, John Cook of Crikkeley, William Russell, William Botiller, John Chapman of Prestbury, Thomas Marchall, Richard Undirhull, Thomas Jurdan, John Freman of Okulcote, Robert Bonde, Richard Malle, John Hore, Walter Bye, Richard More, John Baude, William Bele [?], Nicholas Do . . ., Hugh Hare, John Hard, William Lye, Richard Murry.

PARTITION among the heirs of the third part of the manor of Dymmok, held in dower by Margaret, who was wife of Sir Thomas Grauntson, knight, made 20th March, 18 Richard II [1395], before Robert Whytyneton, escheator, in the presence of Richard Ruyhale and Elizabeth his wife, Thomas Clerk, attorney for Roger Beauchamp, and Geoffrey Smale, attorney of Alice, late wife of Thomas Wake.

Of the said one-third of the manor the escheator assigned to the said Richard Ruyhale and Elizabeth his wife, the one-third falling to Sir Roger Northwode, knight (1); the second third was divided into four parts among Sir Roger Beauchamp, knight (2) (who is described in the writ as son of Roger, son of Sybil, daughter of Mabel), Alice Wake (3), Sir John Tudenhamb of Norfolk (4) (who had conveyed his pourparty to the said Richard and Elizabeth Ruyhale), and Thomas Faukenberge (5) (whose pourparty was retained in the King's hands by reason of his adherence to the King's enemies of France; the last third (6) remained in the King's hands till it should be sued out).

In (1) were included rents of Robert Trygge, 14*s.*; William Calewe, 10*s.*; John Clynton, 10*s.*; Joan atte Mulle, 8*s.* 4*d.*; Richard Palmere, 9*s.* 3*d.*; George Belamy, 8*s.* 3*d.*; Henry Carsewell, 10*s.*; Richard Aleyn, 4*s.* 8*d.*; Walter Carsewell, 7*s.* 5*½d.*; and 12*½d.* out of the tenements of Henry Willes, who holds from all in common; also all the other services of the said tenants, and rents out of Ladyesmede, Haketesmede, Kyngesmede, the water-mill, and the demesne wood of Tedeswode.

(5) includes rents of 14*s.* 3*½d.* from Roger Spylman; from Roger Habbegod, 5*s.* 4*½d.*; from the chantry of St. Mary, 1*½d.*; from Henry Willes, 11*¼d.*

In (4) are included rents from Richard Myrable, 15*s.* 2*½d.*; Henry Bursteed, 4*s.* 11*½d.*; the said chantry . . . ; Henry Willes, 6*¾d.*

(2) includes rents from Christian Broun, 8*s.* 4*d.*; Richard atte Grene, 8*s.* 4*d.* and 4*s.*; the said chantry, $\frac{3}{4}$ d.

In (3) are included rents from Henry Yeldmulle, 5*s.* 1*½d.*; Julian Payn, 12*s.* 7*d.*; Robert Budde, 2*s.* 7*d.*; the said chantry, 1*½d.*; Henry Willes, 3*¾d.*

In (6) the pourparty falling to Richard de Montacute (referred to in the writ as the pourparty of William de Montacute, Earl of Salisbury) includes rents from Edmund Boys, 29*s.* 8*d.*; Richard El . . . , 11*s.* 1*id.*; William . . . ; Henry Quyr [?], 15*s.* 5*d.*; Richard Gode, 14*s.* 3*½d.*; the said chantry, 1*2d.*; Henry Willes, 6*d.*

Each portioner will contribute to the annual rent called Tethyngpeny, and to the expenses of the steward, etc.

[Note.—A correction is necessary: the writ to William Jonet, escheator, dated 18th February, 18 Richard II [1395], directs him to make partition, etc., according to an inquisition taken before Robert de Whityngton, late escheator; the partition is made by Jonet.]

Robert, son and heir of William Lisle.

PROOF of age taken at Stowe St. Edward before William Jonet, the King's escheator, 17th February, 18 Richard II [1395].

John Clifford (aged 46 and more) says that the said Robert was 21 on the Feast of the Translation of St. Martin last past. The said John remembers being in the church of Cotes, and seeing Thomas Dauyd, the rector, baptizing the said Robert, and the rector afterwards wrote in the missal of the same church that the said Robert was born on that day, 47 Edward III [1373].

Walter Clemnet, Walter Sloghtre, and John Steunes (50 and more) were likewise present there, and saw the said Thomas Dauyd and Rober Selby, rector of Saperton, acting as his godfathers.

Robert Vileyn, William Caldecote, Philip Boter, and Thomas Chamberleyn (44 and more) saw Henry Legge, servant of the said William Lisle, riding to fetch Margaret, wife of John Lucy, godmother of the said Robert.

John Tymberhulle, Henry Legge, William Scatttere, and John Dorne (48 and more) were told by Agnes Taillour, formerly wife of John Taillour, nurse [matrona] of the said Robert, that he was born and baptized that day.

The writ is endorsed with a note to certify that the escheator sent Walter Salesbury and John Croysman to summon Thomas Keys to be present at this proof of age, the said Thomas having custody of the lands, etc., of the said heir, by demise of Robert Leukenore, who had it by demise of John Routhe, to whom the King granted the said custody. Keys attended accordingly, and had nothing to object.

Philip Mauncell, esquire, of co. Gloucester.

Writ (7th October, 19 Richard II [1395]) addressed to [William Tracy], sheriff of Gloucester, to make a valuation of the lands and goods of the said Philip in co. Gloucester, in connection with an unfulfilled recognizance for debt in £500, into which he entered, 23rd February, 17 Richard II [1394], before Adam Carhill, then mayor of the staple of Westminster, to Richard Whityngton, citizen and mercer of London, and which he ought to have paid 1st April following.

Extent made accordingly of the lands and goods of the said Philip in the liberty of Byseleye, before Hugh de Byseley, bailiff of that liberty, on Tuesday after St. Luke's Day, 19 Richard II [1395], at Payneswyk by the oath of John Clyfford, Thomas Freome, *Thomas Sudgrov*e, Robert Kyngton, John Tymberhull the elder, John Barre, John Geffes, Walter Colyns, William Lodelowe, John Timberhill the younger, Thomas Combe, and Walter Lydeneye, who say that

The said Philip had in the Hundred of Byseleye on the abovesaid 23rd February, at Overlypeyate, the manor of Overlypeyate, worth yearly 10 marks, 6s. 8d. clear; 5 oxen worth 5 marks, one cow worth 8s., 30 quarters of dragett lying in a heap and so estimated, worth 6s.

Endorsed with a memorandum that the lands abovesaid were delivered on 18th November following to the said Richard Whityngton, to hold, etc.

John Rous of Raggeleye.

Inquisition taken at Wynchecombe on Wednesday after the Feast of St. Martin, 20 Richard II [1396], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Thomas Moryn, William Chalyngworth, Robert Ippewelle, John Taillour, John Clerk, Lawrence Gotewode, Vincent Mason, John Kyng, John Stacy, William Aleys, William Bailly, and Henry Walkare, who say that

The said John was seised, jointly with Christian his wife, who survives, of the manor of Stanley Pountelarge, held of the heirs of Richard Talbot by the service of 12*d.* . . . St. Michael for all services, worth 8 marks a year clear, which manor John, son and heir of [the said John Rous], by his charter indentate granted to the said John Rous and Christian, for term of their lives, by the name of the manor of Stanleye Pountelarge, with all lands, mills, etc. [thereto belonging in . . .] and Gretton, and which the said John the son had of the gift of the said John Rous of Raggeleye.

He held also, jointly with his wife as above, a messuage, one carucate of land, and 10 marks yearly rent in Weston Mauduit from William de Gre . . . [by] . . . only, worth £10 yearly, which premises John Trewmon, rector of the church of Lench, and Robert Brugge, chaplain, granted to the said John and Christian for their lives by general words, as all their lands, tenements, etc., in the vill. of Weston Maudit; also, jointly with his wife, 100*s.* rents in Pebbeworth, granted to them by his said son John as above, held of Robert Corbet by a rose rent.

The said John Rous died on St. Frideswide's Day last past. John, his son and heir, was then aged 30 and more.

Another inquisition taken at the same time after the death of John, son of the said John Rous. The said jurors say that he held no lands in the said county on the day of his death.

He died on Monday after St. Frideswide's Day last. Robert, his brother and heir, is aged 25 and more.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 11th October, 20 Richard II [1396], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John Harsefeld, Richard Monemouth, John Clyfford of Denewey, Philip de Aune, Walter Boghan, John Blakeneye, Nicholas Mauncell, William Brokeworth, John Pyryehale, John in the Felde, John Freman, and John Somerton, who say that

The said Richard held certain property in the March of Wales; also, in co. Gloucester, the manor of Longhope, from John, Duke of Lancaster, as of the Honour of Monemouth, by the service of one knight's fee, jointly with his wife Ankaret, who survives, by gift and feoffment of Sir Gilbert Talbot, knight, his father, likewise deceased, to them and the heirs of their bodies, worth £21 11*s.* a year, clear. In like manner, the manor of Huntleye, of the said Honour of Monemouth, by one-fourth of a knight's fee, worth £6 4*s.* a year; also the manor of Leygh, from the Abbey of St. Peter of Gloucester, by what services the jurors do not know, worth £8 7*s.* 2*d.*; and the manor of Lydeneye, from the Earl of Warwick and his heirs in socage, paying £4 yearly to the said Earl at Easter and Michaelmas in equal portions. With this manor of Lydeneye he had, by his charter, enfeoffed his son Gilbert Talbot and his wife Joan in tail; worth £7 yearly.

The said Richard held also, as above, a moiety of the manor of Beggeworth, from the Earl of Stafford by the service of one knight's fee, worth £22 19*s.* 6*d.* [?].

He held also the knights' fees undermentioned, viz. $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Eggeworth, which . . . Ralegh holds, worth 100*s.*; $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Daglyngworth, which Ancelin de Gyset [?] holds, worth . . . ; $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Wolvesthrop, which Giles Walssh holds, worth 100*s.*

The said Richard was seised of the manor of Payneswyke, held of the King in chief, and, long before his death, therewith enfeoffed Hugh Malpas, clerk, John Sergeant of Monemouth, William Fauconer, and

Robert Oweyn, who all survive, to hold to them, their heirs and assigns; it is worth £46 a year. He also held the manors of Morton and Whaddon from the Earl of Derby in chief, which he had by charter conveyed to the said Malpas, Fauconer, and Oweyn, and to John de Perton, now deceased, to hold as above; these manors are worth £49 yearly.

The said Richard died 9th September last past. Gilbert, his son and heir, is aged 13 and more.

John de Welyngton.

Inquisition taken at Sobbury on Friday before All Saints' Day, 20 Richard II [1396], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Thomas Vayre, John Baker, William Baylly, John Stynchecombe, John Colewall, Richard Rogers, Adam Fry, Thomas Francombe, Richard Stanbourn, Richard Ward, Walter Fowler, and William M.s.y [?], after the death of John de Welyngton, brother and heir of Ralph, son and heir of Sir John de Welyngton, knight, who say that

Sir John de Welyngton, knight, held in his demesne as of fee, on the day he died, the manor of Frompton Cutell, with the advowson of the church of Frompton to that manor belonging. It came into the King's hands by reason of the minority of Ralph, his son and heir.

Long before his death the said Sir John had given to John de Galmyngton, parson of the church of Lytell Toryton, and Roger Boys, parson of the church of Atheryngton, his manors of Zate and Westonbrut, with the advowsons of the churches of Zate and Westonbrut to those manors belonging, and his manors of Pulton and Culverden, to hold to them, their heirs and assigns, during the life of John Beaumond, chivaler, Thomas de Welyngton, William Brightle, and John Poulet, with reversion to the grantor and his heirs; the said feoffees afterwards conveyed their estate therein to the said John Beaumond and the others for their lives.

The said Sir John de Welyngton gave to the said Thomas de Welyngton his manors of Sandhurst and Ablyngton, and divers lands and tenements in Sandhurst called Moreslade, for the life of the said Thomas. The said beneficiaries all survived Sir John. Thomas was the first to die, on whose death the reversion of the last said premises came into the King's hands.

Ralph, being a ward to the King, married Joan . . . [daughter of John Warre]. Afterwards Ralph died, leaving his brother John, a minor and an idiot, his heir. The King assigned dower to the said Joan. Afterwards the said John Beaumond, William Brightle, and John Poulet died, and subsequently, viz. 3rd October last, the said John died. The said Joan still survives.

The manor of Frompton aforesaid, with the advowson, is held of the King in chief by knight service, and the two-thirds in the King's hands are worth . . . 18*s.* yearly. The manor of Sandhurst is held of the Abbey of St. Peter of Gloucester by knight service, and the two-thirds are worth . . . yearly; the manor of Sandhurst, of the said Abbey as above, the two-thirds are worth 10 marks yearly; the manor of Ablyngton, from Cirencester Abbey, by knight service, the two-thirds are worth 5 marks; the tenements called Moreslade, from the said Abbey of St. Peter, by knight service, the two-thirds are worth 6*s.* 8*d.* The manor of [Zate], from the Bishop of Worcester by knight service, worth £30. The manor of Culverden . . . The manor of Westonbrut, from . . . by knight service, worth 8 marks. The manor of Pulton from . . . , worth £10.

The said John died without issue. His heirs are his sister Isabel, wife of William Beaumont, aged 26 and more, and John Wroht (or Wroth) the younger, son of Margaret, the other sister of the said John, aged 5 and more.

Inquisition as to fees and advowsons held by the said John, taken at Sodbury 7th October, 21 Richard II [1397], before David Vaghan, the King's escheator, by the oath of Geoffrey Wynbaud, Richard Cantok, Richard Tokwyl', John Tokwylle, John Waller, William Bayliff of Frompton, Robert Woderoue, John Pulton, William Broun, Thomas Burnel, Thomas Norton, and Richard Roggere, who say that

Sir John de Welyngton, knight, held the advowson of the church of Frompton Cutell, which church is worth 40 marks yearly.

No other advowsons came into the King's hands on the death of the said Sir John, because, long before his death, he had granted to the abovesaid John de Galmyngton and Roger Boys, amongst other lands and tenements, one knight's fee in Tormerton and Lytelton, which is worth, when it happens, 100*s.*, and also the advowson of the church of Yate, which church is worth 10 marks yearly, and three-fourths of the advowson of the church of Westonbrut, which church is worth £10, to hold to the said John de Galmyngton and Roger Boys during the lives of Sir John de Beaumont, knight (and the others as above), to whom the said grantees conveyed their estate (as above); they are all now dead, and the premises are in the King's hands by reason of the minority and idiocy of the said John the son, late deceased.

Richard Bushell.

Inquisition taken at Wynchecombe, 4th February, 20 Richard II [1397], before Robert Poyns, escheator, by the oath of Thomas Moryn, John Wotton, John Ailleward, William Ippewell, Henry Grenyng, John Knull, John Freoman, John Tayllour, William Budell, William Chalyngworth, Henry Wakker, and Robert N..., who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow the said Richard to assign a messuage and two tofts in Wynchecombe, and half an acre of land in Cotes next Wynchecombe, to Wynchecombe Abbey, to find two wax candles to burn every day at High Mass before the high altar in the abbey church of St. Mary and St. Kenelm, King and Martyr, of Wynchecombe. All the premises are held of the said abbey by the service of 8*s.*, and are worth 11*s. 4d.* a year clear. The abbey holds direct of the King.

There would still remain to the said Richard two tenements and two carucates of land in Brodemershton, held of Sir Robert Corbet, knight, by the service of 2*s. 8d.* yearly, and worth 100*s.* silver clear.

John Deborose, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Payneswyke on Monday before the Feast of St. Denis, 20 Richard II [1397], before the abovesaid escheator by virtue of his office, by the oath of Richard Monemouthe, John Harsefeld, John Clyfford, John in the Felde, Robert Kyngton, Walter atte Halle, George Huckenale, Thomas Sudegroue, John Geffes, Richard Ferthyngale, William Lodelowe, and John Smyth, who say that

The said John acquired to himself and his heirs 40 acres of land and meadow in Oldelonde, in the Hundred of Bytton, from Roger Marmeion without the King's licence, 9 years since, worth 20*s.* a year clear, held of the King in chief, but by what services the jurors do not know.

He also acquired, 10 years since, in like manner, the whole manor of Oldelonde in the said Hundred, from Cicely de Berkeley, worth £26. He had licence to acquire lands to the value of £10 and not more. The manor is held of the King in chief, but by what service the jurors do not know.

Pershore Abbey.

Writ (only) dated at Westminster, 12th February, 20 Richard II, addressed to the sheriff of Gloucester. Whereas by an inquisition taken before the abovesaid escheator, by virtue of his office, it was found that 20 years since the Abbey of Pershore, co. Worcester, had appropriated and acquired certain lands and tenements called Wodecroft and Hildesley in the lordship of Haukesbury, co. Gloucester, from William Cheltenham of Pokelchurche without licence from the King; the abbot complains to the King that although William Waspe, vicar of Brayles, and Philip Forthey, vicar of Aughton Turuyle, late parson of Adbrighton, who were seised in their demesne as of fee of the aforesaid tenements, granted the same (by the name of 12 messuages, one toft and 3 carucates of land, 9 acres of meadow, 3 acres of wood, and 7*s. 2d.* rents in Hildesleigh and Haukesbury) to the said abbey with licence from the King and all others concerned (the finding of the inquisition aforesaid being incorrect), the abbey has nevertheless been put out of possession of the premises under colour of the said inquisition, and the custody of the same has been granted by letters patent to William Stucle. The sheriff is to summon the said William to appear before the King in his Chancery in the Quinzaine of Easter to show what he can in behalf of his grant.

Endorsed with the certificate of Robert Poyns, sheriff, that he has caused the said William Stucle to be summoned by William Wylby, Robert Poyns, William Willey, and Richard Forde.

John Crook.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 16th February, 21 Richard II [1398], before David Vaghan, escheator, by the oath of Robert Wyke, Thomas Moreyn, Philip Rodbergh, Edmund Hamwell, Giles Hayward, Robert Heynes, Thomas Jur, Walter Adams, Peter Cappe, Thomas Marchall, and John Webbeleye, who say that

John Crook was outlawed for felony at the county [court] held at Gl . . [on] . . . after the Feast of St. Matthew, 19 Richard II [1395], and was then seised, in his demesne as of fee, of the manor of Berewyke, held of Tidyman, Bishop of Worcester, in right of his bishopric, by the service of paying . . . yearly at Easter and Michaelmas, by doing suit every three weeks at the court of Hambury, and by knight service. It is worth 10 marks a year clear. He held likewise a messuage and virgate of land in Almyngton, from the same bishop, by knight service, worth 13*s.* 4*d.* The King granted the year, day, and waste of the premises to William Faryngdon, who has enjoyed the profits accordingly from the date of the said outlawry till the day of the taking of this inquisition.

The said Thomas held, on the day he died, the manor of Whetenhurst from the King in chief, of the right and inheritance of Eleanor, his late wife, by what service the jurors do not know, worth £40 a year clear; also the castle of Caldecote with Neuton, which is a member of the same castle, in the March of Wales, as above, worth £30. And the manor of Newenham in the county of Gloucester, by grant of Henry, Duke of Hereford, for term of the life of the said Henry, according to indentures between them made and shown to the escheator. It is held of the King in chief, by what service they do not know, and is worth 5 marks yearly.

They do not know on what day the said Thomas died. (The Essex inquisition says on Saturday before the Feast of St. Lambert last.) Humphrey, his son and heir, is aged 15 and more.

Another inquisition taken as above finds that he held the advowson of the church of Barndesley on alternate vacancies, in right of the said Eleanor, worth £10 yearly; and in like manner the advowson of the church of Neweton (entirely), worth 10 marks.

Inquisition taken at Sobbyr on the Vigil of Holy Trinity, 21 Richard II [1398], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of William Spencer, William atte Nassche, William Bailly of Frompton, William atte Hille, John Hille, Henry Frompton, John Hermitte, John Collewelle, Thomas Jochym, Robert Lucas, John Puryman, and John Styngecombe, who say that

The said John Crouk was outlawed for felony at the county [court] held at Gloucester on Monday after St. Matthew's Day, 19 Richard II

[1395], when he was seised of the manor of Olueston, held in chief by the service of half a knight's fee from John Dunsterre, Lord Prior of Bath, in right of his said priory, and by payment of 9 marks yearly. It is worth £8 a year clear.

The King granted to William Faryngdon the day, year, and waste of the said manor, and he has taken the profits thereof accordingly from the date of the outlawry to the present time.

Gracedieu Abbey.

Inquisition taken at Great Dene on Thursday before the Feast of the Purification, 21 Richard II [1398], before David Vaghan, escheator, by virtue of his office, by the oath of John Greyndore, chivaler, John Joce, John Staunton, Richard Longe, Philip Hoke, John Hycokes, Richard Brayn, Thomas atte Hyde, Walter de Ocle, John Hayward, Richard atte Mulle, and Walter Mulleward, who say that

By certain ancient royal grants some King, whose name they do not know, granted to the said abbey 2 carucates of land, 10 acres of wood, and 6 acres of meadow in the Forest of Dene, worth 40*s.* a year clear, for the purpose of finding a monk to celebrate every day at Stowe in the said forest, for the soul of the said King and the souls of his successors and progenitors for ever. For 10 years last past the abbey have withdrawn these services and concealed all the premises.

Abbey of St. Mary of Keynesham.

Inquisition taken at Sobbury, 6th November, 21 Richard II [1397], before David Vaghan, the King's escheator, by the oath of Geoffrey Wynebaud, William Clyuedon, John Godestone, John Tyderyngton, Walter Broun, William Wykerwyk, Robert Kyngton, John Geffrey, John Bakere, Walter Deighere, John Walker, and John Skey, who say that

It would be no damage to the King or any other to allow the following grants to the said abbey, viz. by William Gibbys and Isabel his wife, the moiety of a messuage in Mersshfeld, by Richard Petreton and Christian his wife, the like, and by Thomas Lang, another messuage in the said vill. The premises are all held of the said abbey, to wit, each moiety of the said messuages by the service of 6*d.* yearly, and the said messuage by the service of 12*d.* They are in the borough of Mersshfeld, and that is the vill aforesaid, and the abbey holds the said vill and tenements from the Lord de Stafford in frankalmoine, and have held the same from time immemorial. The Lord de Stafford holds of the King the lordship of Thornbury by barony, from which the abbey holds the said tenements as abovesaid; each of the said moieties is worth 8*s.* yearly, and the whole messuage 10*s.*

There would remain to the said William and Isabel one messuage and 6 acres of land, worth 13*s. 4d.* yearly; to the said Richard and Christian a messuage and 5 acres, worth 12*s.*, and to the said Thomas a messuage and 6 acres, worth 13*s. 4d.*

The proposed conveyances are in part satisfaction of lands, etc., to the value of 10 marks yearly, which the said abbey has the King's licence to acquire in recompence of the tithes of corn and hay of certain lands and meadow in the parish of the church of Eltham, which the abbey holds appropriate, which tithes were of the yearly value of 10 marks, and the land was enclosed by Edward I to enlarge his park of Eltham.

Pershore Abbey.

Tenor of the record and process of an appeal brought before the King in his chancery, between Pershore Abbey and William Stucle, as to certain lands called Wodecroft and Hildesley in the lordship of Haukesbury, sent by the King's order to Walter Clopton and his associates, justices of the King's Bench, that right may be done therein at the prosecution of the said abbey.

Pleas held before the King in his chancery at Westminster in the Quinzaine of Easter, 20 Richard II [1397].

Gloucester. The writ of 12th February to the sheriff is first recited. (See p. 204 above.)

William Stucle appears, in accordance with the summons, by Hugh Helwro, his attorney, and the Abbot of Pershore, by John Mapilton. The case is adjourned to Michaelmas term by consent of the parties. On the appointed day William Stucle says the abbey acquired the premises in dispute without the King's licence, as the inquisition taken thereupon declares. The Abbot replies that one Wasp, vicar of Brayles, and Philip Forthey, vicar of Oughton Turvyle, late parson of Adbryghton, granted the premises to the abbey by the name of 12 messuages and one toft, 3 carucates of land, 9 acres of meadow, 3 acres of wood, and 7s. 2d. rents in Hildesleigh and Haukesbury, with licence from the King and from others concerned; the abbey was peacefully seised thereof until they were removed therefrom by colour of the said inquisition and of the King's letters patent to the said William granted. A jury is to be summoned between them before the King wheresoever, etc. After several adjournments the jury comes before John Hulle and Henry Broun, justices assigned to take assizes in county Gloucester, who find for the abbey. Judgment is therefore given for the revocation of the King's said letters patent, and for putting the abbey in possession of the premises, together with the mean profits.

Inquisition taken at Sobbyr on Wednesday after the Feast of Holy Trinity, 3 Henry IV [1402], before Robert de Whytyngton, the King's escheator in Gloucester and the March of Wales adjacent, by the oath of Robert Godryngton, William Baylly of Frompton, John

Walker of Tortworth, John Frompton, John Cope, John Knyte, John Smyth of Saltmershe, William Chapmon, John Stynchescombe, Thomas Adames, John Colewell, and Hugh Lucas, who say that

By reason of the death of the said Eleanor, and also of her daughter Joan, and by reason of the minority of the said Isabel, one of her sisters and heirs, the which Isabel assumed the religious habit and was professed therein, there came into the King's hands the manor of Whitenhurst, held of the King in chief, by what service the jurors do not know; worth £21 7s. Also the castle of Caldecote, etc., in the March.

The said Isabel was professed in the house of the Minoresses in the suburbs of London on the Feast of St. Gregory last, on which day she was 16 years old. Anne, the surviving sister and heir, is aged 20 and more. Peter Crulle, esquire, has received the issues of the premises from the time of the profession of the said Isabel, by what title they do not know.

Another inquisition, taken as above, sets forth the advowson held, as in the cases of the abovesaid Joan and Eleanor.

Inquisition taken at Circestre on Tuesday after the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul, 1 Henry IV [1400], before the said John Shelton, clerk, Simon Blakebourne, the King's sergeant at arms, and

Henry de la Rivere, sheriff of Gloucester, by the oath of Philip Rodebergh, William Langeford, William Benet, William Walkare of Rynecombe, John Harolde, John Scarnyng, John atte Halle of Cerney, Adam Appurley of Teukesbury, Thomas Tresham, Thomas Clement, Thomas Sparemon of Teukesbury, and Thomas Freem of Bisley, who say that

There are no castles, lordships, lands, tenements, reversions, franchises, liberties, nor other possessions, which belonged to John, late Earl of Huntingdon, John, late Earl of Salisbury, Ralph de Lomley, chivaler, Thomas Blount, chivaler, Bennett Sely, chivaler, adherents of Thomas, late Earl of Kent, nor to the said late Earl Thomas; but the manors of Lechlade, Sodyngton Musard, Barnesley, and Musardene, and an annuity of £30 of the fee farm of the manor of Circestre and the vill of Mynty, which is a member of the manor of Circestre, with 7 . . . to the same manor belonging, with a parcel of meadow called Dyttenham in the said manor of Circestre, and the advowsons of the churches of Lecchelade and Musardene, which Elizabeth, who was wife of John, Earl of Kent, holds in dower of the inheritance of the said Thomas, have been seised into the King's hands by the said John and Simon; the manor of Lecchelade is worth £68 13s. 4d. a year, the manor of Sodyngton Musard, 10½ marks; the manor of Barnesley, £22; the manor of Musardene, £10 6s. 8d.; the said parcel of meadow, 26s. 8d.; the church of Lecchelade, £20; the church of Musardene, 10 marks.

No fees belonging to the said late Earl and his adherents have been seised into the King's hands.

John Gibbes, who traitorously adhered to the said Earl in the said year, and Katherine his wife held a messuage in Circestre from the Feast of the Assumption last past for the term of 3 years, by demise of William Branthurst and Alice his wife, to whom John Styeuele [?] and Margaret his wife had demised the same for that term, at a rent of one red rose on Midsummer Day. The true value of the said messuage, which has been seised into the King's hands, as above, is 9s. 4d. yearly. And on the Morrow of the Epiphany last past the said John Gibbes had in goods and chattels at Stratton and Cotes 480 sheep . . . cows worth 10s. a head, 4 horses, 6s. 8d. a head, 28 pigs, 20d. a head, all which goods came into the hands of A . . . , . . . Badly, and William Rye of the said county, and there remain; and they will answer for the same to the King. Certain corn and malt belonging to the said John Gibbes at Cotes came into the hands of John Colesborne of Circestre on the said Morrow of the Epiphany, and he also will answer. Two horses, with 2 saddles and 2 bits, price 6 marks, and . . . belonging to certain adherents of the said late Earl, Ralph, Thomas, and Bennett, at Lecchelade came into the hands of Edmund Spersholt of Berkshire, esquire, who will answer for them; 3 horses and 3 saddles, price 30s.,

one ‘brestplate’ and one hauberk [lorica], one cloak, one short gown of black, worth 3*s.* 4*d.*, belonging to the said Bennett Sely, on the said morrow at Mynchynhampton came to the hands of Jankyn ap Guellyn, receiver of Hugh Waterton, chivaler, and are now in his hands; he will answer for the same. A . . . worth 3*os.* belonging to the aforesaid traitors at Circestre came into the hands of William Tanner of Circestre, who will answer; a . . . worth 6 marks came into the hands of the Abbot of Cirencestre; 3 . . . worth 5 marks came into the hands of John Wodeward of Bandynton next Circestre, at Circestre aforesaid; 3 horses, each worth 10*s.*, at Circestre came into the hands of William Bocher of Circestre, one of the King’s yeomen. Into whose hands the rest of the goods of the said traitors came, the jurors do not know.

Inquisition taken at Circestre on the following day, before (as above), by the oath of Nicholas Ponyter, John Santmareys, William Doughton, John More, John Wokseye, William Wodeford, Thomas Snel, John . . . gge, Thomas Hawe, John Martyn, Robert Bernard, and John Assheleye, who say that

Sir Walter Hungerford, knight, on Wednesday, the said Morrow of the Epiphany, carried from the inn [hospicio] of William Tanner in Circestre, of the goods of Thomas, late Earl of Kent, and the other traitors aforesaid there taken, 2 horses with saddles and bridles, worth 40 marks; 4 ‘trussyncofres’ full of gold and jewels, the value of which they do not know, one gold cup, one silver cup, 2 hauberks, one basinet, with gauntlets of plate, worth £60; and about the middle of the night he issued with his arms from the house of William Wodeforde, and went to the house of . . . Tanner, and adhered to the aforesaid traitors against the King’s lieges of Circestre, with all his ‘posse’.

And the said Sir Walter [held] the manor of Dounameney, worth £40 yearly. It has been seised into the King’s hands by the said John Shelton and Simon Blakebourne.

They say that Reginald Spyser, one of the constables of the town of Cirencester, took of the gift of the aforesaid Sir Walter a certain sum of gold, to stimulate and succour . . . against his neighbours “and me, the King”, the amount of which they do not know.

Sir Hugh de Spenser, knight, took from the said vill of Cirencester in the said year, of the goods of the aforesaid traitors, a baselard with harness gilt, a silver girdle, one hauberk, and one . . . dagger with silver harness, worth £10.

Simon Broke, one of the bailiffs of the town of Gloucester, and 42 . . . came to Cirencester on the morrow aforesaid, and took and carried away of the goods of the aforesaid traitors 26 horses, with saddles and bridles, and other goods to the value of 100 marks.

Thomas Tarlewyn alias Erchebaud of Cirencestre on the said morrow had, and still has, 2 horses worth £4, William Tanner of the same place, 3 horses worth 10 marks, and Robert Dyeson of Cirencestre . . . horses worth £10, of the goods of the said traitors.

Sir Thomas FitzNichole, knight, took from the aforesaid late Earl of Kent, at Circestre at the said time, one gown of 'scarlet' with fur of meniver, and 5 gold rings with precious stones, worth 100 marks, and still has them, with gold, the amount of which they do not know.

John Assheby, one of the king's yeomen, had at Circestre on the said morrow, of the goods of the said traitors, one hauberk and 3 swords, one dagger harnessed with silver, one good horse and + others, price £30.

John Cunswell of Berkle took of the said goods, from John Whitwong's house, to the value of £20; and Thomas Graunger of Northlecche carried off goods to the value of . . . s. from Cirencestre. John Schepton of Stroud[?] carried off gold and other goods to the value of £40 from Cirencestre.

The jurors know nothing of what has become of other goods belonging to the said late Earl and his adherents, except as regards certain goods belonging to John Gibbes, mentioned in the other inquisition.

Inquisition taken at Dounamoney on Thursday after the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul, 1 Henry IV [1400], before the abovesaid John Shelton and Simon Blakebourne, and Robert Poyntz, escheator, by the oath of Thomas George, Nicholas Edulf, William Daglyngworth, John Richon the elder, Walter Page, John Reynold, John Moyle, Richard Bridde, John Curteys, John Richon the younger, Thomas Rogger, and Nicholas Frare, who say that

Walter Hungerford, chivaler, had goods at Dounamoney, which have been seised into the King's hands by the abovesaid John and Simon and the escheator, to wit, 4 mares, 2 horses called 'geldyngs', and one foal, worth 6s. 8d. apiece; 23 oxen at 10s. apiece; 7 'steres' at 6s. 8d.; 18 cows, 8s.; one bull, 6s. 8d.; 17 young bulls [thaurulos] and calves at 2s. 6d.; 6 poor calves at 12d.; 420 putrid and foetid sheep at 4d.; 20 pigs at 20d.; 10 young pigs at 10d.; 3 carts bound with iron and ironed, with 'trays' and other harness thereto belonging, worth 40s.; 3 ploughs with all their tackle, worth 12s.; 4 harrows with iron teeth, 4s.; 30 quarters of wheat at 4s. 8d.; 80 quarters of barley at 2s. 4d.; 20 quarters of oats at 16d.; 10 quarters of peas at 2s.; one lead called a 'Forneys', worth 13s. 4d.; one 'materas', 5s.; one 'coverlite' [and] one carpet, 5s.; 2 poor blankets, 20d.; one 'quilt', 2s.; one . . . 12d.; one small table and 4 little forms, 2s.; 40 acres of land sown with wheat, worth 3s. 4d. an acre.

The deeds, writings, muniments, and other memoranda concerning the said manor are kept in a castle belonging to the said Walter in Wiltshire.

The said John and Simon have appointed Robert Poyntz, esquire, the elder, steward and receiver of the said manor, and Nicholas Edulf bailiff and reeve, until the King shall appoint otherwise.

Attached to the above is an indenture between the said John and Simon of the one part, and Robert Poyntz, escheator, of the other part, witnessing the taking charge by the said Robert of the abovesaid goods at Dounamoneys, dated there 28th January, 1 Henry IV [1400].

Richard, son of John Brounyng, and cousin and heir of Thomas Rodberugh.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Tuesday after All Saints' Day, 2 Henry IV [1400], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John Felde of Pagenhulle, Thomas Reome, John Seymor, Richard Clerk, Thomas Jones, Thomas S.d., Giles Hayward, William Botiller, John Geffes, John Stauerton, Walter Colyns, and Roger Fulmere, who say that

The said Richard, who died within age, a ward to the King, was then seised in his demesne as of fee of one messuage, 3 virgates of hilly land, and 3 acres of meadow in Herteford, held of William, late Earl of Stafford, who died a ward to King Richard II, by knight service; the premises are now held of Edmund, Earl of Stafford, who is of full age, and are worth 13*s.* 4*d.* yearly.

The said Richard also died seised of the manor of Rodberugh, which was lately found to be held of the said King Richard as of the manor of Mynchenhampton, which belonged to the alien Abbess of Caen, by knight service, which manor the said late King granted to the Duke of Gloucester on the occasion of the war; it is now held of the King as of the said manor in socage, to wit, by paying 20*s.* yearly, and by transporting the said Abbess's treasure from Munchynhampton to Southampton, for all service. It is worth 73*s.* 4*d.* a year clear.

He also held 8 messuages, one carucate of hilly land, 2 water-mills, 5 acres of meadow, 3 acres of wood, and 30*s.* rent in Throp, which were lately found to be held of Roger de Mortimer, late Earl of March, who is now dead, and was then a ward to King Richard, by knight service, whereas they were held in socage, to wit, by the service of helping to hold the halmote of the said Earl at Byseleygh upon reasonable summons, for all service; and now they are held of Edward Charlton and Eleanor his wife, Countess of March, in her right, and are worth £4 . . . He also held 3 messuages, 3 half-virgates [? 3½ virgates (tribus dimid. virgat')] of land, and 13*s.* 4*d.* rents in Ebbeleye, held of Reginald Cobham and Eleanor his wife, in her right, as of the manor of Stonhouse, by the service of 2*s.* yearly; worth 40*s.* clear; also 4 messuages, 3 carucates of hilly land, 4 acres of meadow, 20 acres of pasture, and 10*s.* rents in Nategrae, in his demesne as of fee, from Tideman, Bishop of Worcester, by the service of doing homage and fealty to the said bishop; worth £4 a year.

The said Richard died on Saturday after St. Mark's Day, 1 Henry IV [1400]. Cicely, daughter of the said John Brounyng, is his sister and heir, and is aged 13 and more.

Inquisition taken at Sobbury on Monday before Martinmas, 2 Henry IV [1400], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Nicholas Iue, Geoffrey Shyrugge, William Wyckewyk, William Bailly of Frompton, Thomas Trewbody, Thomas Vayre, John Godeston, Thomas Wykewyke, John Colewelle, John Russell, Thomas Joachym, and Henry Gryffyn, who say that

The said Maurice held of the King in chief, in his demesne as of fee, on the day he died, divers lands and tenements in Rokhampton, which were late parcel of the manor of Rokhampton, to wit, divers lands, rents, services, feedings, and a pasture called Sheparynde, worth 4 marks yearly; also a parcel called "la lese", containing about 20 acres; another called Twentyacres, and a third called Vyueteneacres, worth 8 marks, together with the advowson of the church of the said manor. All the premises lately formed about $\frac{1}{3}$ of the whole manor aforesaid, but by what service the said manor is held of the King they do not know.

He also held, jointly with his wife Joan, who survives, the manors of Kyngesweston, Ailberton, and Rokhampton, under the seofment made to them, with the King's licence, by John Berkelegh, chivaler, John Denham, chivaler, Thomas . . . ell', and Thomas Mulleward [?], chaplain, to hold to them and the heirs of their bodies, with contingent remainder to the right heirs of the said Maurice; they are worth respectively £40, 50 marks, and 40 marks yearly, exclusive of the above-mentioned parcel of Rokhampton. They are held severally of the King in chief, by what services the jurors do not know.

The said Maurice also held the manor of Iwele, worth 20 marks, and the manor of Bradelegh, worth 10 marks, from Thomas de Berkelegh, chivaler, lord of Berkelegh, by what services the jurors do not know. Also the manors of Stoke Gyffard and Walle (in tail male, with contingent remainder to the said Thomas de Berkelegh) from the Bishop of Worcester, by what services they do not know; worth 20 marks.

The said Maurice died on Saturday after Michaelmas last. His widow Joan is pregnant. If this child be not born to her, which God forbid, the next heir of the said Maurice would be his aunt Isabel, aged 50 and more.

Joan, one of the daughters and heirs of Eleanor,
who was wife of Thomas, late Duke of Gloucester.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before Robert Somervyle, escheator, on Saturday after the Feast of St. Matthias, 2 Henry IV [1400], by the oath of Robert Monemouth, John Wynyard, Thomas Ingles, John Puryhale, William Whithebrugge, William . . elowe, Walter Pynchoun, Thomas Southam, John Stonehous, Richard Felde, William Freman of Estynton, and John Geffes, who say that

One Gilbert Talbot, lord of Irchenfeld, deceased, was lately seised of the manor of Lydeney, in his demesne as of fee, and gave the same to Sir Richard Talbot, deceased, and Ankaret, then his wife, who survives, to hold in tail. They were so seised accordingly until the said Richard, on 20th May, 15 Richard II [1392], by his deed gave the said manor to the said Joan, by the name of Joan, daughter of Thomas, Duke of Gloucester, to hold to the said Joan and the heirs of her body to be begotten by Gilbert, eldest son of the said Richard, or any other son of his; by virtue of which grant the said Joan was seised thereof all her life and died so seised 16th August last, without issue by the said Gilbert or any other son of the said Richard, wherefore the manor reverts to the said Ankaret. It is held of the Earl of Warwick in socage by a rent of £4 yearly, and is worth £7 a year clear. Anne, wife of the Earl of Stafford, and Isabel are sisters and next heirs of the said Joan.

Elizabeth, who was wife of Nicholas de Audley, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester, 1st November, 2 Henry IV [1400], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Walter Toky, John Rychemon the younger, Walter Ocholt the younger, Simon Usk,

Walter Daunsey, Robert Stille, John Uppington, John Wethur the elder, Richard Longeford, John Wethur the younger, John Wyneyard, and John Webbeley the elder, who say that

The said Elizabeth held jointly with her said deceased husband, of the gift of Adam de Fulford and William de Peek, chaplains, a moiety of the manor of Baggeworth, in tail, with contingent remainder to the right heirs of the said Nicholas. After his death a fine was levied in the King's court, 15 Richard II [1391-2], between Robert, Bishop of London, Sir Reginald de Grey of Ruthyn, knight, John Markham, Hugh de Holes, and John de Woderoue, plaintiffs, and Sir Roger Hillary, knight, now deceased, and Margaret his wife, deforciants, of a moiety of a moiety of the said manor, by which the said Sir Roger and Margaret granted for themselves and the heirs of Margaret, that the said moiety of a moiety, which the said Elizabeth held for her life of the inheritance of the said Margaret, should remain on her death to the plaintiffs and the heirs of Hugh. The said moiety is held of the Earl of Stafford by knight service, and is worth 20 marks yearly.

The said Elizabeth died on the Vigil of SS. Simon and Jude last past. The said Margaret and John Tochet, chivaler, are next heirs of the said Nicholas, viz., Margaret as one of his sisters, and the said John as son of his other sister Joan; they are aged respectively 50 and more and 28 and more. The next heir of the said Elizabeth is Henry Beaumond, son of John, son of John, son of John her brother; he was aged 19 on St. James's Day last.

Thomas de Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick.

Inquisition taken at Campedene on Monday after St. Barnabas' Day, 2 Henry IV [1401], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of , Robert Hereward, Edmund Jurdan, John Burne, Richard Tybeton, Robert Prodom, Thomas Ace, Robert Gatewyk, Thomas Bemond, Richard Hosiere, John Guy . . . [?], and John Douse, who say that

The said Earl held, on the day he died, the manors of Chedworth and Lydeney, and the advowson of the church of Nategroue, in tail male under a fine levied thereof 35 [?] Edward III [1361-2], between Thomas de Beauchamp, then Earl of Warwick, plaintiff, father of the abovesaid late Earl, and John Bukyngham and others, deforciants.

In the said manor of Chedworth there is a capital messuage worth nothing beyond the reprises; 4 acres of meadow, 4s.; . . . acres of underwood, 20s.; £12 rents of assize of free and customary tenants. The pleas and perquisites of courts are worth 2s. a year.

In the manor of Lydeney there are no buildings, but there is an underwood containing 2 acres worth 2s.; £4 rents of assize of free and customary tenants; and 3s. of the pleas and perquisites of courts.

Both manors are held of the Earl of Gloucester, but by what services the jurors do not know; the advowson is held of the Earl of Essex, by service unknown.

Edmund de Brugge, Richard Bromley, clerk, and Robert Russell were lately seised of the manor of Wykewone next Evesham, in the county of Gloucester, and by their deed, produced to the jury, conveyed it to the said late Earl, by the name of Sir Thomas de Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick and lord of Gower, and Margaret his wife, who survives, and the heirs of their bodies. It is held of the Earl of Gloucester, by what service they do not know, and is worth £20 a year.

The late King, by letters patent dated 27th April, in the sixth year of his reign [1383], granted that the said Earl's executors should have the profits of all his lands, etc., for a year after his death.

The Earl died 8th April last. Richard, his son and heir, was aged 19 on the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul last.

Inquisition taken at Newent on Friday after St. Andrew's Day, 4 Henry IV [1402], before Robert de Whityngton, escheator in Gloucestershire and the March of Wales adjacent, by the oath of Thomas Flewelyn, Peter Cappe, Walter Wynter [?], Edmund [?] Forde, Thomas Hulle, Richard Hertlaunde, John M..., . . . Bethewey, James Collewall, Stephen Swyft, Richard Doun, and Richard Boure, who say that

The following fees were taken into the King's hand on the death of the said Earl of Warwick: $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Weston, which William Reymund held, worth, when it happens, £10; $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Shenescole, which the Abbot of Brewere held, 60s.; $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Dorsyngton, which the heir of Henry de Proyers held, £10; $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Druye Merston, which the Prior of Little Malvern held, 100s.; one fee in Pulton, which William Beaumont held, £20; $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Piryon and Cenere, which the heirs of John ap Adam held, worth 100s.; $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Compton Grenule, which the heir of Maurice de Berkeley held, £10; one fee in Ouere, which John de Berkeley, chivaler, held, £20; $\frac{1}{2}$ fee in Coumbe next Stowe, which Giles Mallory, chivaler, held, £10; one fee in Brounesbergh, which Hugh Waterlon, chivaler, held, £10. The advowson of the church of Nategroue, likewise taken into the King's hand, is worth 100s. a year.

The Manor of Berton Brystowe.

Extent of the manor of Berton Brystowe and of the Hundred of Berton made at the hospital of St. Lawrence next Bristol on Saturday after St. Matthew's Day, 3 Henry IV [1402], before John Derhurst and Thomas Harewell, by virtue of the King's commission, by the oath of Robert Coderyngton, James Coks, William Baillif of Frampton, William Coluere, Thomas Wykewyke, William Yonge, William Wykewyke, Walter Auyce, John Weston of Oldelonde, William Oldebury, William atte Nasshe, and Richard Cantok, who say that

There are only 2 houses in the site of the said manor, viz. 2 barns, worth nothing beyond the reprises, the garden and court are worth nothing beyond the reprises, viz. the cost of enclosing them, and there is no dovecot or any other profit in the court that can be taken yearly. There are 4 fields in demesne, each containing 50 acres, worth (one with another) $5\frac{1}{2}d.$ per acre yearly. There are in demesne 61 acres 3 roods 4 perches of meadow, worth $5s. 0\frac{1}{2}d.$ an acre [sic]. There is no pasture that can be extended, and no parks nor demesne woods from which any profit can be taken. The fishery of Stapilton belongs to the said manor, and is worth 6s. 8d. a year clear. There are no tenants holding by knight service nor in socage, nor by any other service than that of ancient demesne, and they are the only suitors at the court. There are rents of £6 19s. 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ d. due severally at the terms of St. Andrew, the Annunciation, and the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, and £7 18s. 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ d. at Michaelmas; 3s. of Tooresfoote rent payable at St. John the Baptist's Day; 1 lb. of pepper, worth 11d. at Michaelmas; $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of wax at the same feast, worth 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. There are customs and works belonging to the manor valued at £30 16s. 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ d. in money.

The Hundred [court] is held every three weeks, and with two law-days, and all pleas and perquisites, is worth 40s. yearly beyond the reprises.

There are defaults in the rents set forth above, because the land one could take is in the Forest of Kyngeswode, where no profit of rent . . . because from all the profits aforesaid an allowance has to be made to the reeve of the said manor of 6 . . . There is no advowson of any church belonging to the manor.

John Coveley, esquire, of co. Gloucester, and John Cosyn of Cirecestre.

Writ (22nd June, 4 Henry IV [1403]) addressed to the sheriff of Gloucester, respecting the goods, etc., of the said John Coveley and John Cosyn, who (7th February, 20 Richard II [1397]), before William Bampton, then mayor of the staple of Westminster, acknowledged they owed £56 to John Oo, citizen and grocer of London. A previous writ issued in the same matter, when, owing to the shortness of time before it was returnable, the sheriff could not execute it with regard to John Coveley, and John Cosyn was dead. To a second writ the sheriff replied he had ordered Robert Andrewe, bailiff of the liberty of Cirencestre, who has return of all writs, etc., in that liberty, to execute the King's command, but had received no answer from him. The King now directs the sheriff to enter the liberty aforesaid, and to take and imprison the said John Coveley, if he is a layman, till the debt is satisfied, and to value and seize into the King's hand all the lands, etc., of the said John Cosyn, unless they have descended to an heir within age.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Wednesday after St. Margaret's Day, 5 Henry IV [1404], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John Brounyng, John Joce, John Tyre, John Hycokes, John Harsfeld, Walter Toky, Thomas Moygne, Nicholas Matteson, Richard Mile, Robert Goderynton, John Poleyn, and John Chyld, who say that

One Peter Bythoutetheyate was formerly seised of the manor of Whitynton, with the advowson of the church of the same manor, held of the King in chief by knight service. He conveyed the premises to Richard Croupes the elder, for term of his life, with remainder to Richard, bastard son of the said Richard, for his life, then to the said Alice in the writ named, by the name of Alice Croupes, for life, finally to the right heirs of Richard Croupes the elder, who married one Isabel, and had issue Margaret. She married Robert Lynham, and they had issue Margery, Alice, and Elizabeth. After the death of the older Richard Croupes, Richard the younger duly entered, and after his death the said Alice. She married Edmund Hakelyt. Of the three daughters of Margaret, Alice married William Carter of Broderysyndon, and Margery, John Gros of Oxford. Afterwards Edmund Hakelyt died. After his death, in Trinity term, 47 Edward III [1373], a fine was levied in the King's court at Westminster, between Edward le Despenser, chivaler, plaintiff, and the said William and Alice Carter, deforciants, of one-third of the premises after the death of Alice, widow of the said Edmund Haklyt.

Edward le Despenser married one Elizabeth, and had issue Sir Thomas le Despenser, knight, to whom the reversion descended on his father's death. Thomas married one Constance, and had issue Richard, who succeeded his father, and is now a ward to the King.

John Groos and Margery, and her sister Elizabeth, by deed dated at Oxford in the abovesaid year of Edward III, conveyed their reversion of two-thirds of the premises to William Smyth, perpetual vicar of Brickelesworth, co. Northants, and Nicholas Wakere of Felde, co. Oxon. The said William Smyth, by deed dated at Brickelesworth, 1st June, 48 Edward III [1374], quitclaimed his rights to Wakere.

Alice, in the writ named, afterwards married William Barndhurst. Afterwards, to wit, in the Quinzaine of St. John the Baptist, 49 Edward III [1375] and 50 Edward III [1376], a fine was levied between John Dauntesey, chivaler, plaintiff, and the said Nicholas Wakere, deforciant, of the reversion of the said two-thirds; and in Easter term, 3 Richard II [1380], by another fine, Dauntesey conveyed his interest to Elizabeth, who was wife of Sir Edward le Despenser, knight, to hold for her life, with remainder to Thomas, son of the said Edward. Elizabeth is still alive; the said Richard is son and heir of Thomas.

Alice in the writ named died on Sunday after Corpus Christi Day last past. The jury do not know who is her next heir. The premises are worth 20 marks a year.

Joan, who was wife of Thomas West.

Inquisition taken at Acton, 10th June, 5 Henry IV [1404], before Robert Poynez, escheator, by the oath of Reginald Waleys, William Baylly of Frompton, John Walker, John Wykham, John Skey, John Hulle, John Stynchecombe, John Waggeston, William atte Hulle, William Packer, Robert Lucas, and John Burnell, who say that

One Ralph Welyngton was seised of the manors of Frompton Cutell, Sandhurst, and Ablyngeaton in his demesne as of fee, the first held of the late King Richard in chief by knight service, the two last held of the Abbot of Gloucester, by what services they do not know. He married the said Joan in the writ named, and died without issue, whereupon the premises came to John Welyngton, a minor, his brother and heir. The said late King assigned dower to the said Joan, viz. one-third of the manor of Sondhurst, with 3 acres of the wood of the same manor, and one-third of the manor of Frompton Cutell, with 5 acres of the wood thereof, and one-third of the manor of Ablyngeaton. Afterwards John died without issue, and the two-thirds of the premises held by him and the reversion of the dower of the said Joan descended to Isabel, wife of William Beaumont, then of full age, sister and one of the heirs of the said John, and to John Wroth, son of his other sister Margaret, who is still within age. The said Joan's dower in Frompton Cutell was worth £9 yearly, in Sandhurst £4, and in Ablyngeaton 5*s.* 4*d.*

Joan died 24th April last. The said Isabel is aged 30 and more, and John Wroth 12 and more. Thomas, son of Thomas West, is son and next heir of the said Joan; how old he is the jurors do not know.

Another inquisition taken (upon a writ de melius inquirendo) at Sobbury, 10th October, 6 Henry IV [1404], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of William Bailly of Frompton, William Bailly of Acton, Robert Stynchecombe, William Nash, John Godston, William Stynchecombe, John Walkare, William Lenville, Robert Lenville, William Whityng, John Clerk, and John Vayre, who say that

The abovesaid Ralph Welyngton was also seised of certain lands in Sandhurst called Moreslade, one-third of which were assigned in the King's chancery to the said Joan in dower. The premises are held of the Abbot of Gloucester, by what services the jurors do not know; this third is worth 3*s.* 4*d.* yearly. Isabel and John are heirs as above.

Thomas Raleigh.

Inquisition taken at Cirencestre on Monday after the Feast of St. Leonard the Abbot, 6 Henry IV [1404], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of John Vey, Thomas Persones, Thomas Reme, Thomas Phelpes, John Downe, Geoffrey Hydemon, John atte Halle, John Wykyng, Hugh Clyueshale, John Frompton, John Okholt, and Henry Fraunsum, who say that

The said Thomas held in chief, in his demesne as of fee, as of the manor of Wallyngford, on the day he died, one messuage and 2 carucates of land in Turkedene, worth 50s. yearly beyond the reprise, by what service the jurors do not know. Also the manor of Northcote, held of the manor of Sharnecole, which Elizabeth, who was wife of Edward le Despenser, now holds as dower from her said late husband, worth 30s. yearly, and held as one-fourth of a knight's fee. He also held from the Archbishop of York two parts of the manor of Lassyndon and of the advowson of the church of that manor, by what service they do not know; the said two-thirds of the manor is worth 50s. a year; the advowson of the church nothing beyond the reprises, but the church itself is worth £10 a year. He held one-third of the manor of Leye from Lord le Talbot in socage, worth 5 marks; and the manor of Eggesworth with the advowson of the church of that manor from Lord le Talbot as of the manor of Payneswyke; the manor is worth £4, the advowson of the church nothing, but the church itself is worth 10 marks. By what service it is held they do not know.

The said Thomas died on the Feast of St. Luke the Evangelist last past. William, his son and heir, will be aged one year on the Feast of St. Edmund the Archbishop next to come.

Cicely, sister and heir of Richard, son of John Brouning, cousin and heir of Thomas Rodebergh, and wife of Guy Whitynton.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Tuesday after the Feast of St. David the Bishop, 6 Henry IV [1405], before the abovesaid escheator. John Bray, esquire, to whom the late King granted the custody of the inheritance of the said Cicely, was warned to attend by John Brasyer and William Bailly, but was not present.

Thomas Walton, aged 60, says the said Cicely was born at la Legh on 10th April, 12 Richard II [1389], and baptized in the church of that town; he remembers, because on that day he was helping John Preston, chaplain, to celebrate in that church.

John Walton (55) recollects, because he went to fetch the said John Preston to baptize her.

William Russell of Cors, John Hall, and John Colseye (all 60 and more) came to an agreement on that day in the same church touching certain things in debate among them.

John Clervowe, John White, and John Hulle (all 40 and more) were riding on that day to Gloucester past the said church, and met her being carried out of the church after her baptism in the arms of her godmother Margaret Mersshe.

John Marchall, Walter Hathewey, William Sketeby, and Nicholas Ruyhale (all 40 and more) were all neighbours of her father, and knew by common report that the said Cicely was born and baptized as abovesaid, and they saw her carried to the church and back home again.

Thomas, late Earl Marshal.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester on Saturday after the Feast of St. Gregory the Pope, 12 Henry IV [1411], before John Derehurst, escheator, by the oath of John . . . , Walter Toky, John

Staure, Robert de Aure, Richard Netherton, John Clerk of Blakemoreshale, John Baret, Richard Broke, William Wynthull, Thomas Streynesham, John Smyth of Elfston, and John Chaunterell, who say that

Thomas Moubray, late Earl Marshal, was seised in his demesne as of fee tail of the castle, manor, and lordship of Strogoil in the March of Wales, and of the manor of Tudenhamb with its members in the same March. They are held of the King in chief by knight service, but by how many fees the jurors do not know; they are worth £100 a year clear. Queen Joan has received the profits since the said Earl's death, by what title they do not know.

The said Thomas died 4th June, 6 Henry IV [1405]. John Moubray, his brother and heir, is still within age and a ward to the King; he was aged 20 on St. Lawrence's Day last.

Inquisition taken [upon a writ de melius inquirendo as to how the castle of Strogoil and manor of Tudenhamb came into the late Earl's hands, in amplification of the above inquisition formerly taken before John Derehurst, late escheator] at Auste, 31st October, 14 Henry IV [1412], by the oath of Henry Crook, John Poleyne, John Eyton, Richard Gilmyn, John Skeye, John Henryes, John Dene, John Whyte, John Spire, William atte Hay, Elias Huet, and John Hardhed, who say that

The premises were granted by King Edward [II], great-grandfather of the present King, to Thomas de Brotherton, late Earl Marshal, and Mary, then his wife, now deceased, and the heirs of the body of the said late Earl. From the said Thomas the premises descended to Margaret, late Duchess of Norfolk, his daughter and heir, and from her to Thomas de Moubray, late Duke of Norfolk, as her cousin and heir, viz. son of her daughter Elizabeth, and from the said Duke to the said late Earl Marshal, his son and heir.

Elizabeth, who was wife of John de Arundell, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Cirencestre on Tuesday before the Feast of St. John the Baptist, 9 Henry IV [1408], before Thomas Eode, the King's escheator, by the oath of Thomas Bailly, John Braunche, Philip Rodbergh, John Feldman, Nicholas Huchons, Nicholas Bailly, John Laurence, John Bethewey, William Dene, Walter Cobbe, Nicholas Streatford, and Henry Elyot, who say that his wife, the manors of Wydechestr and Kyngestanleye, to hold of the chief lords of that fee by the services thereupon accustomed for term of the life of the said John Darundell, with remainder to his son John and his wife Elizabeth in tail. This Elizabeth is the person named in the writ. John, the son, and Elizabeth duly entered upon the death of his father; Elizabeth survived her husband, and held the premises until her death.

The manor of Kyngestanleye is held of the King in chief by knight service, but by what amount of service the jurors do not know; it is worth 20 marks a year clear. The manor of Wydechestr is held of the Earl of Salisbury as of his manor of Carsyngton in co. Oxford, by knight service, but (as above); it is worth 20 marks 6*d.* yearly.

The said Elizabeth died on Wednesday after Palm Sunday last. John Darundell, esquire, aged 22 and more, is son and heir of the said John and Elizabeth.

Thomas Brugge.

Inquisition taken at Newent on Monday after the Feast of St. Denis the Martyr, 10 Henry IV [1408], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of William Southorn, Thomas Hoke, Walter Boys, Henry Grene, Walter Collewalle, William Hulle, John Hulle, Edmund Hawyle, William Habbegood, John Reignold, John Wylmot, and Richard Carswalle, who say that

The said Thomas held of the King in chief by knight service, jointly with Alice, his wife, in tail male, a manor in Harsefeld, of the feoffment of Henry Zakesley and Hugh Tyldesley with licence from the King for the said conveyance. This manor formerly belonged to Sir Edward Sent John, knight. If the said Thomas and Alice died without issue male, the manor was to remain successively to the heirs of the body of the said Thomas, and to the right heirs of John Cassy of Whithfeld. It is worth 10*zs.* 8*d.* a year clear.

The said Thomas and Alice also held in her right of the King in chief by knight service an acre of land in Stokearcher; worth 6*d.* a year; and of Richard Chedder and Isabel, his wife, as of their manor of Dorseley a moiety of the manor of Coburley, worth 4*os.* a year; by what service it is held the jurors do not know.

Thomas Brugge died on the Vigil of Palm Sunday last. The said Alice survives. Edmund, son and heir of the said Thomas, is aged 23 and more.

Richard Ruyhale.

Inquisition taken at Newent before the abovesaid escheator on Wednesday after the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, 9 Henry IV [1408], by the oath of the jurors as above, who say that

The said Richard held two-thirds of the manor of Dymmok jointly with his wife Elizabeth, who survives, to wit, one half thereof of the grant of Sir Roger Northwode, knight, to the said Richard and Elizabeth in tail, and the other half of the grant of Sir John Tydenham, knight, to them and their assigns. The remaining third of the said manor the said Richard held in his demesne as of fee by grant of Richard de Montague, son of John de Montague, brother of William de Montagu. The manor is held of the King in chief together with the manor of Dertford by the service of paying 1*d.* yearly into the King's exchequer. The two-thirds are worth £12 2*s.* 4*d.* clear, and the third nothing, because it is charged with an annuity of 16 marks payable to the said Richard de Montague for his life.

The said Richard died on Monday before the Feast of the Purification last. Richard, his son and heir, is aged 2.

Fulk Fitzwaryn, son and heir of Fulk Fitzwaryn, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Gloucester before John Brynell, escheator, on Saturday before the Feast of St. Edmund the King, 9 Henry IV [1407], by the oath of Walter Toky, John Wynnyard, Robert Cooke, Thomas Barbe, John Robard, Robert Aleyn, John Blundell, Richard Bysschop, Richard Bokebynder, John Holforde of Hardepury, John Gosselyn, and Thomas Pere, who say that

After the death of Fulk Fitzwaryn, chivaler, no lands came into the hands of the late King Richard; long before his death he had conveyed the manor of Bentham to John Canche [?], late vicar of Wantynch', John Crooke, William Bryddusmere, and John Marchall of Betteley, in trust to pay his debts and to reward his servants according to their merits; after the accomplishment of which they were to enfeoff his son Fulk with the manor. But, contrary to the form of this grant, the feoffees enfeoffed one Philip Fitzwaryn therewith, for his life; as the said Fulk was a minor and a ward to the King, the manor was thereupon taken into the King's hands. Afterwards, by letters patent dated 2nd August, 3 Henry IV [1402], the King granted the custody of the said manor to Elizabeth, Lady de Botreaux, and Robert Threske, clerk, at a certain rent, until the heir should be of age. The said Elizabeth and Robert still take the issues accordingly. It is held of the Earl of Stafford, by what service the jurors do not know, and is worth £6 a year clear.

The said Fulk, son of Fulk, died on the Vigil of All Saints last. His son and heir Fulk was aged 1 on the Feast of SS. Fabian and Sébastian last.

Extent of knights' fees belonging to the said Fulk taken as above.

The jury say that $\frac{1}{20}$ of a knight's fee, which William Castyll holds, is worth 5s.; another $\frac{1}{20}$, which John Sewyn holds there, 5s.; $\frac{1}{40}$, which Richard Dannede holds, 2s. 6d., and $\frac{1}{20}$, which John Berkelegh, chivaler, holds, 5s.

The said Fulk was seised of the advowson of the chantry of Little Bentham, worth 40s. a year.

Blanche, who was wife of John Whiltschire, chivaler.

Inquisition taken at Circestre on Sunday before the Feast of the Assumption, 10 Henry IV [1409], before John Greuell, escheator, virtute officii, by the oath of Geoffrey atte Hyde, William London, John Martyn, John atte Halle of Cerneye, Thomas Snell, John Honybourne, Thomas Wythinthezate, William atte Mulle of Bodington, John Snell the elder, William Daglyngworth of Downeawmeney, John Faber, and John London, who say that

One Geoffrey Langley, chivaler, was lately seised of the manor of Suthinton Langeley, otherwise called Sodynton Langeley, and had issue Walter, his elder son, and Geoffrey, his younger son. After his father's death Walter inherited the manor, and by his first wife had issue John, and by another wife Robert, who died without issue. John succeeded his father. Afterwards, by fine levied in the King's court in 18 Edward II [1324-5], he acknowledged the manor, by the name of the manor of Northersodynton, a messuage, 2 carucates of land, and 4*s.* rents in Torleton and Rodmerton, to be the right of one Robert de Farndon, who regranted the premises to the said John and Ela, his wife, for their lives, with remainder to Geoffrey de Langeley and Mary, his wife, in tail; the later duly succeeded, and had issue a son Geoffrey, who had issue one Joan, who was married during her grandmother's lifetime to John de Cherlton, chivaler. Mary held until her death, and was succeeded in the manor by the said John de Cherlton and Joan. And afterwards the said Joan was raped by John Trillowe during the life of the said John de Cherlton . . . and died pregnant by him without issue. After her death the said John Trillowe occupied the said manor by the law of England.

Geoffrey, brother of Walter abovesaid, had issue Edmund, who took to wife one Joan, and had issue a son Geoffrey and a daughter Joan.

The son Geoffrey died in his father's lifetime without issue; afterwards his wife Joan died, and the said Edmund married Elizabeth, daughter of William de Bereford, formerly Justice, and had issue John, father of John Langley now living. The aforesaid Geoffrey and Mary, Geoffrey, their son, and Joan are all dead without issue. Therefore the manor ought to descend to the said John Langley now living, as kinsman and heir of the aforesaid Geoffrey, son of John, viz., son of John, son of Edmund, son of Geoffrey, brother of Walter, father of John, father of the aforesaid Geoffrey, son of John. The which John, after the death of Joan, daughter of Geoffrey . . . did not dare to continue his estate, but claimed so to do; and afterwards one John Worthe entered into the manor, and claimed it as heir of Geoffrey, son of John, on behalf of his mother Blanche; and with the said manor he enfeoffed William Beauchamp, John Louell, John Deuereux, Lewis . . . , Henry Norton, esquire, Hugh Leuersegge, and Stephen le Leene, clerks. John Worthe afterwards died without issue. His feoffees afterwards granted the manor to the said Blanche, by the name of Blanche, who was wife of John Whiltschire, chivaler, for term of her life, with remainder to the said John Langeley now living. The said Blanche, in her widowhood, and all the tenants of the said manor attorned to the said John Langeleye. And afterwards, before the 20th [?] year of the late King Richard, the said Blanche yielded up her estate therein to the said John, and he entered therein, and the said Blanche no longer had anything in the said manor. It is held of the King as of the fee of Lacy [?], by the service of half a knight's fee; it is worth £14 4*od.* yearly.

The said Blanche died 21st July last past. Who is her next heir the jurors do not know.

John de Montague, Earl of Salisbury.

Inquisition taken [upon the petition of Thomas de Montague, son and heir of the said late Earl, all whose estate was forfeited to the Crown 5th January, 1 Henry IV [1400]] at Lechelade 27th April, 10 Henry IV [1409], before the abovesaid escheator, by the oath of Robert Lee Mulle, William Polot, Henry Peres, John le Oldesmyth, John Smyth the younger, John Emot, John Smyth of Pytmore, Richard Colet, Hugh Spenser, William Webbe, Thomas Say, and John Carpenter, who say that

The said late Earl held on the day he died, to wit, on the said 5th January, in fee tail, one messuage and one carucate of land in Rogherdecote next Bristol, parcel and member of the manor of Warblyngton in co. Southampton, which manor Edward II gave to his nephews Ralph de Montehermer and Thomas and Edward, his sons, to hold to them and the heirs of the body of the said Thomas. The said messuage and land, as parcel of the said manor, descended to Margaret, daughter and heir of the said Thomas, which Margaret was married to John de Montague the elder, brother of William de Montague, late Earl of Salisbury. After her death they descended to the late Earl John, her son and heir, after whose death they descended of right to the petitioner Thomas. They are held of the King, as is the said manor of Warblyngton, by homage and fealty.

The said Thomas was aged 12 and more on the abovesaid 5th January.
